MAYOR HAYS MUST APPEAR IN CRIMINAL COURT TO ANSWER GRAND JURY'S INDICTMENT

True Bill Found Against City Executive on the Charge of Removing Old Soldiers Without Cause.

HAYMAKER AND TORRANCE BOTH SIGNED THE PAPERS

Action Brought by Samuel Moore, a Veteran and Former Ordinance Officer—First Test of the Act of 1897.

MEAT OF THE INDICTMENT AGAINST MAYOR W. B. HAYS

With force and arms unlawfully then and there remove, suspend for an indefinite term and discharge, without good, sufficient, reasonable and just cause, one Samuel Moore from a certain office, trust and position within this commonwealth, under and in connection with the government and management of the city of Pittsburgh; he, the said Samuel Moore, being an honorably discharged Union soldier and having rendered service in the late civil war of the United States, and there being no law of the commonwealth, or fixed, general and definite rules and regulations of said office, department and bureau of the city government and management, in which the said Samuel Moore was then and there employed, naming, designating and providing for and regarding the term and period, he, the said Samuel Moore, as such incumbent and employe shall serve and occupy the aforesaid office, trust and position, contrary to the form of the act of the general assembly in such case made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

William B. Hays, mayor of Pittsburgh, will have to answer at the bar of the criminal court of Allegheny county at this term to the indictment handed down yesterday by the grand jury charging him with violating the law of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which prohibits the discharge of old soldiers from public positions without just cause. The prosecutor will be

SAMUEL MOORE,
Whose Discharge Furnished the Basis of the Action Against Mayor Hays.

John C. Haymaker, district attorney and a recent competitor of Mayor Hays for the office which the latter holds. The prosecuting witness will be Samuel Moore, a resident of the Sixth ward and a battle-scarred veteran of the civil war, who was removed from the position of ordinance officer by Mayor Hays on March 31 for political reasons.

Upon the result of this case depends the positions of 35 old soldiers who were removed by the present city and county administrations for political reasons. If the verdict of the lower court is against Mayor Hays and the higher court upholds the constitutionality of the law under which the action is brought, every one of these old soldiers put out of jobs because of their antagonism to the Citizens party can compel his reinstatement, and also probably recover pay for the time which he has been out of employment.

FIRST TEST IN THIS STATE.

The case will attract attention all over the state and in other states, as it is the first time in Pennsylvania that a test has been made of the power of state, county or municipal authorities to remove old soldiers from public positions with an act on the statute books prohibiting the same. It is stated that New York and Massachusetts have similar laws and that in these states in test cases the law was upheld by the courts.

Francis J. Torrance, one of the most prominent Republicans of the state, and recently mentioned for governor and also for recorder of the city of Allegheny, was foreman of the grand jury that rendered the indictment against Mayor Hays.

In the morning the complainant, Mr. Moore, gave his testimony before the grand jury. He stated that he had been discharged from the city service for political reasons, and when Foreman Torrance asked him for proof of this assertion he produced the official notification of his discharge received from Mayor Hays on March 31, stating that "owing to a change of administration," on and after the first day of April his services would no longer be required.

The grand jury in the afternoon voted an indictment against the city's chief executive. The indictment was signed by District Attorney Haymaker and Mr. Torrance, as foreman of the grand jury.

District Attorney Haymaker stated last night that the case would be put on the trial list for the present term and would

WEDDED LIFE STARTED AMID REGAL SPLENDOR

Hanna-McCormick Nuptials Yesterday, Most Elaborate Cleveland Has Known—President Roosevelt and Other Prominent Men Were Guests.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, O., June 10.—Without exception the Hanna-McCormick nuptials today, at which Miss Ruth Hanna, the youngest daughter of Senator and Mrs. Marcus A. Hanna, became the wife of Joseph Medill McCormick of Chicago, was one of the most brilliant society events the Forest City has ever known. The wedding was solemnized at high noon at St. Paul's Episcopal church. The officiating clergymen were Bishop W. A. Leonard, and his assistants the Rev. Mr. Billings of Groton, Mass.; Dr. George H. McGrew and the Rev. William H. Jones of St. John's church. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at Glenmere, the beautiful Hanna home in Lake avenue. About 180 covers were laid. Among the distinguished guests were President Roosevelt and his daughter, Miss Alice, who arrived in town at 5:30 this morning. After the breakfast Mr. and Mrs. McCormick left for their wedding trip to Monticello, Ill. They will be at home in Chicago in the fall.

The church auditorium was beautifully decorated with trees of white peonies, five great clusters of the magnificent blooms being artistically massed and rising to the heighth of the chancel windows. Against this glow of color were banked palms which extended the entire length of the auditorium, concealing the church walls, and the whole being showered with white peonies. The magnificent form and lines of the decorative scheme were outlined with hundreds of candles, which gave a softened light and added to the almost gorgeous spectacle.

Precisely at noon the bridal party entered and passed down to the altar. The ushers preceded the maids. They were Howard M. Hanna of Cleveland, a cousin of the bride; Joseph M. Patterson of Chicago, a cousin of the groom; Robert Alderton of Chicago; J. W. Beck of Chicago; Ernest Minor of Cincinnati; James Barnes of New York; William Williams of Philadelphia; Malcolm McBride of Cleveland. The maids approached the altar two by two. Miss Florence Cobb and Miss Mary Hopkins of Washington, leading. Following were Miss Claire Hanna of Cleveland, a cousin of the bride with Miss Adelaide Hamilton of Chicago; Miss Virginia Johnston of Pittsburgh with Miss Frances Lewis of Portland, Ore.; Miss Laura McGinley of Pittsburgh, with Miss Eleanor Patterson of Chicago, a cousin of the groom. The maid of honor was Miss Lucia McCurdy of Cleveland, a cousin of the bride.

The maids were gowned in exquisite costumes of white silk mull over pale green silk. The bodices were accordeon plaited over silk with transparent yoke of valenciennes and point d' esprit lace. The skirts were accordeon plaited and footed with an applique flounce of the valenciennes lace. The girdles were of pale green satin ribbon with long loops and ends. They wore white lace hats with medallion tops and with falls of many soft pale green ostrich feathers

BALFOUR SAVES HIS COLLEAGUE

In Extraordinary Speech He Smoothes Differences That Threatened a Crisis.

THE TARIFF ISSUE IS SHELVED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 10.—By a dexterous and extraordinary speech Premier Balfour tonight temporarily smoothed over the differences in the cabinet, relieved Colonial Secretary Chamberlain of any necessity of resigning and for the moment averted a crisis which threatened the Unionist party. This Mr. Balfour accomplished without committing the government either to protection or free trade, though the effect of his speech will generally be taken to mean that that the tariff issue is to be shelved for the present.

Henry Chaplin's amendment, which gave rise to the most interesting debate of the present parliament, was defeated by the overwhelming majority of 396 votes, composed of Unionists, Liberals and Irish members. The minority who supported Mr. Chaplin's amendment was almost all followers of the government, while many others of the Conservative party abstained from voting.

It was 10:30 o'clock tonight when Premier Balfour sprang to his feet to reply to the taunts of the opposition and appeals from his own party. For two days the house of commons has rung with echoes of dissension within the cabinet and dissatisfaction without. The premier was loudly cheered. He had scarcely commenced to deal with Mr. Chaplin's amendment before he was interrupted by a hurricane of applause and ironical cheers at the entry of Mr. Chamberlain, who had been absent hitherto throughout the evening. The colonial secretary dropped into his accustomed place. The house was now packed with peers, members of the house and spectators as if has not been since the days of the home rule battle and all listened in tense expectation.

In a whimsical vein Mr. Balfour explained that the only reason that the corn tax was put on was because the government wanted money, and the only reason it was taken off was because the government wanted money no longer. Reverting to the charges of vacillation made against him, the premier took on a tone of unusual vehemence. He declared that he himself, though a believer in free trade (which statement was met with loud applause), did not regard it as a fetish, and he had absolutely an open mind regarding the necessity for any alterations in a system which was founded to suit conditions of 50 years ago. He admitted that differences of opinion existed within the cabinet, but these were not serious enough to cause the resignation of any member.

Mr. Balfour made an impassioned plea, inforced by the precedents of friction in Mr. Gladstone's ministries, for allowing the premier to retain an open mind upon a question so difficult and so superior to all party issues. The speaker did not believe that the country would ever return to the old protective system. They were confronted, however, continued the premier, by three great phenomena—huge tariff walls against the United Kingdom; the growth of the trusts, and the desire of the colonies for closer fiscal union with the mother country. These factors could not be ignored. He maintained that the method of starting a public discussion was the only way to deal with these phenomena, though he did not commit himself to Mr. Chamberlain's more advanced program.

Throughout the address Mr. Chamberlain sat beside the leader of the house beaming with satisfaction.

Bernard McKenna in Feeble Condition.

Bernard McKenna, former mayor and ex-police magistrate, was reported as resting easily at his home, No. 6225 Marchand street, last night. He is in very feeble condition, but was expected to live through the night.

GREAT COKE PLANT TO BE ESTABLISHED AT SOUTH CHICAGO

The Sement-Solvay Company of Pittsburgh Said to Be Behind Project.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 10.—South Chicago is to have another great industry in the shape of a coke oven plant to cost $1,500,000. It is expected to be in operation in a year. As a preliminary, F. B. Hazard of Syracuse, N. Y., acting for a group of eastern capitalists, has closed the purchase of a tract of 193 acres for $437,250. The work of laying out the property and constructing the plant will be begun in a short time. It is said to be the purpose to begin work on 120 ovens at first, but it is expected to increase this number.

The coke will be manufactured by what is known as the Semet-Solvay process, and the capital behind the project is said to be closely allied with the Semet-Solvay Company of Pittsburgh. It is thought probable that all the plans will be prepared by that company, which is also expected to supervise the construction and lease and operate the plant when completed. This company also operates plants at Wheeling, W. Va.; Eusley, Ala.; Sharon and Dunbar, Pa.; Syracuse, N. Y., and Detroit, Mich. It is at present constructing plants at Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Lebanon and Chester, Pa., and Milwaukee.

The process is said to save all the by-products which, in the beehive coke oven, are wasted.

PRESIDENT ON HIS WAY BACK TO WASHINGTON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 10.—The president, Miss Roosevelt, Commander Cowles, U. S. N., and Secretary Loeb left for Washington in a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad at 11 o'clock tonight. The train is due in Washington at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The evening was spent at the home of Senator Hanna. There was a good sized crowd at the station to wave the president farewell, and he responded to the greetings by lifting his hat and bowing.

His special train reached here from Washington shortly after 5 o'clock this morning. There were very few people at the depot, and he, with his daughter, immediately entered a carriage in waiting and was driven to the Hanna residence in Lake avenue.

As the president's carriage reached the port cochere the senator ran down the steps, bareheaded. He was closely followed by Miss Ruth. The door of the president's equipage swung open.

"Who said 'Uncle Mark?'" replied the senator, his hands uplifted and his face wreathed in a smile of anticipation.

"I did," cheerily answered the president, his foot on the carriage step. A second later he was shaking the senator's hand and Misses Alice and Ruth embraced and exchanged a sisterly kiss. The president and Miss Alice were ushered into the house, where the president received the other wedding guests.

RUSSIA REFUSES AID FROM AMERICA FOR JEWS

WASHINGTON, June 10.— Numerous offers have reached the Russian government from American sources to aid the families of sufferers in the recent Kishineff incident. All such offers have been declined for the reason that Russia is entirely capable of extending relief and under the circumstances cannot accept outside aid. The Russian government takes the same position as that long held by the American government, namely, that it refrains from interference in the internal affairs of another power and must insist on similar treatment for itself.

STRANGE DEATHS OF MANY FRIENDS

Confession of Mrs. McKnight Brings to Light Eight Other Suspicious Cases.

ADMITS SHE POISONED THREE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Kalkaska, Mich., June 10.—Mrs. Mary McKnight, arrested here for murder, has made a confession that she poisoned her brother, John Murphy, his wife and babe. All died of strychnine poisoning. It now develops that eight other people have died within fifteen years under suspicious circumstances, that now point to poison. Each was a relative or intimate friend of Mrs. McKnight and died while living with her or during a time she was visiting them. They are:

Ernest McKnight, the woman's husband; James Ambrose, her first husband, who died in Alpena, in 1887; Mrs. McKnight, wife of James E. McKnight; Baby Teeple, Mrs. McKnight's niece; Eliza Chalker, another niece; Sara Murphy, Mrs. McKnight's sister; a Mrs. Curry, who died in Saginaw, in 1892, while Mrs. McKnight was at her mother's house, and Dorothy Jenson, a child who died in Grayling while under Mrs. McKnight's care. There was no suspicion against Mrs. McKnight in connection with the death of the Murphy's until she filed a mortgage on her brother's property after his death, on which the figures had, it is alleged, been raised from $200 to $900.

An investigation was then begun. The body of John Murphy was exhumed and strychnine found in the stomach. Mrs. McKnight was placed under arrest, with the result that today she confessed. Her confession today was entirely voluntary and she seemed perfectly sane, although under great mental strain. No motive for the crimes can be found.

CHINESE PIRATES KIDNAP AN AMERICAN CITIZEN

Gunboat Callao is Sent in Pursuit of Outlaws—Ransom Is Demanded.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—A band of Chinese pirates have kidnaped an American citizen and are holding him for ransom. The gunboat Callao has been sent in pursuit of the outlaws.

United States Consul McWade, at Canton, China, in a report to the state department, received today, says:

"American kidnaped by pirates while proceeding from Canton to Hsunhan. Nine thousand dollars ransom asked. I have sent Callao to rescue and demand of the viceroy punishment of the pirates. Details later."

The pirates around Canton have at times displayed unusual boldness, although there has been no previous kidnaping of Americans. The wisdom of Rear Admiral Evans' recommendation, that two gunboats, Callao and Villalobos, be stationed to patrol Chinese rivers and protect American interests, is demonstrated by this incident. A party of American engineers on the Canton-Hankow railroad were recently rescued by the Callao, which is commanded by Lieut. Anderson.

PITTSBURGH BANKER INTERESTED IN MEXICO

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 10.—(Special)—A party of bankers passed through here today en route to Mexico to perfect the organization of a Mexican banking company, which will have control practically of the finances of that country. The Mexican bank has been named the Pan-American Bank and Trust Company and its capital is $12,000,000. The company has received valuable concessions from the Mexican government which permits of increasing the capital to $20,000,000. Included in the party is J. Patterson Jones of Pittsburgh.

FLOOD DROWNS ELEVEN MORE

IGNORED WARNINGS

MANY ARE NOW HOMELESS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, June 10.—Two-thirds of the city of East St. Louis is under from two to fifteen feet of water and eleven people have been drowned as the result of a break in the clay embankment that was holding back the swollen torrent of the Mississippi. The break occurred shortly before last midnight at a time when the citizens thought that they had been able to cope with the waters of the flood.

Since Thursday morning 5,000 men, all residents of East St. Louis, had been toiling on the levee and with the sudden rise of last night came the word that the Illinois Central embankment, that had kept the flood back on the south, was giving way before the immense pressure of water. Carloads of sandbags and many men were hurried to the scene. Men on horseback rushed through the town giving warning, but all were useless.

CAME WITH A RUSH.

Starting first with a small stream and then with a mighty rush, great sections of the embankment were swept away. Whistles were blown and bells rung, but with all the pandemonium the majority of the inhabitants remained in their homes. Within an hour the mad rushing water reached to the roof of one-story houses and the fear is expressed that many met death before they could escape. Tonight it is impossible to learn of authenticated deaths, but the following have been reported to the police:

John Koolish and three children, drowned on North Side; unknown baby, E. H. Sherwood, Lawrence Day, two unknown women, one unknown man and one unknown colored laborer.

The deaths of John Koolish and his three children, two boys aged 5 and 7 and a girl of 12 years, were caused by trying to save three kegs of beer. The bodies were recovered today. Mrs. Koolish was summoned to identify them, and her grief was pitiable in the extreme.

It was currently reported today that seven negroes caught in the act of looting houses last night were shot to death. While this was not confirmed, it is known that there was heavy firing on the Northside early last night, where these negroes are said to have been killed.

REFUGEE CAMP STARTED.

As fast as scows could be secured they were launched and volunteers started on rescue missions. A company of naval reserves from Alton, which had rowed to the city yesterday in a cutter, rendered splendid service in rescue work. United States District Attorney Dyer in St. Louis issued an order to confiscate, temporarily, all boats and rush them to East St. Louis. The St. Louis fire department rushed its horses and wagons and the boats were brought to the desolated city.

Tonight a fear is expressed that the immense stone wall on Broadway, which has been protecting one section of the city, is about to give way, and if this occurs the remainder of the city will be inundated. A refugee camp has been established in the eastern section of the city, but the lack of provisions is leaving its occupants in sore straits. The city hall and school buildings have also been thrown open to the public.

Some excitement was caused tonight by the announcement that the river was again rising, but this was found to be unfounded.

Riot guns were collected by Chief of Police Purdy today and were given out tonight to guards to patrol the streets where furniture is stacked and to patrol the sandbag levees. Any thieves or possible levee cutters are to be shot down. Martial law has not been proclaimed officially, but East St. Louis is practically being governed under such a condition during the flood.

PAID MONEY TO SECURE RURAL DELIVERY JOBS

Postoffice Inspectors Investigating Charges of Bribery in the Mail Service.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—Postoffice inspectors are investigating a charge that a number of people who hold positions in the rural free delivery service in Washington and elsewhere paid money to secure their positions. It could not be learned to whom the payments are alleged to have been made. Postmaster General Payne will not return to his office until tomorrow. J. L. Bristow, fourth assistant postmaster general, said this morning that no decisive action was likely to be taken in the absence of Mr. Payne.

There is much speculation about the manner in which the department will investigate H. H. Rand, the confidential private secretary to Mr. Payne. Mr. Rand's connection with mining companies, to the stock of which postal employes subscribed, and his close relations with A. W. Machen, the dismissed and indicted superintendent of free delivery, have given rise to the belief that he must necessarily be closely investigated. An investigation of Mr. Rand is practically an investigation of the postmaster general's office.

Bashi-Bazouks Destroy Village.

SONIA, BULGARIA, June 10.—It is reported that the village of Enidze, in the district of Adrianople, consisting of 60 houses, was attacked June 2 by Bashi-Bazouks, and the population, except 400 men, massacred.

HE SAW JETT KILL MARCUM

SHOT FALLEN VICTIM

Accused Fired from Courthouse and Then Mingled With Crowd.

WHITE WAS ALSO IMPLICATED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jackson, Ky., June 10.—Tom White passed by giving Attorney James B. Marcum a sneering look, causing him to remark: "That's a bad man. I'm afraid of him."

White passed a few feet from the court house door with Marcum's attention fixed upon him. A shot from the inside of the court house brought down the victim, a second shot tore a large hole in his head.

Curtis Jett walked out of the side door and around to the front door, mingling with the crowd viewing the fallen man and looked upon his victim with the peculiar pride possessed only by a Breathitt county assassin.

These facts were established today at the beginning of the testimony for the commonwealth in the trial of Curtis Jett and Tom White for the assassination of J. B. Marcum, one of the brainiest young lawyers the mountains of Kentucky have ever produced. After some preliminary fencing between the attorneys, the trials were gotten well under way before noon today, and instead of going further next Sunday as Jett predicted, the chances are that he will be ready for the hangman.

EWEN MOST SENSATIONAL.

That a desperate legal battle was on was plain to be seen when court was convened by Judge Redwine. Seated with the commonwealth's attorney was the brother of the murdered lawyer, Thomas Marcum, of Muskogee, I. T., himself a prominent practitioner in his county. With the prisoners were seated an army of lawyers employed by the Marcum faction. There were six witnesses called for the commonwealth during the day and outside of the testimony of J. B. Ewen, that he saw Jett advancing upon Marcum with his revolver held in both hands, the most sensational evidence was that of Ewen on re-direct examination, when he was asked about his statement to a newspaper reporter in the presence of Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan that he denied knowing who fired the shots because he was afraid to tell the truth.

When the defense had finished the cross-examination during which it was attempted to show that Ewen was unbalanced mentally, commonwealth's attorney asked him: "Did you not state in the presence of D. B. Goode, a newspaper man, Sheriff Callahan and Judge Hargis that you did not know who killed Marcum?"

"I did, but the statement was untrue. I was afraid if I said I saw Jett shot, I would be assassinated and I believe I would have been. I did it to save my own life."

"Is it not a fact that Judge Hargis did the talking to the newspaper correspondent and that you merely assented to what he said?"

"Yes, he told of the shooting and said I could not see the man who did the shooting for the smoke of the revolver and I said that was true."

"And you then knew it was not true?"

"Yes, my life was at stake."

STORY OF THE KILLING.

Ewen told his story in a straightforward manner, without signs of fear and to say it created a sensation is putting it mildly. Ewen, in part, said:

"Marcum and I were in conversation. I was looking toward him with my back to the west door jamb of the court house. When the shot was fired, I saw dimly in the smoke the form of a man approaching. I ran when Marcum fell, but I looked back and saw Curtis Jett approach him with his revolver in both hands. He came up to within six feet, I thought, of the man lying on the floor and deliberately shot him in the head. I feared he would also try to shoot me and I ran further away. After he fired the second shot, he stood a second as if to make certain of the deed and then turned, while running away, I kept looking in his direction to be certain of his movements, as in the event he tried to shoot me, I would have drawn my revolver."

Mrs. Mary Johnson, sister of the murdered attorney made a statement tonight which is even more startling than Ewen's admission. She said she had been afraid to tell this earlier, believing that she would be assassinated:

"As I was returning home shortly after the killing," she said, "I was overtaken by Jett. He spoke to me and I said, 'Jett, did you kill my brother?' He replied, 'I did, but Hargis' money made me do it.' He said he was going to leave the country. Then Tom White came up and I asked him if he had anything to do with the murder and he said he was there, but did not fire the shot."

ROOSEVELT CHILDREN GO TO OYSTER BAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—(Special)—Ethel, Archie and Quentin Roosevelt were today taken to Oyster Bay by some of the family servants. In about two weeks they will be joined by Theodore, Jr., and Kermit, who are in school at Groton, Mass., and by the end of the month President and Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt will be with them at their Oyster Bay home. The president would like to get away from here about the 25th of this month. He is to deliver the Fourth of July address in Oyster Bay and expects to be at his home, settled down for the summer, by that time. Mrs. Roosevelt has no idea of leaving Washington until her husband is able to get away from official duties that are now pressing.

KANSAS OUTLAWS SAFELY REMOVED

Company of Militia Guard the Prisoners En Route to the County Seat.

THE SETTLERS ARE AVOIDED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. FRANCIS, KAN., June 10.—Chauncey Dewey, Clyde Wilson and W. J. McBride were brought here tonight by company G, of the Second Kansas regiment. In charge of Sheriff McCullough, of Cheyenne county, the train of eight wagons left the O. K. ranch this morning. From the time the Dewey ranch was left every possible precaution was taken to avoid a meeting with any of the settlers. From the ranch the route over the hills west toward the Berry home, now desolate because of death dealing bullets of the Deweys.

For five miles the little army wended its way over the roads heavy with mud. The soldiers sat in their wagons with guns in their hands. Capt. Cunningham and Lieuts. Thompson and Hillebrand rode at the side of the three-seated rig containing the prisoners and the sheriff. A road leading across the fields and away from the Berry ranch was taken and not a soul was seen. An old settler, friendly to the Deweys, who knew every trail in the vast ranges, was attending as guide and a route was chosen which led away from the more thickly settled places.

As the party neared St. Francis Lieuts. Thompson and Hillebrand rode about a half mile ahead on the lookout for any signs of trouble. When the train was within a half mile of the town the troops left their wagons and surrounding the rig carrying the millionaire cowboy and his associates they marched into the town. A great crowd greeted them as they marched to the court house yard where they went into camp.

Not a sound was heard from any of the hundreds of watchers among whom were some of the armed settlers who had gathered at the Berry ranch Sunday. As soon as the court house yard was reached double sentry lines were thrown out and the work of erecting the camp commenced. The sentry lines were thronged with persons all eager to catch a glimpse of the prisoners.

TWO AGED CHINAMEN LEAVE FOR THE ORIENT

Will Spend Their Remaining Days in Their Native Country.

The population of the Chinatown district of Pittsburgh was much grieved last night over the department of two of their number for their native country. Because they have passed the ripe age of 70 years Wung Hung and Ting Fang decided that their few remaining days be spent in the orient, and last night bid farewell to Pittsburgh.

They left over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, boarding train No. 5 at 8 o'clock last evening. About a dozen of their countrymen went with them to the train and the parting scenes were impressive, and in some particulars interesting. By the manner of their conversation it could be detected that the two old men were pleased to leave for the land which gave them birth, and yet sad to part with so many who had been their associates for several years.

They had tickets which called for continuous passage to Hongkong. Arthur Tiddy, city passenger agent of the B. & O., booked them. When the train was called out the dozen or more attempted to go through with the two travelers. They were stopped by the gateman, and their followed a confused conversation which attracted the attention of the passengers who were in the station.

After the two had passed through the gates they stood conversing with their countrymen until the ushers motioned to them that the train was ready to leave. They shouted as they ran to the train and boarded the smoker as it was pulling out of the trainshed.

CONVICTED OF HERESY.

Lutheran Ministerium, However, Gives Rev. Hugo Wendell a Chance to Recant.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The ministerial session of the Lutheran ministerium of Pennsylvania today found the Rev. Hugo Wendell of Trenton, N. J., guilty of teaching heresy. The penalty imposed was suspension from the ministerium until he shall have made recantation in writing. He is given three months in which to comply with the order, and failing to do so he will be permanently suspended. The report is in part as follows:

"Your committee find that the evidence clearly shows that Pastor Wendell claims to have communications from the spiritual world; that immediately and without intervention of the external word of God he claims to be at times, an inspired organ of Raphael in order to communicate in writing spiritual truths. In view of such facts your committee are compelled to recommend the ministerium to declare the claims of Pastor Wendell fundamental errors."

BILL POSTERS AT WAR.

Rivalry Among Board Fence Advertisers Results in a Case at Court.

Yesterday a preliminary injunction was granted the Pittsburgh Bill Posting and Distributing Company restraining the American Bill Posting Company from interfering with the plaintiff's signs. The action of the court established a truce in a warfare which had been waged by the knights of the long-handled brush for several weeks. The dispute first arose over the right to certain boards along the principal trolley lines, and in some cases posters were covered several times a day. The paper for Pawnee Bill's circus and that of Walter L. Main caused trouble in the East End district. The employes of the two companies sometimes met around the same board and a merry battle would ensue, resulting in the wasting of barrels of paste in plastering an opponent's bills.

Walking Delegate Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(Special.)—Richard Carvel, walking delegate of the Derrickmen's union, was arrested late tonight charged with extortion. The arrest was a surprise, as his name had not been publicly connected with any of the transactions in which some others were said to be concerned. He was brought into police headquarters shortly before midnight and was locked up.

MAYOR HAYS MUST APPEAR IN CRIMINAL COURT

The district attorney said that if the mayor were convicted he presumed an appeal would be taken to the superior court of the state. He said that if the case goes to the superior court there would probably not be a decision from that tribunal for six months or more.

Col. A. B. Hay, one of the legal counsel for Mr. Moore and one of the prominent civil war veterans of the county, stated last night that when the case came up for trial in the criminal court that a motion to quash the indictment was the first step anticipated. If this motion is overruled by the judges the case will go to a jury.

If the jury finds the defendant guilty the maximum fine of $500 can be assessed or a nominal fine imposed, as the act of assembly does not provide a minimum fine. The law makes the offense a misdemeanor and does not provide imprisonment as a part of the penalty.

THE LAW AND THE PENALTY.

The law under which the grand jury made its indictment is the act of March 29, 1897, signed by Gov. Daniel H. Hastings. The section of the act covering the present case is as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That any persons now occupying or at any time hereafter holding or occupying any office, trust or position whatsoever, within this commonwealth, or in connection with the state, county or city government or management, who is an honorably discharged union soldier, sailor or marine, and having rendered service in the late civil war of the United States, shall not be removed, suspended for an unreasonable term, or discharged, unless for good, sufficient, reasonable or just cause.

Any person who shall violate or cause to be violated the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court of record shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $500.

Col. Hay stated that the action was brought to test the validity of the above law and to ascertain whether it could be enforced to protect from political spoilsmen old soldiers who had served their state and country in time of need.

"If we win this case," said Col. Hay, "it will probably mean the reinstatement of every one of the 55 old soldiers who have been discharged by the county and city for political reasons or at least a majority of them. We are making this move to ascertain if the old soldier really has any rights under the law and constitution. Even should we win, it will not affect the case of Thomas G. Sample who was removed by Governor Pennypacker from the position of state printer.

"The governor is the state and the law presumes that the state can do no wrong. The governor can not be prosecuted as can Mayor Hays, but he can be impeached by the state senate, but his impeachment is far from being a probability."

The other attorneys for Moore are John Marron and Charles P. McKenna. The prosecution of Mayor Hays was decided upon a couple months ago by the Union Veteran Legion and the Grand Army association of Allegheny county, representing the entire old soldier element of the two cities and county. These two bodies had a meeting and voted to employ legal counsel to carry a test case to the highest court of the state.

Following this step was the organization, a few weeks ago, of the Soldiers' league of Allegheny county, the object of which is to unite the old soldier vote of the Civil and Spanish-American wars, and the Sons of Veterans, in a political movement to fight the present city and county administrations. This organization has grown fast since its inception. A rousing meeting of the league was held last Saturday night at which many new members were taken in.

Samuel Moore, who figures as the prosecuting witness in the proceedings against Mayor Hays, is well-known in local politics. He represented the Sixth ward in common council for two terms, from 1894 to 1898, the last time being elected when the Democrats carried the balance of the ticket and elected to select council Peter Hermes, the friend of Mayor Hays. Moore was the first Republican elected to councils for 14 years. He was appointed to the position of ordinance officer at a salary of $75 a month, by Mayor William J. Diehl, a few months before the "ripper" law took effect. He served under the administration of both Recorders A. M. and J. O. Brown.

INCURRED ENMITY OF M'TIGHE.

It was during the administration of Recorder A. M. Brown that Moore opposed John P. McTighe, now superintendent of police, for chairman of the Republican organization of the Sixth ward. There was a bitter fight at the primaries in which the Moore people triumphed and Moore was elected chairman. This affair gained Moore the enmity of McTighe and the police superintendent demanded his scalp as soon as there was a change in the city administration last March.

Moore served through the civil war and gained an honorable discharge. He was among the first to answer the call of President Lincoln for troops and to get on the field as soon as possible went to Wheeling and enlisted with the First Virginia regiment of union volunteers. This regiment contained a number of other Allegheny county men. Later Moore joined the Sixty-third Pennsylvania regiment. He was one of four brothers to enlist in the union cause. One of his brothers was killed and he was twice wounded.

Moore said last night: 'I am not doing this for spite. I am simply doing this as a test case to help the other boys out. We want to know whether we can get protection under the law or not and whether the law passed for the protection of the old soldier is constitutional or not. I do not want to be reinstated even if I should win this case, for I show that the administration would always hound me for taking this action and make it mighty unpleasant for me.'

There are other points of human interest in the Moore case besides the fact that District Attorney Haymaker is compelled, in his official duty, to prosecute the man whom he opposed for the office of mayor last February. Moore stated last night that the father of District Attorney Haymaker and the district attorney's two brothers served through the civil war in the same regiment to which he belonged, the Sixty-third Pennsylvania, and that the elder Haymaker, who was quartermaster of the regiment, befriended him in a difficulty he had with another officer.

Judge Marshall Brown, who will sit with Judge James MacFarlane in the case, is a son of Recorder A. M. Brown, under whom Moore held office.

Mayor Hays would not discuss last night what steps he would take in reference to the indictment against him. He was at the Hermes home when a Gazette reporter called. In respose to the request that he would like to see the Mayor for a few minutes the information was brought to the reporter that the "mayor was in a bad humor" and engaged.

WEDDED LIFE STARTED AMID REGAL SPLENDOR

about the crown. The maid of honor's gown was like the maids with the exception of the silk slip, which was white. The mull was made over white silk, the ribbons of white satin and the ostrich feathers white. The maids and Miss McCurdy carried shower bouquets of white sweet peas with maidenhair fern.

The bride walked with her father. Her gown was a creation of white peau de sole, made princess, with bodice effect of real lace with duchesse lace and hand embroidery in white chenille set with pearls. The sleeves were of the mull with a fall of the lace. The trailing skirt was plain to the floor with the exception of four inset falls of real lace over each of which fell a spray of orange blossoms. She wore a veil over her face, caught in her hair with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

THE WEDDING CEREMONY.

The maid and maids of honor passed up the chancel steps and awaited the bride at the altar. The groom and his best man, his brother Rutherford McCormick, awaited the bride and her father at the chancel steps where the betrothal ceremony was performed by Bishop W. A. Leonard, when the bride and groom passed through the aisle formed by the bridal attendants, to the altar. The music which was of rare merit was under the management of Mrs. Seabury C. Ford. Just before the Lohengrin wedding march was played to herald the approach of the bridal party President Roosevelt entered with Mrs. Hanna on his arm followed by Miss Alice Roosevelt and members of the bride's family.

At the conclusion of the ceremony which was beautifully performed the house wedding guests were driven once more to Glenmere where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. The president was closely guarded from the luminese throng that surrounded the church and Hanna home. Among the out-of-town wedding guests at the breakfast were the following:

MANY DISTINQUISHED GUESTS.

President Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Postmaster General and Mrs. Payne, with their niece, Miss Jones; Adjt. Gen. and Mrs. Corbin, Senator and Miss Kane, his sister; Senators Beveridge and Hale, Senator and Mrs. Wetmore, Senator and Mrs. Aldrich, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller. From Chicago the following guests were entertained: Harold McCormick and Mrs. Robert McCormick, W. G. McCormick, Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, great aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Jewett, Mrs. Edward Blair, Miss Carrie McCormick, Stanley McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Jr., Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Miss B. M. Winston, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Stone, Frederic McLaughlin, Joseph Cudahy and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ely. Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Newman, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin, Buffalo; the Rev. Dr. Billings, Groton, Mass.; Gen. and Mrs. Charles Dick, Akron, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wood, Mr. and Mrs. McCrea, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Winston and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hole.

The bride's table was placed in the family dining room and was done in white and green. Here were seated the wedding party and Miss Roosevelt. The other guests were served in a large tent placed between the lake and the house, with which it was connected by a canopied passage. The tent was decorated with flowers of various shades, the color scheme being broken at the numerous tables. President Roosevelt and Ambassador McCormick were seated at the same table.

BEAUTIFUL AND COSTLY GIFTS.

Hundreds of beautiful and costly gifts were received. The president's gift was a set of after-dinner coffee cups and saucers. The gift of Mrs. McKinley was a handsome vase of Italian ware. One of the most elegant gifts was a set of antique silver, which is supposed to be from the bridegroom's parents and which was made in England in 1800.

While no public announcement has been made concerning Senator Hanna's gift, it is understood to have been a check for a generous sum. Mrs. Hanna's gift was a rare string of pearls.

The bridegroom is one of the editors of the Chicago Tribune. He is a son of the Hon. Robert S. McCormick, ambassador to Russia, and a grandson of the late Joseph Medill, for many years owner and editor of the Chicago Tribune.

As soon as the police had been withdrawn from the church mobs of people broke into the auditorium and tore down the decorations for souvenirs. The police had to be again summoned to drive the crowd away from the edifice, but not before many costly plants had been ruined.

It was announced late this afternoon that Senator Hanna's gifts to his daughter, Ruth, were a check for $50,000 and a deed to a valuable piece of property in Chicago. This gift was the same as that given to his eldest daughter, Miss Mabel, when she became the wife of Harry A. Parsons about a year ago.

The newly wedded couple outwitted their friends in a clever way. Mr. McCormick had been informed that his friends who attended Harvard university with him, and who were present at the wedding, had planned to play some tricks on him and his bride. As a result Mr. and Mrs. McCormick left the Hanna home about 4:30 o'clock in a carriage. The groom's college friends followed in a carriage, but after going a short distance Mr. and Mrs. McCormick left their carriage and got into an automobile, which was in waiting for them. The automobile was turned loose and the college boys were soon lost. The couple reached Sersa, where they boarded a Lake Shore train, and are now en route to Monticello.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR BRIDEGROOM'S FATHER

TEMPERANCE WORKERS HOLD LARGE MEETING

Elect Officers and Committees for Coming Year—Addressed by Coadjutor Canevin.

The sixteenth annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of the Pittsburgh diocese was held in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, Sharpsburg, yesterday.

A business meeting was held in the afternoon, called to order by the Rev. John G. Beane, president of the union. The following committees were appointed: Resolutions, the Rev. M. A. Lambing, Miss Nellie Carnahan and John M. McTighe; credentials, John Finn, John Call and James Fitzmerence; auditing, John Ferrig, J. F. Wrenn, officers' reports, R. J. O'Brien, chairman; John Horgan and Margaret O'Brien. Resolutions were adopted congratulating Father M. A. Lambing on the twenty-first anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood, and Coadjutor Bishop J. F. R. Canevin on his elevation to the episcopate. The union also reiterated its firm belief in total abstinence.

The following officers were elected: President, the Rev. James G. Beane, Pittsburgh; organizer, Charles D. McShane, Pittsburgh; first vice president, A. B. Floy, Irwin; second vice president, Nellie A. Carnahan, Irwin; secretary, Stephen Madden, Pittsburgh; treasurer, P. H. Thornton, Sharpsburg; marshal, William Claire, Pittsburgh; deputy organizers, Mrs. A. B. Floy and James Fitzmerence, Irwin, and Alexander Pawlowski, Rankin. The bringing in of the largest number of members was won by Miss Annie Hoolahen of Irwin, who secured 90; James Fraul of Pittsburgh was second with 85 members. The banner for the greatest increase in membership in the past year was won by Irwin for the second time. Bishop Canevin and others delivered addresses.

MEAT PRICES TO SOAR.

Packers and Shippers Are Taking Advantage of the Flood Conditions.

CHICAGO, June 10.—(Special.)—The beef companies last week, which hammered prices of cattle on the hoof to the lowest possible point and put up the price of dressed meat have caused a retaliatory war by the producer and shipper against the packers. A famine in meat is likely to be the result.

The packers are blaming the whole situation to the flood and the shippers are apparently leagued with a view of making packers pay more for cattle.

Cattle on the hoof advanced 15 to 25 cents per 100 pounds and while hogs went up to 25 cents and sheep to 15 cents. Packers were compelled to pay the increased prices and they are expected to make the consumer pay the difference.

HIGH PRICE FOR A JOB.

Man Declares He Was on the Point of Giving Up $200 for a Position.

Harry Adams of Mansfield, O., and Edward Davis of Toledo, O., were arrested yesterday morning by Officer J. C. Tenney and locked in Central police station as suspicious persons. The men boarded at No. 322 Penn avenue. Adams represented himself as John Studebaker and, with Davis, attempted to secure money from a young man for getting the latter employment. The young man agreed to secure him employment for $200.

The man agreed to place the money in bank, and said that when Adams secured him the position he would order the money paid to him. Adams refused to agree to this and the man left him and made a complaint to Inspector Bernard McStay. An investigation was made and Adams and Davis were arrested. Both will be arraigned for a hearing this morning.

HIS COURSE APPROVED.

Temperance Woman Eulogizes President's Course on Temperance in Philippines.

GENEVA, June 10.—At today's session of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union convention, Father Hyacinthe addressed the delegates, urging an agitation in favor of submitting international difficulties to the International court of arbitration at The Hague.

During the afternoon Mrs. Faxon, a missionary in the Philippines, discussed the temperance question there. She said the drink evil was far worse in the Philippines than in America, and eulogized President Roosevelt's co-operation in combatting the evil.

Mrs. Frances Barnes of New York has resigned the world's superintendency on account of ill health.

MASSILLON (O.) PASTOR CALLED TO BRADDOCK

The congregation of the Calvary Presbyterian church, Braddock, has decided by a unanimous vote to call the Rev. Samuel B. Stokey of Massillon, O., to the pastorate to take the place of the Rev. Edwin M. Bowman, who accepted a call to the First Presbyterian church of Hollidaysburg about two months ago. Mr. Stokey is a graduate of the McCormick theological seminary of Chicago, and has been in the ministry for nine years, seven of which he spent with the Massillon congregation.

NEW GRADE CROSSING BLOCKED IN ALLEGHENY

An attempt on the part of the Pittsburgh & Western Railway Company to get Grant avenue and School street at grade was knocked out last night by the corporations committee of Allegheny councils. President Samuel McClelry of common council, John W. Robinson, an official of the Civil War company, and C. Napier, all Citizens members of councils, made a fight in behalf of the ordinance, but Messrs. Kirschler, Brown, McHenry and Harvey voted it down and it will be returned to the councils with a negative recommendation.

County Recorder's Cashier Resigns.

Miss Margaret Miller of Pittsburgh, who has been cashier of the county recorder's office for about 12 years, has tendered her resignation, to take effect the middle of the present month. She will accept a position with the Peoples National bank of Pittsburgh. J. B. Hershey of McKeesport, who has been a counting clerk in the office many years, will be promoted to the position held by Miss Miller, while R. H. Heath of Dravosburg, who is an index clerk in the office, will succeed Mr. Hershey.

Teachers' Salaries Raised.

The Wilkinsburg school board last night decided to raise all the school teachers' salaries with a $5 to $15 increase. The school millage was fixed at 6 mills, the same as last year. William W. Snyder was re-elected janitor of the First ward school; Daniel Gelder was elected janitor of the Second ward school and Benjamin Marsh for the Third ward school. Daniel Herger was elected janitor of the new school building which is being erected on Swissvale avenue, First ward, which will be completed about September 1.

ONLY AMERICANS CAN MEET WANTS OF EMPEROR WILLIAM

BERLIN, June 10.—"It is only Americans that meet my wants," is one of the latest utterances of Emperor William circulating in army and government circles.

The emperor spoke these words recently, according to the Tageblatt, while dining with the officers of one of his favorite Silesian regiments, and the thought pleased the emperor so much that he has frequently repeated it in other forms since then.

It is pointed out that the visit of the Prussian finance minister, Baron Von Rheinbaben, to the United States, attracts unusual attention among the initiated, because of the emperor's admiration for American energy and practical insight, and it is assumed that his majesty designs giving the minister larger tasks, for which his American observations will be especially useful.

PENNSYLVANIA MEN TO BUILD STEEL MILL

OSHKOSH, WIS., June 10.—(Special.)—J. B. Moore of Garland, Pa., a member of the Moore-Kepple Company, operating a sawmill at Port Wing, says Pennsylvania capitalists have selected Port Wing as the site for a large steel mill for the handling of the North Shore (Lake Superior) ores.

The company," Mr. Moore says, "has 1,000,000 tons of this ore in sight. The company will erect a strictly modern plant at a cost of $400,000, and this will mean several hundred employes and a city of 2,000 persons."

PLENTY OF EVIDENCE AGAINST SAM PARKS

NEW YORK, June 10.—(Special.)—District Attorney Jerome said tonight that information supporting the charges against Walking Delegate Sam Parks, under arrest on a charge of extortion, had literally poured in on him and that he believed he could bring six charges against Parks. Mr. Jerome received many callers during the day, including employers and employes, and as a result said he not only had additional information about Parks, but some that indicated irregularities on the part of other labor leaders.

VENEZUELA AGAIN ENDS REVOLUTON

CARACAS, June 10.—After the disastrous defeat of the revolutionary forces at Peuregal, Gen. Matos, the revolutionary leader, was obliged to flee with his generals, Riera, Penalosa, Soignie and Perdomo. They left Venezuela in a small rowboat and landed early today on the island of Curacao. The government troops captured nearly all of Matos' army. This is the end of the revolution.

SAYS THE COUNCILMAN DID NOT TELL THE TRUTH

E. T. McIlvain of Empire Asphalt Company Answered Kirschler in Allegheny.

At a meeting last night of a special committee of Allegheny councils appointed to ascertain why certain paving contracts had never been finished in the time specified in the bonds of several companies there were some warm charges made. E. T. McIlvaine, who is said to be the president of the Empire Asphalt company since his father E. J. McIlvain, became director of the department of public works, presented a letter in which he declared that Councilman Charles P. Kirschler had told an untruth when speaking of the failure of the Empire company to start work on several streets in the Fifth ward that should have been completed. He accused Mr. Kirschler of trying to hurt the Empire company, while he said nothing of other contracting firms that were guilty of the same offense.

In giving his reasons for their failure to start the work Mr. McIlvain mentioned lack of material and machinery, and the approach of winter weather, and laid stress on the fact that the Empire company had to fight the National Asphaltum Company in the courts.

A Traveler's Experience.

A party of gentlemen were gathered in the lobby of one of the leading hotels the other evening, when an argument arose as to what Red Raven Splits really were. One gentleman who was traveling for a big house in Indianapolis, ventured the assertion that notwithstanding the extensive advertising, out of five in the party not three could tell what Red Raven Splits were, and to what uses they were put. When the matter was put to a test it was found that the Indianapolis man had won, and in the following language he told his experience with Red Raven Splits:

"I have found, when traveling from place to place, taking my meals at different hours, sometimes on the train and sometimes at the hotel, that my system became deranged, resulting in a sluggish liver, dizziness in the morning, lassitude and loss of appetite. I had seen the advertisements of Red Raven Splits and chanced to ask a druggist friend of mine what they meant. You can imagine my surprise at finding Red Raven Splits were the remedy par excellence, for such a disorder as I was suffering from. I tried a bottle before breakfast the next morning and found prompt relief. I learned that they kept it not only at the drug stores, but at any bar in any hotel, and since then in all my travels, when suffering from headaches, indigestion or nauseau, I have been promptly relieved by Red Raven Splits."

Large Lots of Silks—Reduced Prices

Everyday chances here that repay daily visits and inquiries at the silk counters. No old silks to have you spend your time over—on the contrary new and beautiful things, this season's designs and colorings. Neither our good patrons nor our salespeople shall be tired out looking at old styles.

Printed Shanghais, Printed Liberty Satins, Printed Foulards, Embroidered Shantungs, favorite Summer Silks in 24 and 27-inch widths, for 78c a yard. Original prices were $1 and $1.25 a yard.
Fancy Silks—checks, plaids and stripes and other pretty designs—shirtwaist suit silks of the most beautiful kind, 75c a yard. Original prices were $1 and $1.25 a yard.
White Fancy Wash Cords, in the substantial width of 32 inches, 50c a yard. Original price 75c.
Black Louisine Faconne, a handsome black of the very best type, 95c a yard. Original price $1.25.

Women's Umbrellas, $1.30 Each.

Worth from $1.50 up to $2.25.
Three hundred of them in which there are 50 different varieties of handles trimmed with pearl, horn, silver, including our regular $1.50 waterproof umbrella with boxwood and furze handles.
Rather a wide range of choice for $1.30.

Women's Skirts, $5 and $10 Each.

This news heads the procession in the second floor today. Choice is in both walking and dress styles.

The Skirts at $5 are made of mohair after a pretty new model. The right price of these skirts is $8, and that would be low for them.
The Skirts at $10 are Dress Skirts made of Voile Boutonne, a material that we sell over the counter for $1.50 a yard. As to the style of the skirt, same your dressmaker would charge $10 for making alone. Black, tan and blue—two style, one trimmed with silk bands, another with folds.

Women's Bathing Suits.

The railroads have already announced their special days for excursions to the seashore. Whether you go for just a stay of two weeks, or for a longer time, by all means have along with you your own bathing suit. It is so much nicer than having to depend upon a bath house—there's something repugnant about jumping into a bathing suit that some one else has worn.

Bathing Suits of all the materials now ready—mohairs, poplins, sergas and silks. All manner of pretty trimmings, different styles of skirts, $2.25, $3.75, $5 and on up to $23 for a bewitching Silk Suit.

Dewey Dress Shields, 25c Pr.

Always ready to wear, require no sewing.
Only two sizes in stock.

Pictures for the Bridal Gift.

Colored Photogravures.
Colored Platinums.
Water Colors—Landscapes and Heads—
Etchings, Carbons, etc.

And quite a large line of other subjects that have no mention.

In the way of a special we call attention to Pastels at $1.50, $2, $2.50 and up to $5.50, worth in every case a third more.

Women's House Garments.

50c. Short Kimonos of lawn, stripes, figures, plain or tucked yoke.
75c. Dressing Sacques of white lawn, collar and sleeves finished with hemstitching or ruffle.

Women's Wrappers—Reduced Prices.

Here are some reduced prices on wrappers, garments that are ample as to material, substantial as to extra good sewing, and altogether such wrappers as no woman could buy the material and spend her time making for near as little as the original price.

At 75c each—original price $1—Wrappers of percale—navy, red and black grounds through which are figured stripes. These wrappers are finished with braid.

New Black Appliques.

The Trimming Department gives notice that it is in receipt of some handsome new Black Appliques from France—entirely new design—splendid for the price—50c, 65c, 75c, $1 and $1.25 a yard.

In the way of a special today, at this same counter, there will be short lengths of fine trimmings—many of them containing enough to trim a waist or gown. Prices will be half.

$1.00 Trimmings for 50c a yard.
$2.00 Trimmings for $1.00 a yard.
$1.75 Trimmings for $1.38 a yard.
$3.00 Trimmings for $1.75 a yard.

Lawn Mowers, $7.50.

Original price $10.50—large size only.

In the Basement. They are the Philadelphia make. Guaranteed to be the best. They have all the modern improvements.

INITIAL STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN TOWARD BUILDING LOCAL SUBWAYS

Charters Granted to Promoters of Gigantic Traction System for This City.

TWO TUNNELS ARE PLANNED

Boston Underground Railway Methods Are Likely to Be Adopted in This City—Eight Companies Will Be Incorporated.

Initial movements toward the building of subways in Pittsburgh were made yesterday, when a local syndicate secured charters for short-distance surface roads in the downtown section of the city. An underground line similar to that in Boston is in contemplation, and the short lines for which articles of incorporation have just been granted by the state department at Harrisburg will be important factors in linking the grand system which is proposed.

Charters have been granted for eight separate companies. These are operated by the same people and their avowed purpose is to build a competing line to the Pittsburgh Railways Company. The Allegheny river tunnel line is said to be a part of the scheme. In the realization of the plans which have been drawn the promoters would have a street railway line paralelling the Ohio river from Economy through Allegheny, under the Allegheny river and covering the principal downtown district as well as a large part of the East End and Squirrel Hill residence sections.

The long-talked-of subway through Herron hill from Grant street to Oakland can be utilized and would provide the main artery by which the main residence district would be reached. While the promoters of the scheme yesterday refused to divulge their plans in detail, it was admitted that it is the purpose of the syndicate to build a rapid transit system which should connect all the principal districts of the two cities, establishing a competitor to the Pittsburgh Railways Company and giving improved facilities for reaching all parts of the city.

It is generally accepted as true that the Bigelow political administration favors the building of a subway from funds supplied by a city bond issue. The line proposed is through Herron hill from Grant street to Oakland and is about three miles in length. Expert engineers have estimated the cost of construction at $1,000,000 a mile. According to this, the bond issue would at least call for $3,000,000.

After the city has built the subway its maintenance and the interest on the bonded indebtness would be met in the rentals which the newly organized company would pay. The scheme is of gigantic magnitude and with its two great tunnels and extensive surface connections would constitute one of the largest street railways in the world.

The charters granted yesterday were to the New Grant Street Railway Company, capitalized at $750; the Ferry Street Railway Company, capital $3,000; the Spruce Run Street Railway Company, capital $30,000; the Kilbuck Street Railway Company, capital $20,000; the East Bank Street Railway Company, capital $42,000, and the Twin Creeks Street Railway Company, capital $18,000.

These six corporations are controlled by the same people who last winter secured charters for the Iron City Street Railway Company and the Pittsburgh Rapid Transit Company. Altogether, the charters incorporate a company which proposes to operate traction lines covering the entire downtown sections of the two cities.

The New Grant Street Railway Company is incorporated ostensibly to build a road an eighth of a mile long, beginning at Smithfield street and Seventh avenue, continuing thence along Seventh avenue to New Grant street. The Ferry Street Railway Company proposes to build a road one-half mile long from Liberty avenue along Ferry street to First avenue and thence to Smithfield street. The officers of the two companies are Malcolm J. McGriffin, president; F. P. Graffiis, Shirley P. Austin, S. S. Leslie, Jr., and J. H. Milholland.

The Kilbuck Street Railway Company is chartered to build a line five miles long, beginning on the Beaver road in Kilbuck township, and extending through Kilbuck, Glenfield, Aleppo, Haysville, Osborne and Sewickley to the boundary line between Sewickley and Leet township. The East Bank Company proposes to build its road from the southern boundary of Harmony along the Beaver road through Baden and Economy, a distance of seven miles. The Twin Creeks road will extend three miles from the Beaver road to the northern boundary of Leet township. The officers of these four companies are James H. Hillman, Jr., president; Arthur B. Sheets, Harry B. Weber, C. Percival Yocum and Richard H. Schaner, directors.

Attorney John S. Wendt of the law firm of Watson and McCleve, is solicitor for the new traction corporations. He was reticent in his comment upon the granting of the charters and said:

"These companies constitute a syndicate which has been organized for the purpose of building street railways in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the surrounding suburbs. The Pittsburgh Railways Company made a bitter fight against us when application was made at Harrisburg for the charters. The Iron City Railway Company and the Pittsburgh Rapid Transit Company also are a part of the same great system. Local capital is largely interested, but as no steps have been taken toward a consolidation of the various interests represented here in piecemeal, the names of the backers of the new railway company cannot be made public at this time."

When Mr. Wendt was asked if the syndicate proposed to utilize subways he was silent, but on being pressed for an answer stated that more charters were likely to be applied for and that later developments would be along lines affording the public a competitor to the present traction system.

Morris Knowles, formerly filtration engineer and who is very close to Thomas S. Bigelow, has made several trips to Boston recently for the purpose of studying the subway system in use in that city. Last night he refused to discuss the matter.

The subway system will have the support of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce. The underground roads have already been recommended by that body as furnishing the best and most expedient method of relieving the congested condition down town.

BEST WORK DONE BY AMERICANS

Carnegie Institute Exhibition to Be of Paintings by Citizens Residing in This Country.

OTHER PICTURES TO BE THERE

American artists residing in America will contribute the paintings for the annual exhibition at the Carnegie institute this fall. Besides, there will be presented a special collection composed of 100 works contributed by the International society of London, which collection is to make a circuit of a number of important cities, beginning at Philadelphia.

The American collection will be a distinct feature this year, and the awards of medals, carrying with them prizes of $1,500, $1,000 and $500, will be restricted to American painters residing in America, because the works contributed by the International society as a collection will not be entered subject to the conditions and agreement stipulated by the institute in its usual form of invitation.

ASK JURY TO BE SELECTED.

A jury will be elected by those asked to contribute, to meet in Pittsburgh, October 15, for the selection of works by American artists, but the plan for this year does not provide for the election of two foreign members. Paintings must be ready for delivery to the institute's agents the first week in October.

American representation at each of the annual exhibitions held since the opening of the institute has been unusually important, numbering each year considerably more than half of all the works shown. It is the desire of the institute that the American representation at the coming exhibition be made even stronger than heretofore, and that the exceptionally high standard established for these exhibitions be maintained.

The Baron de Bayet collection of fossils has been purchased by Dr. W. J. Holland for the Carnegie museum for a good-sized sum, the exact amount being withheld by the director. Steps will be taken shortly to bring the collection from Brussels, Belgium, to Pittsburgh, where they will form a valuable addition to the present excellent collection.

COLLECTION IS A NOTABLE ONE.

Baron de Bayet has for 40 years been assembling what is regarded by paleontologists as one of the most notable collections of European fossils now in existence outside of the great museums of Europe. He has spent on the formation of this collection years of labor and large sums of money, not only collecting, but purchasing as occasion offered other collections.

The collection has for years been known to paleontologists as the Musee Bayet of Brussels. It is a museum itself. Many of the specimens contained in this collection have figured and have been used to illustrate works on paleontology such as Zittell's great work, which is the standard among students of science.

Some time ago it came to the knowledge of Dr. Holland that the baron was anxious to dispose of this magnificent collection. He communicated with Mr. Carnegie, informing him of the opportunity to secure it for America. Mr. Carnegie generously agreed to the purchase and yesterday morning Dr. Holland received a cable message from Baron de Bayet accepting the offer which was made on Mr. Carnegie's behalf, and the collection will now become one of the attractions of the Carnegie museum.

PLANS THREE BRIDGES ACROSS THE OHIO RIVER

Joseph W. Craig Takes Time by the Forelock and Provides for Future Needs of the Valley Near Pittsburgh.

Joseph W. Craig, the well-known oil and gas man of this city and Sewickley, is one of the incorporators of three bridge companies for which applications will be made for charters to the governor July 1. All three bridges are to cross the Ohio river at points between Pittsburgh and Rochester. One will be called the "Stoop's Ferry bridge," to stretch from the foot of Ferry street, Sewickley, to a point near Stoop's Ferry station on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad. The second will be known as the "Osborne bridge," and will extend from a point near the boundary line between Sewickley and Osborne boroughs to a point near the Pittsburgh and Beaver road between the Kerr and Chess properties. The third will be called the Crescent bridge and will extend from the foot of Leetsdale lane in the township of Leet to a point near the Flougherty run road in Crescent township.

"These bridges are not intended for immediate construction," said Mr. Craig last evening. "The plans look into the future. The development of the Ohio valley is being brought about rapidly and it seems that within three years there will be great need of these connections of the two banks of the river. The charters are being obtained now and the financing of the plans will come later. The plans are all my own now."

It was stated that each of the bridges will be an iron structure to cost about $250,000. They will be toll bridges, for the accommodation of wagon and pedestrian traffic. The plans of trolley lines to use them also are yet to be considered. The incorporators with Joseph W. Craig are Charles W. Baker and Percy L. Craig. W. F. Tredway, Esq., represents the applicants for the charter.

A Grand Special Shoe Sale

10,000 Pairs Shoes and Oxfords

Embracing Men's, Women's and Children's wear, under priced 25 to 33 Per Cent for speedy selling.

Large purchases of manufacturers' surplus stocks and sample lines at heavy cut prices, and many special lots from our own wholesale stocks, have been thrown out for this special bargain event, and coming just now, at the opening of the summer vacation and outing season, the opportunity to save is one that appeals with unusual force to all.

AT $1.95 and $2.50 — About 2,000 pairs sample Shoes and Oxfords in both Men's and Women's wear are offered, that represent a full third more value. Every pair is new and correct in style, and a great variety is shown. These shoes are the product of the best makers, and are an exceptionally choice lot. Ask for the sample lines.

AT $2.90 a Pair — There's a big lot of Men's Patent Colt, Vici Kid and Patent Calf Oxfords that you will not be able to find elsewhere in equal value for less than $4.00 a pair, and remember, all newest shapes, genuine Goodyear welts and the workmanship and finish above criticism.

Then there's an extra in Men's fine $5.00 Oxfords—(not so many of them, but enough if you come soon)—in all sizes, that we are going to put out during this sale AT $3.50 A PAIR, that are just what you want for summer dress.

AT $1.65 — A great bargain in Men's Vici Kid Oxfords that should really sell at $2.00 to $2.50 a pair, but we've marked them all at $1.65.

AT $1.95 a Pair — Another lot of those $3.00 hall finished Kid Colonialettes that were snapped up so quick a short time ago. Stylish, dainty, dressy, with high French heel and just the thing for nice wear.

And then in the Women's Departments the following extra specials will interest you all:

At 75c — A big lot of $1.00 and $1.25 Kid Oxfords.

At $1.00 — A lot of $1.50 and $2.00 Kid Oxfords.

At $1.50 — A sample lot of $2.50 and $3.00 Oxfords in Patent Leather and Vici Kid.

At $1.00 — A special line of $2.50 Tan Oxfords.

At $1.95 — A lot of Women's $3.50 and $4.00 Tan Shoes, in genuine Russia Calf, with Goodyear welt soles.

Not all sizes in these, but most all—Tan Shoes are coming into style again, but the assortments here are broken and they must be closed out.

At 59c — A big lot of Children's Tan Shoes, worth $1.00 and $1.25 a pair—are choice, cool, and will give double the wear of Black Shoes.

At 75c — And $1.00 a pair—a big lot of Misses' and Children's Slippers and Oxfords worth fully 25 per cent more than these prices.

At $1.50 — And $2.00 comes a big lot of Boys' Oxfords just in time for vacation wear—and an extra bargain.

At 39c — And 49c a pair Men's, Boys' and Women's Rubber Sole Tennis Shoes.

Another case of tetanus resultant upon tampering with the deadly toy pistol was reported yesterday. This is the eighth fatality from that cause since May 30—an appalling list surely. The toy pistol ought to go to return no more forever. Even if we agree with the fatalists of the orient that no man dies before his time, we may well choose to have our loved ones claimed by a less painful malady than lockjaw. Its attendant symptoms are hardly less distressing than those of hydrophobia. The momentary joy of the toy pistol does not compensate for life or agony, so the boy is better limited to safer objects of amusement.

The public drinking fountain to be erected and maintained at Smithfield street and Fourth avenue by the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings will be a benefaction of the first class and should incite an emulative civic spirit in the breasts of others. Strangers are apt to gain the impression that downtown Pittsburgh is an uninviting place. It is all utility; there is little of beauty or comfort to the man on the street. A few ornamental drinking fountains will be pleasing to the eye and of double beauty to the thirsty wayfarer. The downtown district is being covered with fine buildings and it should have some of the accessories of comfort and pleasure. It will not do to relegate all that to the East End, where the average visitor has not time to go.

The true bill found by the grand jury in the case of the Grand Army and Union Veteran legion against Mayor Hays will give his honor an opportunity to explain in court why he removed veterans of the civil war from positions in the public service. The law declares they shall be given preference and that they may be removed for cause only. It is alleged that in the case which is made the basis for the trial suit, the mayor simply notified the man that he was removed "on account of a change in administration." That explanation would have the merit of frankness, but it does not state sufficient cause for removal under the terms of the law. If the mayor is found wrong in this matter the fact may serve as a warning to future chief magistrates against wholesale discharge of public servants for purely political purposes.

Announcement is made that the coming exhibit at the Carnegie art galleries will be for American artists residing in America. This is a new departure in the policy of the art galleries, but one that has much to commend it. The basic principle of Mr. Carnegie's foundation is the encouragement of art in this country. The beginning was properly made by awarding the prizes to the best pictures of the year. That started the galleries with a collection of contemporary painting from all countries and all schools. This year the prizes will go to American artists who live and work in their native land, thus giving direct impetus to American art. No doubt the exhibition will be of equal interest to its predecessors, and it may be expected it will include some works, at least, that will rival the productions of the foreign masters. America is young in art, but it is forging to the front with the same vigor that has characterized its industrial development. American art is no longer to be despised.

Russia is entitled to credit for the dispassionateness of the official statement made to the Associated Press concerning the attitude toward offers of aid for the sufferers from the Kishineff massacre. All aid is declined because the emperor of Russia has means at his disposal to relieve all distress resulting from that deplorable affair. Russia will not receive kindly any representations from foreign governments concerning the matter because she regards it wholly as an affair of internal administration, and because, having adopted the American policy of not interfering in the internal affairs of other countries, she feels herself in a position to resent any interference in her own affairs. The most remarkable clause, however, is the frank avowal that Russia will find no fault with any country that may place restrictions upon immigration from Russia because the Kishineff massacre may threaten such country with a flood of undesirable immigrants. On the whole this courteous explanation of Russia's attitude is an encouraging indication that it has felt the pressure of foreign public opinion, particularly that of the United States.

Reports from the flooded districts along the Mississippi contain much more than the mere details of the destruction of life and property, though it may be necessary to read some between the lines for its full significance. The danger that has been menacing thousands of lives and hundreds of homes has been fought by men, women and children with the courage of despair. There have been displays of heroism of the grandest type. It sounds prosaic enough to say that hundreds worked on the levees to prevent an overflow. But to those who have seen the fury of mad waters it means more than that. To face the Mississippi at flood tide requires courage of as high order as to face cannon belching fire and a hail of missiles. To stand in the breach where the levee is breaking is as unselfish an act of heroism as to plunge overboard at sea for the rescue of a drowning man. The people of East St. Louis, of Venice and the other inundated towns have been acquiring experience little less thrilling than that of the residents of Galveston during the terrible storm, or those of Johnstown when the fatal South Fork dam burst.

Warring Labor Unions.

The lockout in the building trades in this city and the schism of the labor unions in New York are giving the enemies of organized labor the opportunity of a life to sneer at unionism. They point out with considerable satisfaction that when the unions can find no excuse to quarrel with capital they take to fighting among themselves; that while they preach anti-monopoly, they practice monopoly as far as it lies in their power to do so. Of course, they take an unfair view, but it is undoubtedly applicable in the two cases mentioned.

There is nothing wrong with the principle of labor organization. The trouble is that many unionists assume too much. To them it appears that if organization for mutual protection is right, then it is a crime for any workman to refuse to be bound by the laws of the order. They are more radically opposed to non-union labor than the most rabid capitalist is in opposition to all unions. They have no time for the man who persists in making individual contracts and in working by himself. Not only do they hold that employers should employ none but union men, but they lay down the dictum, Do as I tell you, or get altogether out of the game.

This attitude of the unions is doing them more harm than could be done by any obstinate employers. It is playing into the hands of the common enemy. Unless the unions can take a reasonable view of the rights of others and present a solid front they cannot attain their objects. There appears to be, both here and in New York, an excellent opportunity for the unions to apply conciliation and arbitration among themselves. They are delaying the whole procession.

Chamberlain's Defeat.

Whatever the common people of Great Britain may think about tariffs, the house of commons exhibited small sympathy with the protectionist idea when it voted down Mr. Chaplin's amendment to the budget by the overwhelming odds of 424 to 28 yesterday. Though the immediate question voted upon has no bearing upon Secretary Chamberlain's plan for colonial federation with preferential tariffs, the discussion on the floor took a wide range to cover that doctrine. The result must be discouraging to Mr. Chamberlain, who had apparently designed that policy to carry him to higher political position. Mr. Chamberlain, however, is good at waiting, and it must be said that time and events have vindicated his judgment at various times. He may be compelled to retire from the cabinet, and yet he may ride into power in a few years on this same issue.

There is a growing protectionist sentiment in Great Britain. It is made manifest in the givings out of captains of industry and in the discussions of industrial workers. The commercial and industrial progress of the United States and Germany force the subject upon the attention of British manufacturers, if not upon the economic theorists. There is an undeniable demand for an English tariff on the part of the colonies, all of which have adopted the protection principle for themselves. The telegram from the governor of New South Wales to Mr. Chamberlain is indicative of the esteem in which his ideas are held by the colonists. The colonies cannot make or unmake cabinets in London, but it is in the nature of the case that their public opinion will have an ever-increasing influence upon that of the mother country.

There is reason to believe that Mr. Chamberlain's colleagues are not sorry to have him humiliated as he is. While Mr. Chamberlain was touring South Africa in the interest of conciliation, his friends made considerable capital for him out of the unfortunate entanglement of the government with Germany in the Venezuelan affair. They glorified the colonial secretary at the expense of his colleagues, and there was quite a popular outburst for the man from Birmingham. Now the shoe is on the other foot. It will be interesting to follow the remainder of the play and see if Mr. Chamberlain will long stay down.

Marriage and Divorce.

Small wonder that Whitelaw Reid, when he shut his eyes to the perspective of the picture and contemplated only a record of "654,000 persons divorced in this country in the last 20 years," should exclaim against "the transformation of marriage from a sacrament of God into a thoughtless and headlong business or social arrangement to be dissolved almost at pleasure," and that he should appeal to the graduating class of Vassar, whom he was addressing, to join with "the best of their sex in a compact, resistless phalanx against a social evil, alarming, degrading and demoralizing, which has suddenly become almost too common to provoke surprise." When we stand back with him and survey the solid mass of 654,000 persons whose marital relations were dissolved, not by death, but by the courts, the whole does loom up so appallingly as to furnish justification for making the subject of those sundered ties the basis of a warning and an appeal to a class of young women just graduating into the world to add their quota to "the powerful influence of educated women," which the orator expects "will certainly correct the prevalent vicious conception" of the real scope of social life.

It is a dark picture, a black picture, a startling and discouraging picture which Mr. Reid held up for inspection, furnishing food for pessimistic thought, and it must have shocked the young women whom he addressed. Of course, it was his object to shock them, and after thus gaining their attention to point the moral and enlist their sympathetic interest. The picture was intended to have a certain educative effect, and if it accomplished its purpose it is well. But it is not a fair picture, for it lacks the perspective necessary to make it a perfectly rounded truth. When the perspective is painted in, while darkness remains, the whole is not so dark as is the unrelieved foreground. It will do no harm to paint in the perspective for the general vision, and it may even have a wholesome effect. The perspective appears in supplying additional statistics easily accessible, thereby reducing the divorce statistics to a proper relationship to the rest.

Accepting as authoritative Mr. Reid's statement that there were "654,000 persons divorced in this country in the last 20 years," it is a matter of simple division to ascertain that the average of each year has been 32,700. If an estimate of the average population during a period of 20 years be based on the official reports of each decennial census the average population is found to have been slightly in excess of 63,000,000 for each year of two decennial periods, and if Mr. Reid's 20 years cover the time backward from 1903 the average will be greater. But if we adhere to the smaller sum of the population and divide it by the number of persons divorced each year it appears that in this country during 20 years only one of each 1,926 persons was divorced. When the matter is presented in this way the divorce record of the United States does not appear so bad as when it is set forth as it was by the gifted New York editor and former ambassador, whose knee breeches and silk stockings would have made the coronation of King Edward no less remarkable than his intellect makes the Tribune luminous, had not the king prevented the display by his sudden illness.

Before leaving the subject introduced by Mr. Reid, let us further light up the gloom of his thought by pointing out that even if the "654,000 persons divorced in this country in the last 20 years" are all alive (and, of course, they are not) there would yet be in the United States (assuming the population to be now 80,000,000) a total of 79,346,000 persons who have no experimental knowledge of the divorce court. Of course, a large proportion of these are yet unmarried, a host of them being mere children, but many millions are married, and not only married, but mated, thereby presenting to those who are yet single a wholesome example of the blessedness of the married state, and refuting the forebodings of the orator.

Mr. Reid is not a yellow journalist in the Tribune. Why should he assume a yellow hue on the rostrum? It is true there are many things in the United States to be deplored, but there are many more things to be pointed to with pride. We prefer, when we can, to point with pride, and the millions of apparently happy marriages in the United States afford the opportunity. It may do the Vassar girls good to contemplate them after thinking over what Mr. Reid laid before them.

Honoring a Veteran.

The townspeople of the Hon. Galusha A. Grow gave that eminent and venerable citizen a most gratifying testimonial on Tuesday at Montrose, in Susquehanna county. Hundreds of the people of Susquehanna gathered to welcome the "grand old man" and to pay a tribute of affectionate esteem to one whose public services have extended over more than a half century of Pennsylvania's history. Mr. Grow has signified his purpose to retire from public life with the expiration of his present term in congress, and the celebration at Montrose on Tuesday was in some degree a last word of praise and affection from the people among whom the venerable statesman has dwelt for many years. It is, in view of Mr. Grow's continued activity in public affairs, somewhat surprising to know that he is 80 years of age on the 31st day of August next, 50 years of which have been spent, with short intermissions, in the congress of the United States. He was first elected to congress in October, 1850, and served the same district, now the Fifteenth, for six consecutive terms. After the formation of a new district, Mr. Grow was defeated, but later was again elected, and subsequently made speaker of the Thirty-seventh congress. Retiring from active public life for a time, Mr. Grow was again, in 1894, elected to congress on a ticket-at-large to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Lilly. He continued to be reelected until the new apportionment abolished the office of member-at-large, but declined to be a candidate in his district. In the interim of his congressional terms Mr. Grow has served as a railroad president and refused so high an office as ambassador to Russia, which was tendered him by President Hayes.

This review in brief of the life of Pennsylvania's honored and venerable son indicates how continuous and active his services to his state have been. Now that he has reached a green old age, with a long record of industrious labors in behalf of the commonwealth, the outpouring of the people at Montrose on Tuesday was a fitting tribute of love from the people among whom he has lived so many years. His fellow citizens throughout the state and nation will wish for the veteran years of peaceful old age in which to enjoy the fruits of a busy career.

Perhaps Mr. Hanna finds a fashionable wedding very nearly as much trouble as political conventions, and in the present instance considerably more expensive.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Mrs. Mary E. Ryle, through another donation, has brought up her gifts to the fund for the proposed new library at Paterson, N. J., to $225,000.

Dr. Phillip Henry Pye-Smith has been appointed vice chancellor of the University of London for the unexpired term of Dr. Robertson, now bishop of Exeter.

Prof. George E. Beyer of the department of biology and natural history at Tulane university has gone to Vera Cruz, Mexico to continue his studies on yellow fever.

The decoration of the Red Eagle of the third class has been conferred on Herr von Pilgrim-Baltazzi, the German charge d'affaires at Caracas, Venezuela, during the recent trouble.

The Rev. W. F. Warren, former president of Boston university, has been continued in the professorship of theology, with release from duty for two years, and has been appointed dean of the theological school.

John P. Hand, the new chief justice of the supreme court of Illinois, is an Illinois product throughout, having been born and educated in the state. He is 54 years old.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

"The nomination of Mr. Roosevelt in 1904 being practically assured, it is entirely natural that tentative casting about by party leaders for a strong and available man for the second place on the Republican national ticket should begin," says the Milwaukee Sentinel (Rep.). It then continues: "Judge Taft is one of the most distinguished and personally attractive of our public men, and his general eligibility is beyond question. But there are others perhaps equally eligible, whose claims are likely to be pushed by their respective states.—Wisconsin Republicans, for instance, will not be unmindful of the merits and services of former Gov. Scofield, a stanch party man whose Republicanism is without alloy, and who was one of the best executives that ever filled the gubernatorial chair in this state."

"Allen W. Thurman of Ohio says that Senator Gorman of Maryland is the strongest man the Democrats can nominate. He can carry New York if any Democrat can," leaving off the list Mr. Cleveland, who is not and will not be a candidate. Mr. Thurman's proposition is not wholly unreasonable; undoubtedly Mr. Gorman would be a strong presidential candidate," says the Philadelphia Ledger (Ind.).

+ + + +

Speaking of the intimation that President Roosevelt might prefer Gov. Taft for a running mate the New York Sun (Rep.) says it is "important if true," but concludes: "As to Gov. Taft, we imagine that a nomination for vice president would hold out no greater temptation than an appointment to the supreme bench executed, if he believed that he yet had work in the Philippines to do. At any rate, we are sure that at the present time he is devoting much thought to the pursuit of healthy immunized carabao, and none at all to the chase of delegates."

+ + + +

A sidewipe is given Senator Beveridge by the Chicago Inter Ocean (Rep.) in the discussion of vice presidential candidates. It says: "It is doubtful if Mr. Beveridge would add strength to the ticket even in Indiana. It is certain he would not inspire confidence in New York. He would not appeal as a candidate to the business men of Chicago, who abandoned the Democratic party to vote for McKinley. Nor would he appeal to the Republicans lately returned to the fold in Kansas and Nebraska. The Republican candidate for the vice presidency should come from the west, but he should be picked by the Republicans of the west from the strongest men of the party. A large, round voice and an Alpine brow do not fill the bill."

+ + + +

Discussing the vice presidency the Indianapolis Journal (Rep.) offers this bit of reason: "A man who takes this position either underrates the office or overrates himself. The office of vice president was created by the framers of the Constitution as the next in dignity and rank to that of president, and close to it. It has been held by many great men, and no man should ever be nominated and elected to the office who is not fit to be president. There should be no belittling of the second highest office in the government."

More About the Depository Ordinance.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

I thank you for your courtesy in publishing my letter of yesterday, and desire to add, for your information, to what has already been said:

Ninth—There has been no politics in the drafting of this proposed city depository ordinance. It is neither Citizen, Republican or Democratic, but has been drafted solely in the interests of better municipal government for Pittsburgh. Its authors are not afraid of fair criticism and invite the impartial consideration of the tax payers and city legislators, believing that almost every feature of its provisions have had very careful consideration. We will have no objection to any amendment which will improve it, keeping in mind its intent.

Tenth—If the wisdom of taking up this matter at this time is questioned, we think for obvious reasons it can be discussed and acted upon better now than later. The last contract made with the city depositories was determined upon fully two years before the expiration of the old one and was ordained and enacted into a law by councils on March 12, 1900, and expires February 1, 1905. Very truly yours,
June 10. JAMES H. WILLOCK.

Reminder of Good Old Days.

From the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

The Commoner has demanded the names of the largest stockholders in the Nashville American, and that newspaper refuses to give them. A curious public would like to know whether the American's silence is caused by contempt for the Commoner's impudence or whether the good old times have returned when the top hand in the jack-pot decided the American's ownership. No Chinese laundry in a Tenderloin game ever changed hands more suddenly or more frequently than was the American's wont. If the good old times have returned, all hail to the good old times.

Looks as Though Bryan Can't Lose.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Ex-President Cleveland's renomination next year would add a good many thousands to the Commoner's subscription list, and Col. Bryan is preparing to take advantage of the ill wind.

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

Is it in the air?

If not in the air, then whence the spirit of slaughter that plagues and scourges the earth bathes?

Have you not noticed how disasters come, not only in pairs and trios, but in bunches?

For the past two or three days the papers have been fairly reeking with accounts of disasters great and small, at the head of which rode death. Storm and flood and fire, murder, suicide and mishap, all as if sent or emanating from some peculiar condition of the forces of nature, or powers of the air.

Do such combinations of disaster merely happen, or do they come in accordance with fixed laws, or as the result of a natural condition of things?

People used to believe, and some do yet, that disasters are special visitations of providence, and intended as punishment for wickedness on earth. They were taught thus by those who figured God to be a spirit of vengeance and not of love and goodness. We are learning better now, and the world is the better for our learning.

* * * * *

If disasters, such as those sweeping the western country, and such as have swept almost every section in the east, are sent as punishment for wickedness, how comes it that the good suffer as much, if not more, than the wicked? And if sent as punishment how comes it that the particular offense is not made known, or some clew given to the why and the wherefore of the particular visitation?

Can you imagine any provocation for the lightning bolt that struck down those innocent girls at Corsica academy? Why inflict such punishment on innocent girls when there are so many bad people all around? Does God demand the sacrifice of pure and innocent lives merely to satisfy a greed for vengeance?

The Christians' God does not.

Nor does the consistent man believe that God, the true God who made and rules the universe, ever decreed the death of the innocent, or sends lightning, storms and floods as messengers to wreak vengeance on the little handful of creatures on the earth, one of the smallest of the countless worlds in the universe.

* * * * *

But where does it come from—this spirit of death and destruction?

May it not be in the air?

Who knows what tremendous forces are held in the grasp of that invisible something we call air?

It hardly seems possible that anything so innocent in appearance, so essential to life and the pleasures thereof, and so gentle when at rest, could contain the force which we call electricity.

And yet, when we look upon a batch of nitroglycerin which may be handled as safely as a batch of mud or dough, we see no signs of the tremendous force which it is capable of developing.

The force is there, as you well know, or may know at small cost. It is in a state of equilibrium and will remain in that state forever if not disturbed in a particular manner. You may safely carry sufficient of this innocent-looking substance in your pocket to blow yourself and all of your relatives, and all of your wife's relatives, into small bits, if properly disturbed.

Chemists tell us how it is, but their explanations are harder to understand than the plain facts as seen and experienced by those who only know what nitro-glycerin will do, and how to get action out of it.

Prof. Reginald A. Fessenden, formerly of the Western university, once suggested that electricity is in the air and only manifests itself as a specific or separate force when the equilibrium in which it is held is broken or disturbed.

The great dynamos or generators of electricity disturb the equilibrium of the air and sets free the energy held therein. Where else can the dynamos get it? They can't make it out of nothing; besides they use nothing but air from which to make it.

Whence the lightning bolt?

It is but accumulated electric energy going from the point where it is in excess to a point where it is deficient, thus restoring the equilibrium of energy in the atmosphere. The lightning flash is only the spark, similar to that seen in generators, batteries or most electrical apparatus.

Whoever, or whatever, happens to be at the point on the earth towards which the electric energy in the clouds is drawn must bear the shock, be it light or heavy. The human body not being a good conductor naturally suffers from its inability to transmit the energy to the earth as rapidly as it is received.

The movements of electric energy are regulated entirely by the laws of supply and demand. If you happen to be in the way you will, more than likely, get knocked out.

* * * * *

Vital energy—that which we call life—is mainly in the air we breathe, and it so much resembles electricity that the two are often confounded. Vital energy is like electricity, but it is not the same.

In all probability the energy in the air is converted into vital energy by some peculiar process as the air passes into the lungs where it is taken up and distributed to all parts of the body by innumerable nerves, the same as the electric energy taken out of the air by the dynamo is sent wherever received by means of wires, or metallic nerves.

The theory that the oxygen in the air keeps up a continuous combustion in the body which produces sufficient heat to keep the body warm, or alive.

As a theory this will do, but like most theories, it is harder to comprehend than the phenomena we call life and motion and thinking.

The idea that the energy which we call life is in the air is not hard to grasp, for the first we do when coming into life is to breathe, and the first thing we do after ceasing to breathe is to die. These facts being plain and well understood we can rest assured that the energy which sustains all forms of life on the earth is in the air, and in the water, which is also surcharged with the same energy.

* * * * *

The same form of electric energy will not apply to all the various uses to which it may be applied. That used for incandescent lighting differs from that used with other forms of lamps, while that used for operating motors and for producing certain results or effects, all differ one from the other, yet all may emanate from the same dynamo, or generator. This crude energy, so to speak, is modified and changed to suit the various purposes to which it is to be applied.

But it all comes out of the air the same as the energy that supports vitality or life in the human body or anything that lives and dies, whether human, animal or vegetable. Each particular body may require a particular quality of energy, and it is supplied with a converter by which the energy in the air is charged to suit its particular requirement.

Vegetation may be a part of the great electric plant by which the earth is supplied with ozone and many other modifications of energy.

Even weeds, just common weeds, may be really essential to life, health and prosperity. They are trampled under foot, torn out of the ground, and kicked and treated most unfeelingly, yet they may play a most important part in the economy of life.

* * * * *

Here's a cheer to the weeds up-springing,
And a song for the deeds they do;
With their flags to the world out-flinging,
They stand ready to fight it through;
And their dare is as pure and stinging
As their courage is proven true.

They are builded for war and trouble,
And will neither lead nor drive;
Mow them down to a field or stubble,
And it makes them but more alive;
Cut in twain, and their numbers double,
And double, and double, and thrive.

They laugh at plowshare gleaming,
And they tauntingly smile at the hoe;
They lie down, it seems, past redeeming,
But in truth so both ends may grow;
It takes doing of deeds, not dreaming,
Not to win, but keep up with this foe.

Yes, a foe are the weeds worth singing,
And a foe for the strongest arms,
And for hearts whereto hope is clinging,
And for love that cheers or and charms,
So a song to the weeds up-springing,
On a thousand battle farms.
—John P. Sjolander in Galveston News.

Danger Signals for Autos.

The auto must provide some other sort of a conditional death notice, says the Detroit Free Press. It should have a one-horse power calliope, a big-mouthed phonograph to shriek: "Ware the juggernaut," a drum with an electric attachment, a brass cannon with blank cartridges and smokeless powder, or a trained dock operator with a half-bushel of lungs to announce the approach of devastation on "shock-the" wheels.

Talked of in New York

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phipps, Jr., Miss Helen Phipps, Miss Amy F. Phipps and James McNally, are among the Pittsburgh passengers on the steamer St. Paul, which sailed from this port for Southampton today. Senator Chauncey M. Depew with Mrs. Depew and "Buster" are also on the St. Paul. The White Star liner Teutonic, sailed for Liverpool this morning with only one Pittsburgher aboard, according to the passenger list, M. H. Ward. The list was full, however. It contained the name of Mrs. W. Seward Webb and her daughter, Frederica, who are going over to join Dr. Seward Webb, in response to telegrams saying that he is seriously ill of nervous prostration. Another prominent passenger is Charles F. McKim, the architect who recently remodeled the White House, and who is on his way to London to receive from the hands of King Edward the medal awarded to him by his majesty. The rush of summer voyagers has not fairly set in, but the ships are crowded more and more with each eastbound voyage. Theatrical people are going in large numbers. They are usually the early birds of passage, taking ship as soon as they have ended their winter season, so that they may get through their vacation in time to take up rehearsals some time ahead of the openings in the fall.

Davis at Home on the Rialto.

Harry Davis, the Pittsburgh manager who was yesterday in this city elected a member of the Association of Vaudeville Managers of the United States, is one of the best-known managers in the country. Mr. Davis is one of the best-known managers along the Rialto when he chooses to pay the metropolis a visit. He has the distinction of being familiar to many people in two branches of the amusement profession, for he is as much at home among the vaudevillians of East Fourteenth street as with the "legits" of upper Broadway.

Devery Talks Too Much.

Our Chauncey could not resist the chance of telling a few stories when he was interviewed by a score or two of reporters and correspondents on the deck of the steamer St. Paul. The senator talked about commerce, industry, the president and "Bill" Devery. He admitted that he admired Devery as a picturesque figure, but thought he talked too much ever to become a leader in Tammany Hall. It will be interesting to note what Devery has to say about Senator Depew, and the "gift of gab."

Rough Sailing for Yachts.

If the weather does not soon improve, yachtsmen will get tired of trying to have a race between the three 90-footers to see which shall defend the cup. It was thought this morning that the contest might be carried through, but rain and fog interfered, and the trial is just where it was at the beginning of the week. The announcement was made today by Commodore Kane of the New York Yacht club that a race between the three flyers will take place tomorrow on the ocean course. Perhaps it will, but not if the weather conditions of today prevail for another 24 hours.

Mrs. Dulles' Hopes Revived.

Possibly that beautiful pearl necklace brought across the Atlantic by Mrs. Harrison Dulles of Philadelphia will be restored to her, after all. The case is a celebrated one. The customs authorities seized the bauble, which is valued at $15,000, in July of last year, asserting that Mrs. Dulles intended to bring it into the country without paying duty. She has always denied such intention. Now the court of appeals in this city has reversed the finding of the lower court which was against Mrs. Dulles, and there will be another trial.

Doctors Swindling the Poor.

If it can be proved that physicians practicing in the tenement districts have been making poor people pay for anti-toxin which the doctors got from the board of health for nothing, then a vile scandal has come to light. Three physicians living on the East Side were arrested on that charge today, each being held for swindling in $500 bail. It is said by the district attorney that 60 physicians are known to have been guilty of this contemptible fraud. Some of them have charged poor parents $4 and $5 for injecting anti-toxin in the hope of saving the life of diphtheria-stricken children, although the serum has a cost in dozen cents. It is said that some of the distracted mothers have pawned wedding rings, pillows and blankets to raise the money for the precious substance.

College Boys Behaved Well.

College men took possession of most of the theaters tonight. They were not so noisy as if there had been a big football or baseball match in the course of the day. The athletic element is always more pronounced than the men who have simply obtained diplomas for accomplishments in their studies. Besides, there were college women present at the theaters, too—in many cases accompanied by brothers and cousins who were themselves just turned loose. Take them all in all, the audiences were as quiet and well-behaved as at ordinary times, in spite of the fact that most of the young people were evidently in exuberant spirits. In some of the musical comedies there were occasional references on the stage to Columbia, Princeton and other institutions of learning, all of which were received with uproarious applause.

Col. Ammon Free from Curious Gaze.

One of the popular exhibitions today, but very difficult to get at, was the trial of Col. Robert A. Ammon, on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the Franklin Syndicate. Judge Newburger does not like a large assemblage of curiosity mongers in his court, and he issued orders that no one should be admitted unless he could show that he had business which warranted his presence. So there was much disgust among the several hundred men and women who had come for a day's pleasure when the gruff-voiced officers shut them out.

No One Hurt by Cotton.

There was the usual flurry in the cotton exchange today, but no one was hurt. But cables from England caused the market to open a little off, but it soon recovered and went up nearly 20 points. There was much excitement in the pit, but it cooled down as the day wore on, and it is thought by experts that the fever is allayed, for the present, at least.

Strychnine Not to Be Played With.

Strychnine is not the kind of thing with which to take liberties. There is sorrow in a Brooklyn home today in corroboration of this assertion. Frederick Frohster was an expert chemist, employed by a Williamsburg firm, and he took a sober delight in showing what he could do with deadly poisons without being hurt. His feeling probably was that of a snake charmer who plays with cobras. He had been overcome by inhaling the fumes of poisons and recovered on many times that he felt the easy tempt for their bred of familiarity. He was dead today from strychnine poisoning. He might have withstood the effect of the last inhalation if he had not been weakened by so many previously.

Snakes and Things.

Mrs. O. Thomas saw their kitten at play in the grass and went to see what it was busy with. She found two milk snakes—three feet long and the kitten thought it was fun to have them strike at it, when it would jump high in the grass. The third snake was found lying dead near by. The kitten had bitten it through the head. One of Arthur Brown's little boys went out in the field to watch his father build a fence a few days since. He was sitting on the ground near by. All at once the child began to scream and the father ran to the place where the child was surrounded by eight large snakes. The father had a hammer in his hand with which he killed seven of the snakes with the child in his arms.—Knoxville (Pa.) Courier.

John Neidig, a Cornwall & Lebanon freight brakeman, killed a copperhead snake measuring four feet in length at North Cornwall, at the railroad. The serpent was just about to attack a woman. While engaged in repairing fences at Rising, Eli Barber nearly stepped on a monstrous rattler. There must be a den of them in the vicinity for 27 were killed there at one time a few years ago.—Reading Times.

A resident of the Third ward was taking a walk along French creek on Saturday between here and Utica and informs us that he found about four barrels of decaying fish, mostly salmon and bass, lying on the banks of the creek. Some of the fish were very large, the salmon weighing eight and the bass four pounds. From the condition of the fish it is evident that the stream had been dynamited. A party at Utica stated that some men had arrived there on the Erie train Friday and had spent the night in dynamiting the creek.—Franklin News.

A blacksnake that measured six feet one inch was killed by Joseph McCarty of the city at Rockwood on Sunday. The skin was removed by the slayer of the reptile, who will have it tanned.—Oil City Derrick.

But yesterday both Frank and Bob to some secluded brooklet went; both with a single thought, on all day fishing trip were bent. No use for fellow names revealing—the lad may never harm to any man's well fencing. Well, Frank and Bob went early and stayed late; each had a good big flask of bait, and each was jealous of the other; and so to get away from bother, they separated, each a different way to try their luck alone throughout the day. And then it came to pass at night that Frank, whose many a lucky bite had filled his bag with trout, bethought him that he must find out what kind of luck had come to Bob. "I'll go," he said, "and hunt the slob." Behold, he found Bob standing by a pool and looking every inch a fool. His line was snarled, his pole was broke, and gazing in a tree above that bloke, with many a sigh, and groan, and frown, was trying to bring a gosling down that, while swimming round the brook had grabbed the bait on Bobby's hook. The mother goose was right on hand, trying on Bobby's form to land. The farmer, not so far away, was apt to get into the play. So Bob and Frank refused to wait, but gathering up their lines and bait made haste to leave the forest dim where goslings do in trout brooks swim.—Bradford Record.

Peter Caplena of the South Side is indisposed today. Peter volunteered a wrestling match with a bear yesterday and bruin had much the best of the encounter. Two Italians with a street organ and a couple of bears were entertaining on the South Side and when near Notori's hotel, in Prospect avenue, Caplena joined the crowd. He joined in the dancing and general merriment and even ventured to become familiar with Mr. Bruin. Some one suggested that Caplena wrestle the big bear. Peter responded promptly by grabbing the bear on the neck. The claws of the bear dug deep gashes in his face and he found it was no easy task to escape bruin's embrace. When he was rescued Peter drew a knife but was prevented from using it. He was later carried home, suffering from exhaustion and loss of blood.—Scranton Republican.

A pathetic story is told of "Nig," a favorite spaniel owned by the late Capt. Thomas Connesly. Nig was about 13 years old and in days gone by often accompanied his master on hunting trips. Capt. Connesly was noted as a hunter, before his health and strength began to wane, and Nig was an able assistant in securing game. When Capt. Connesly was attacked by his last fatal illness the faithful dog was with him in his room as frequently as the attendants would permit and he always displayed the utmost affection and solicitude for his stricken master. The dog seemed to realize that a serious turn in the affairs of the captain had arrived. And when death ended the career of his kind-hearted owner, Nig sought to remain in the room where the corpse lay and was much distressed because the door was closed against him. Then he went into another apartment and in abject despair remained there, in his own way bemoaning the loss of the one who had gone hence. Food was offered to the grief-stricken dog and efforts made to please him, but all to no use. There was no consolation for Nig. Neither would he eat nor in any manner be comforted. His long fast rendered the dog's condition most pitiable. It seemed that he would literally starve to death, but his life was mercifully ended yesterday by means of chloroform. And so, at last, the grieving animal was relived of a burden of sorrow which was more than it could bear and an incident full of pathos was closed.—Bradford Era.

STOCKS FORCED TO LOWEST POINT

Bears Succeed in Hammering Down General List to the Minimum.

LIQUIDATION IS VERY HEAVY

Rockefeller and Goulds Are Believed to Be in Control of the New York Market—United States Steel, Common and Preferred, Suffered Loss.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, June 10.

The heavy flow of liquidation reached almost a climax today when gilt edge securities were thrown to the wind. Prices at the opening of the market broke under the pressure and the bear movement succeeded in forcing the general list to the lowest point in the present movement.

United States Steel common and preferred shares reached the lowest figures of their history, except for the prices touched momentarily at midday in 1901.

Ownership of several of the largest railroad properties, it is asserted by good authorities, will have changed hands when the action clears and it is even predicted that one or more financial institutions may be forced to the wall. Official investigations, however, have been made, and the statement is volunteered that no failures are looked for.

Rockefeller and the Goulds are believed to be on top of the market, and are hammering at Pennsylvania. This has created a nervous feeling and for some time past commission houses have been constantly calling for margins and the continued decline has discouraged many of their clients with the result that liquidation has been continued.

Baltimore & Ohio, which was bought last year by John W. Gates, was the special object of attack and this gave strength to the report that the westerner, who is now in Europe, was being hard driven.

Among the stocks which today sold at a lower price than was reached even in the wild plunge of May 9, 1901, were Amalgamated Copper, American Sugar, Baltimore & Ohio, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Consolidated Gas, New York Central and Pennsylvania. Inactive stocks like Panhandle dropped 15 points.

A broker of 40 years' experience in Wall street this afternoon said: "From what I know of the situation and events leading up to it, it is my deliberate opinion that George Gould and Mr. Rockefeller are on top of this market. The worst thing that was ever done to the security market was the recent destruction by Mr. Cassatt of Western Union property. Mr. Gould is now hitched up with Mr. Rockefeller, and when they are through there will be a clearing up of the security wrecks.

"When this flurry is all over I think it will be found that there has been a very considerable change of ownership of some of our leading railroad properties. Only a short time ago people and institutions were complaining that they found it almost impossible to invest their money in good securities at 4 per cent. But they can now practically buy Pennsylvania and Missouri Pacific on a five per cent basis, and other first-class stock in the same favorable terms."

TEACHER FILES CHARGE AGAINST PRINCIPAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 10.—Troubles which have existed for several months between Principal W. D. Brightwell of the local schools and a number of his teachers, culminated last night, it is alleged, in an assault upon Mrs. Nan Young, teacher in an intermediate grade.

Mrs. Young made a statement this evening, in which she says she went to the office of Principal Brightwell, in the west side building to call a physician, there being illness in her family. She was refused use of the telephone. She called central, and was talking, when Mr. Brightwell seized and pushed her from the telephone, breaking the receiver. Another teacher in the school secured a physician for her.

At a meeting of the borough school board this evening the following resolutions were presented:

"Whereas, it is currently reported that an altercation occurred Tuesday evening at the Second ward school building between Principal Brightwell and Mrs. Nan Young, a teacher, amounting, it is alleged, to an assault on Mrs. Young, resolved, that a committee of three be appointed to investigate the affair and make a report to the board, with recommendations."

The resolution was tabled.

WANTS TO KNOW HOW GIRL DIED

Philadelphia Man Asks That Autopsy Be Held Over Daughter's Death.

AN APPEAL TO MAYOR STOY

Chief Executive of Atlantic City Is Asked to Order an Investigation—Postmaster's Guest Lost on Boardwalk. Pittsburghers at the Shore.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 10.

A story that has stirred the most select circles here leaked out today when Fred Elliot, who is said to be a wealthy Philadelphia business man, went to Mayor Stoy and asked that the body of his daughter, who died here last month and who was buried at Pleasantville on May 27, be exhumed and an autopsy held to determine the cause of her death.

The story told by the father is that he came here a year ago with his daughter and spent the summer. At the close of the season he returned to Philadelphia, leaving her here. She had made many friends and her father was willing that she should remain at the shore. That her time might be fully occupied she accepted a position as cashier in a dyeing establishment and during the winter and early spring she attended nearly all of the society events. She had been in the habit of writing to her father two or three times a week and when these letters ceased the father decided to come to Atlantic City to ascertain if she was ill, when he received a letter saying that his daughter had died in Atlantic City on May 25 and that the body had been interred in the Pleasantville cemetery on May 27.

The letter did not state what had caused her death, and Mr. Elliott hastened to Atlantic City. His investigation of the case has not thrown any light upon it. All he could learn was that she died, that County Physician Souder had been called in, as is necessary where the deceased had not been attended by a physician for 24 hours before death, and that he gave the undertaker a certificate to the effect that the girl had died from natural causes.

From other sources it was learned that just prior to her death she appeared to have been in the best of health. Mayor Stoy will decide tomorrow whether or not he will order an autopsy under the New Jersey laws. It is entirely in his province to do so.

POSTMASTER LOST HIS GUEST.

Postmaster Alger of Hannibal, Mo., a brother of ex-Secretary of War Alger, saw the ocean for the first time today and tonight his host, Postmaster Bacharach, is searching the boardwalk for him. Mr. Alger was a witness for the government in a case in the United States district court yesterday in which Postmaster Bacharach of Atlantic City was also a witness. They met in the court room and the Atlantic City postmaster told Mr. Alger, who is 74 years old, of the attractions here and invited him down. Mr. Alger came and the first place he was shown was Young's pier. He walked to the end half a mile out and was dumbfounded at the panorama which spread out before him. He looped the loop, watched the net hauls and while Mr. Bacharach's back was turned he got into the miniature railway and took a ride. Then he got lost in the crowd of sightseers.

VETERANS TO RALLY AGAIN.

Grand Army veterans from all parts of New Jersey are gathering here for the department encampment, which opens at the Morris Guards armory tomorrow morning. By the time the session opens there will be at least 1,500 veterans here, most of them accompanied by their wives.

THE DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Philip Gugel.

Mrs. Margaret Gugel, 44 years old, wife of Philip Gugel, died at her home in Swissvale late Tuesday night after undergoing an operation for kidney trouble. Mrs. Gugel was born in Pittsburgh and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burkhart Seims, she moved to Braddock when a child. She was married in 1878 and her husband was for years one of Braddock's business men. Two years ago the family moved to Swissvale. Mrs. Gugel is survived by her husband, two daughters, the Misses Lizzie and Anna, and one son, Philip. Two brothers, John and Conrad Seims of Braddock, and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Grieb, Mrs. Michael Rungle and Mrs. Wayne O'Hare, all of Braddock, also survive.

Mrs. Lydia Orme.

Mrs. Lyda Orme, 73 years old, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hannah Bridges, No. 624 Dickson street, Homestead, late Tuesday night. Mrs. Orme came to this country from England 45 years ago and has spent most of the time since in Ligonier, Westmoreland county, Pa. She was the wife of Abram Orme, who died in that town 18 years ago. Three sons and three daughters survive. They are Mrs. Bridges of Homestead, Mrs. Mary Garachean of New Kensington, Mrs. Martha Bridges of Latrobe, David Orme of Idlewild, Isaac Orme of Derry, and Edward Orme of Braddenville. Mrs. Orme was a member of the First Christian church of Homestead.

Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Rawsthorne.

Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Rawsthorne, wife of Robert Rawsthorne, Sr., died at the home of her son Robert on Mt. Washington, aged 70 years. She was born in Nottinghamshire, England, and came to Pittsburgh in 1850, since when she had been a continuous resident of Mt. Washington, except for a short time when she resided at Beaver Falls and at Joliet, Ill. She is survived by her husband, five sons, Leonerd in Wilkinsburg, Joseph, Robert and Edwin of Mt. Washington and Herbert of Toronto, Canada, and one daughter, Mrs. W. Phillips of Hazelwood.

Funeral of Edward H. Ward.

The funeral of Edward H. Ward, sales agent of the Sharon Steel Company, who was killed in a wreck on the Missouri Pacific near Lola, Kan., was held yesterday afternoon from the residence of Robert P. Clendenin, at New Castle. The services were conducted by Dr. H. S. Jordan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Ward was returning east after spending the winter in California to accept a new position under the United States Steel Corporation.

George Bethune McCarter, Sr.

George Bethune McCarter, Sr., a prominent Democrat of Northern New York and one of the first chiefs of the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington, died yesterday at his home in Salem, in the 71st year of his age. The deceased wrote, on dictation, as the private secretary of Gen. John A. Dix, secretary of the treasury in President Buchanan's cabinet, the message: "If any man hauls down the American flag, shoot him on the spot."

William Heston.

William Heston, aged 70 years, inventor of the straightway valve and for many years a prominent manufacturer of Homestead, died late Tuesday night at his home in Munhall, after a brief illness of pneumonia. He is survived by his widow and four daughters.

Obituary Notes.

Thomas Holt, a well-known citizen of Vanport, Pa., was found dead in bed yesterday, aged 75. His wife died several years ago. Heart trouble caused his death.

Mrs. Martha Wallis died yesterday afternoon at the home of her nephew, John W. Beaumont, at Monongahela. Death followed an apoplectic stroke. Mrs. Wallis was 78 years old.

John P. Kessler, one of the old and well-known residents of Dubois, died yesterday. He was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting from Jefferson county in Company C, Two Hundred and Eleventh Pennsylvania volunteers.

Thomas B. Ross is dead at his home in Waynesburg. He lived in Uniontown a number of years and was in the meat business in the East End, Pittsburgh, for eight years, moving to Waynesburg in April of this year.

Lawrence Wilhelm, 88 years old, died at the residence of his daughter in Cable avenue, East Pittsburgh, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wilhelm had been in this country but one year, removing to Pittsburgh from France in order to die at the house of his daughter, who is his only child. Death was due to old age.

Word was received last night of the death in Indiana, yesterday morning, of C. S. Oliver of Washington, Pa., from heart trouble, aged 74. Mr. Oliver was visiting a daughter. His wife died in 1900 and the following children survive: S. and W. R. of Washington, and Mrs. Annie L. Kittle of Indiana, Pa.

PERSONALS

George Tunkle of Augusta, Ga., spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business. Speaking of the south, he said he was greatly interested in the negro problem. He contends that the privileges of the colored people are restricted far more than the northern people imagine. At the primaries the white people name the candidates, consequently they control the political situation, and the only privilege the negro has is to vote for the men chosen.

Jacob DeHaas of New York, a delegate to the Zionists' convention, before leaving for home last night, had this to say: "The convention was the best ever held by the organization. The recent massacres brought much more interest in the motives of the association than any other subject considered. It is evident the Zionists will increase in membership and will soon be a powerful organization, having for its purpose the elevation of the Jewish people."

William C. Loree, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and a party, including Mrs. L. F. Loree, wife of the president of the company, left last night in the president's private car for Baltimore.

Most of the delegates to the sixth annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists, which closed its sessions on Tuesday, left for their respective homes yesterday morning. Secretary Jacob DeHaas will remain in the city for a few days, looking after the business of the federation.

A carload of Italians left over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last night for Charleston, W. Va., where they will be engaged in railroad construction.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

The nearby residents registered at the local hotels last night were as follows:

REGISTER OF THE U. S. TREASURY USES PE-RU-NA FOR SUMMER CATARRH.

Summer Catarrh Afflicts Men and Women.

Hon. Judson W. Lyons.

HON. JUDSON W. LYONS, Register of the United States treasury, in a letter from Washington, D. C., says:

"I find Peruna to be an excellent remedy for the catarrhal affections of spring and summer, and those who suffer from depression from the heat of the summer will find no remedy the equal of Peruna."—Judson W. Lyons.

No man is better known in the financial world than Judson W. Lyons, formerly of Augusta, Ga. His name on every piece of money of recent date makes his signature one of the most familiar ones in the United States.

Two Interesting Letters From Thankful Women.

Miss Camilla Chartier, 5 West Lexington St., Baltimore, Md., writes:

"Late suppers gradually affected my digestion and made me a miserable dyspepsie, suffering intensely at times. I took several kinds of medicines which were prescribed by different physicians, but still continued to suffer. But the trial of one bottle of Peruna convinced me that it would rid me of this trouble, so I continued taking it for several weeks and I was in excellent health, having gained ten pounds."—Miss Camilla Chartier.

Summer Catarrh.

Mrs. Kate Bohn, 119 Willoughby Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"When I wrote you I was troubled with frequent headaches, dizzy, strange feeling in the head, sleeplessness, sinking feelings, faintness and numbness. Sometimes I had heartburn. My food would rise to my throat after every meal, and my bowels were very irregular.

"I wrote you for advice, and I now take pleasure in informing you that my improvement is very great indeed. I did not expect to improve so quickly after suffering for five long years. I am feeling very good and strong. I thank you so much for Peruna. I shall recommend it to all suffering with the effects of catarrh, and I consider it a household blessing. I shall never be without Peruna."

For those phases of catarrh peculiar to summer, Peruna will be found efficacious.

Peruna cures catarrh in all phases and stages.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Anti-Moore Faction May Call a Meeting of Citizens Ward Committee.

AGAINST CHAIRMAN'S WISH

Thirteenth Ward Citizens Organization Elects Officers and Cautions School Directors—Third Ward Indorses Supt McTighe's Vice Crusade.

The contest for the control of the Citizens party's organization of the Fourteenth ward will probably be fought out tonight. The adherents of W. J. Moore, the former chairman of the ward committee, have been informed that the anti-Moore forces contemplate calling a meeting for tonight over the chairman's head and in defiance of his refusal. It is a question whether members of the committee have a right, according to the party rules, thus to usurp the chairman's prerogatives, but as they depend upon Thomas S. Bigelow to see them through, it is probable that a number will send out a call for a meeting.

Following the meeting of the Fifth legislative district convention on Tuesday night, Moore was surrounded by a half dozen members of the ward committee of the Fourteenth ward and a paper was presented to him. It was a request to call a meeting of the ward committee for tonight for the purpose of organizing the committee. Moore took the paper, read it over and then said he would think about it. He has not yet informed the petitioners what he will do, but they have concluded that he will not accede to their request and it is understood that they themselves will issue the call.

MANY MEMBERS SIGNED.

It is claimed by the anti-Moore partisans that the paper handed to Moore was signed by 19, a majority of the ward committeemen who were present at the first meeting of the committee when an effort was made to elect a chairman, the meeting breaking up in disorder. In addition to these 19, 12 of the delegates contested by the Moore faction also signed the paper.

The anti-Moore faction asserts that Moore is in duty bound to call the meeting, when requested so to do by a majority of the uncontested delegates, and that, as he has failed to do so, a call sent out by a majority of the uncontested delegates will have the same force and effect as a call made by the chairman, and that if a meeting thus called be held tonight any action it may take will be sustained by the city committee of the Citizens party.

Moore adherents, who were seen yesterday, refused to say what action they would take in case the anti-Moore people issue a call for a meeting, but it is believed that they will not attend.

QUESTION OF LEGALITY.

There is a question whether Moore has a right to call a meeting of the ward committee, even if he desired to do so. It is believed by some that his term expired when the term of the old committee ran out, and that the request to call a meeting should have been given to W. H. Stevenson, who temporarily acted as chairman at the first meeting of the new committee. Mr. Stevenson, however, contends that Moore is still chairman and will serve until his successor has been elected.

The Citizens county committee will organize tomorrow. After the organization has been effected Thomas S. Bigelow and other leaders will hold a conference to discuss a program of fusion with the Democrats.

The new Republican county committee will meet for organization on Saturday. Thomas J. Ford of Etna will be elected chairman, Charles A. Muehlbronner will be secretary and L. Davis will be vice chairman and D. L. Gillespie treasurer. Mr. Muehlbronner said yesterday that he thought every district in the county ought to be well organized. The campaign, he thought, would open in September.

IN THE THIRTEENTH WARD.

The Citizens party organization of the Thirteenth ward held a meeting last night in the Rose street school house and organized. The meetings was well attended and the slated candidates for ward offices were elected. The meeting was called to order by Joseph L. McDonough. George F. Pitts acted as temporary secretary. Joseph W. Irwin was nominated and elected chairman, Frank Gayda vice chairman and Jacob Stadelman treasurer. There were three nominations for secretary, Louis N. Stewart, John Sullivan and C. D. Shelton, colored. Stewart was elected, Sullivan receiving five votes and Shelton one.

Charles Schempp presented a resolution that it was the sense of the meeting that the three school directors elected on the Citizens Democratic ticket uphold in the election of school principal the platform on which they were elected. A committee of three was appointed to convey the resolution to the directors referred to. It was afterward explained that resolution was intended to "stiffen up" a member of the board whom the Citizens suspect of leanings to the Republicans. Prof. John Golden is principal of the schools, and it is claimed that the Citizens party has selected no one to run against him. The board was in session at the Minersville school and President William Floyd told the committee to present the resolution in June, 1904, when Prof. Golden's term will expire.

The Citizens party's ward committee of the Twentieth ward will meet tonight to organize.

MANY CHANGES MADE.

An analysis of the personnel of the old county committee of the Citizens party and that of the new one shows a great number of changes. Of the men who served on the old committee only seven are on the new committee. They are Mayor William B. Hays, L. S. Levin, A. W. Stewart, James J. Booth, Thomas S. Bigelow, Charles B. Crawford and U. M. Beck. All the rest of the members of the new committee are men who did not serve on the previous one.

The Citizens of the Third ward completed their ward organization at a meeting in Mumford hall last night by the election of John Hedderick chairman, William Miller vice chairman, Frank Hopper secretary and S. Gigliotti treasurer. John Schlegel was elected the representative to the city committee, and a resolution was adopted indorsing the determination of Superintendent McTigh "to purge the ward of the element that by corrupt methods has controlled the politics of the ward."

MUST SERVE HIS TIME OR PAY FINE AND COSTS

Superintendent of Police John P. McTighe will oppose any move to secure the release of William Richardson, alias "Pansey" Richardson, who was sent to the workhouse by Police Magistrate T. D. Stewart for four months on Tuesday for attempting to assault the police officials while he was testifying against him. Richardson has secured the services of Attorney L. P. Cook, who will go into court this morning with a writ of habeas corpus and ask for a special hearing in Richardson's case. Attorney Cook says the sentence was extreme considering the charges made against Richardson. It is expected that the court will set a hearing in the case Saturday, and Richardson will have to remain in the workhouse until that time. Supt. McTighe says he will contest the case in court.

"Richardson was sentenced for four months at a regular hearing before a police magistrate," said Supt. McTighe, yesterday afternoon. "I do not intend that he shall get his liberty until his sentence has expired or he has paid the fine and costs which amount to $100. Richardson has always been a keeper of speakeasies or gambling houses and to my knowledge has never been engaged in a legitimate business. Such men are dangerous to the commonwealth and should be punished."

LARKIN'S FIGHT COST $10,000

Controller Issues Warrant to Pay Interest on Estimates for Construction of New Reservior.

RESULT OF CONTEST IN COURT

Amount Accumulated from Time Payment Was Refused—Mercantile Trust Company Now Paid in Full—Surveillance at Central Station Abolished.

Controller John B. Larkin's fight against the Mercantile Trust Company over the new Highland reservoir cost the city $10,000. The controller yesterday issued a warrant for this amount to the trust company for interest on estimates for the construction of the reservoir which he held up and which resulted in long drawn-out litigation in the courts.

The estimates were filed monthly by the trust company as the work progressed and became due when they were approved by the director of public works. Director J. Guy McCandless approved the estimates as fast as they were presented and sent them to the controller to issue a warrant for their payment.

While the controller was fighting the trust company in the courts the interest on the unpaid estimates was piling up, and when the controller was forced by the court's decree to pay the estimates it was found that the interest on them amounted to a goodly sum.

The estimates were all paid a few days ago, excepting 5 per cent which, under the contract, is held back until a year has elapsed from the acceptance of the reservoir. The year will expire by next November.

Controller Larkin no longer keeps a surveillance over the Central police station to see that fines are paid and none remitted without a second hearing. The controller said yesterday that he did not think that there was anything wrong now at the Central police station. The large proceeds resulting from the numerous raids swelled the fines at Central police station for the first couple of months of the new administration, but these raids have stopped, and when the receipts become normal again the controller may change his mind.

WILKINSBURG IS NOW ENFORCING BLUE LAWS

Druggists Retaliate by Prosecuting Detectives Who Secured Evidence on Sunday.

W. L. Smith, C. S. Covel, J. C. Pauly and W. S. Stout, and six clerks employed in their stores, were given a hearing before Burgess John A. Keys of Wilkinsburg yesterday, charged with violating the blue law by selling last Sunday. Information was also made against C. S. Berlin, but he was out of town. The charges were made by W. A. Minteer of the citizens committee and the defendants had J. A. Langfitt as their attorney. Of the 11 defendants, all except two had, previous to the hearing, gone before an alderman in town and plead guilty and paid a fine, and they could not be fined a second time for the same offense. The two who did not go before a city alderman were colored men employed by W. L. Smith, and the decisions against them were reserved until Friday.

The committee had secured the services of Detectives L. C. Brown and Harry Diehl, who gathered the evidence against the druggists last Sunday and appeared against them. As soon as the hearing was over summons were served on the detectives by Constable Harry Livingston of Justice J. J. Walker's office of Wilkinsburg, where W. L. Smith had made information against them for violating the blue law by working last Sunday, securing the evidence against the druggists. They were placed under $100 bail and will have a hearing this evening.

The druggists are determined to fight against the closing of their stores as long as other business is being done in the borough on Sunday. There has been some talk among the druggists of making information against the members of church choirs who receive a salary for singing, and also against the Pennsylvania railroad employes, an ice and a brick firm who do work in the borough on Sundays, if they are to be continuously prosecuted for selling on Sunday.

POLICE MUST KEEP THE STREETS CLEAN

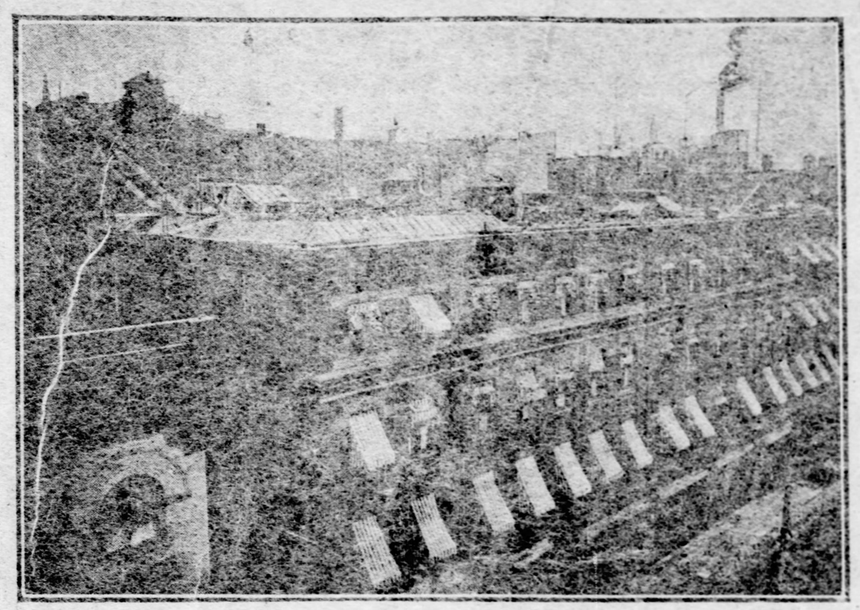
Director Harry Moore sent a communication to Superintendent of Police J. P. McTighe yesterday stating that "the careless throwing of waste paper upon the streets of Pittsburgh has become a nuisance and must be stopped." The director has called the attention of the police superintendent to the fact that an ordinance fixes a fine for the throwing of refuse and paper in public highways, and he asks the superintendent to instruct his inspectors to have the practice stopped.



Doing Preliminary Work on the Two-Story Addition to Be Put on the Five-Story Hotel Victoria.

LARGE BUILDINGS ARE BEING ERECTED

Bricklayers Still Working on the More Important Structures.

The action of the Builders' league and the Master Builders' association in stopping all construction work in and about Pittsburgh on account of the trouble between the bricklayers and stone masons has thrown out of employment about 8,000 men. Besides the bricklayers and stone masons, nine other crafts are affected.

According to the statement given out at the bricklayers' headquarters no more than 25 per cent of the work in Pittsburgh has so far been affected. Of this 10 per cent has been thrown idle because other crafts cannot work until the bricklayers raise the buildings.

The bricklayers claim 25 per cent of their men are at work in Pittsburgh and surrounding towns; 50 per cent have left for other cities and of the other 25 per cent, 40 per cent are working at other craft, many at steamfitting.

The stone masons admit that all their men are idle where any brick needs to be laid.

It was reported that work on the Victoria hotel had been stopped. This is an error. The bricklayers were all at work yesterday, and Contractor McCain claims that the work will be pushed to rapid completion. Another report was circulated yesterday that men were at work on the Bessemer building. This was untrue.

None of the large buildings in the city has as yet been affected by the action of the Master Builders' association. The new Cathedral is having its masonry done by B. M. Hunt, work is being done on the Mercy hospital addition, the Oliver building, in Wood street, and the Nixon theater, in Sixth avenue.

Work is progressing on the church, Sixth and Wood, but the bricklayers claim they will not put a brick into the building, because the independent stone masons are laying the stone.

It was reported that the plasterers were called out, but James Culp, business agent, said last night that every plasterer in the city is at work, and more could be employed could they be secured.

NEW TRUST COMPANY TO APPLY FOR A CHARTER

Real Estate Firm of L. A. Clark & Company Will Be the Nucleus of Concern.

The latest of the many trust companies to be announced this year is the Northern Trust Company, which will apply for a charter today. Its capital will be $150,000, divided into shares of $100 each. Although the proposition to form the company has been open only a week, the stock is already considerably oversubscribed, and there is a prospect of the capital being increased.

The nucleus of the new company is the real estate firm of L. A. Clark & Co., located at No. 409 Fourth avenue, where the Northern will have its offices. Mr. Clark has been actively engaged in the real estate business in Pittsburgh for over 14 years and has been identified with some of the largest transactions of this period. He will be president of the new company. With him will be associated Theodore W. Nevin, president of the Pittsburgh Leader, who will serve as vice president; H. E. Anderson, who will be secretary and treasurer, and George R. Wallace, who will look after the legal affairs of the company. A number of other prominent Pittsburghers are interested in the company.

Although the company will do a general trust company business, it will make a specialty of handling city real estate. A large force of experienced salesmen have been engaged and a first-class mortgage and insurance department will be features of the business. The company will remodel the office of L. A. Clark & Co. at an expense of about $5,000 and open for business as soon as it receives its charter.

THIS PARROT COULD SPEAK PLAINLY AND MADE ITS WANTS KNOWN PROMPTLY

"For God's sake, let me out!"

It was a shrill scream of agony that rang from a cigar store at Frankstown avenue and Station street that caused people in the neighborhood to pause and investigate the trouble. It was their opinion that some person was in trouble, and when the wailing voice repeated the words again and again, all concluded that murder was being committed in a dark corner of the building.

"For God's sake, let me out!"

Those who heard the terror in the voice were chilled to the bone and did not hesitate to lend their aid. They rushed into the place and found—not a human being in distress, but in a cage was a gaunt green parrot, crying for liberty. The Western Pennsylvania Humane society investigated the case, and the outcome of it is that Agent H. S. Shaw yesterday made information before Alderman William A. Means charging William Metchan, proprietor of the store, with cruelty to animals. It is said that Metchan went to New York, leaving the parrot in its cage with only one day's supply of food and water. Polly lost no time in making her predicament known and was rescued before she had missed many meals.

MEMORIAL DAY SCORES EIGHT LOCKJAW CASES

Another Victim of the Fatal Toy Pistol Dies After Days of Suffering.

Still another case of lockjaw, the eighth during the present month, was reported to the coroner yesterday afternoon. The victim was Joseph Nico, a Pole, 17 years old, of Heidelberg, who in discharging a toy pistol accidentally shot himself in the hand on Memorial day.

Although seemingly trivial, the wound grew worse as the days passed, until young Nico was obliged to take to his bed. A few days ago lockjaw developed and he died at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

The other victims in the long list of Memorial day accidents were Bert Shakespeare, 10 years old, of Millvale; Fred McGiningle, 11 years old, of No. 5416 Carnegie street; Richard Sloan, 8 years old, of Carnegie; Adam Seifert, 11 years old, of Braddock; Wilbert Armstrong, 9 years old, of No. 7331 Finance street; Ruben Lewis, 13 years old, of No. 3126 Liberty avenue, and M. A. Carmody, 7 years old, of No. 248 Forty-fourth street. Carmody died last Monday.

Almost all of the accidents were caused by the premature snapping of the pistol triggers and the explosion of blank cartridges, blood poison and tetanus developing from the powder burns.

Deputy Coroner Frank Bovan is making an investigation into the circumstances preceding Nico's death, and it is probable that the present epidemic will lead to the adoption of an ordinance regulating the use of toy pistols in the future.

Y. P. C. U. CONVENTION.

Interesting Exercises in the North Braddock United Brethren Church.

The Young People's Christian union of the Allegheny conference of the United Brethren church began its 14th annual convention yesterday afternoon in the North Braddock United Brethren church, the Rev. A. B. Wilson pastor. There are 44 societies in the district, and every society was represented at roll call.

Dr. G. W. Miller of Greensburg presided; the address of welcome was made by Miss Alice Cole of North Braddock, and the response by the Rev. J. W. Cowling of Scottdale. Dr. G. W. Miller made an address on "Retrospect and Prospect." Miss Susan Greenawalt of West Newton talked on "How to Make a Country Society a Success," and Miss Effie Hancock of Wilkinsburg on "Aiming at Their Best." Mrs. Anna Wharton of Braddock talked on "Is Junior Work Thoroughly Organized in Our Conference?" "The Place of Intermediate Work in the Conference" was discussed by the Rev. L. P. Trimal.

In the evening the addresses were by Miss Oda Updegrave of Sewickley and the Rev. J. A. Eby of McKeesport. There will be three sessions today. Several hundred delegates are in attendance.

STRIKING MATCH ON HIS TROUSERS WAS FATAL

Ignited His Clothing and Burns Caused Death—Blind Street Musician Expired.

Donald McDonald, who was burned early yesterday morning in the watch house of the Fort Wayne railroad at Marion avenue, Allegheny, died at the Allegheny General hospital yesterday afternoon of his injuries. He was 65 years old and married. McDonald's clothing had been saturated with gasoline. He struck a match on the side of his trousers and his clothing caught fire, burning him badly.

William T. Shields, aged 30, a blind musician of Camp hill, Carnegie, was found dead in a field near his home yesterday afternoon. He is said to have been drinking heavily lately, and his death probably was due to the alcoholism. Deputy Coroner Frank Buran was sent to investigate the case. Shields was well known in the city, as he often played on the street corners.

John Kuntz, a coal miner of Greentree borough was found dead in Cox's mine there on Tuesday afternoon and at the time it was thought he had been burned to death. An investigation developed that he died of heart disease. His clothing and body were badly burned due to his pit lamp getting fire to his clothes when he fell. He was a married man 63 years old.

Joseph Marvobitch was killed by a fall of slate yesterday in a mine at Scott Haven. He was married and 40 years old.

Want Saloons Closed Early.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 10.—(Special.)—The Builders' exchange, which is composed of all the leading contractors here, have taken up the fight against a 12 o'clock saloon closing ordinance. At a meeting held last night a resolution was unanimously adopted that the old 10 o'clock ordinance should hold in force.

GOODS WERE STOLEN BY WAGONLOAD AND SOLD

J. A. Williams Had a Clerk and an Alleged Accomplice Arrested—Louis Samuels Confessed—Took $2,000 Worth in Seven Weeks.

Thomas Lilfander and Louis Samuels were arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective George W. Cole on a charge of having robbed J. A. Williams of No. 1405 Fifth avenue of about $2,000 worth of tin and granite ware. It is alleged the stealing was done on the wholesale plan, tin pails, copper kettles and other utensils being taken a wagon load at a time.

The goods were taken from Williams' warehouse in Ann street. Williams is a wholesale dealer in tin and queensware. Samuels worked for him as a clerk until 10 days ago. Lilfander is a grocer, and has a stable in the rear of his store. The detectives found a great quantity of goods stored there which Williams identified yesterday as his property, and which he estimated to be worth $1,000.

The discovery of the theft of the goods came about through a customer telling Williams a few days ago that Samuels offered to sell him a lot of goods for about half what he knew them to be worth. Samuels took him to Lilfander's stable and showed him the goods, which he offered to sell for $500 and finally reduced the price to $225.

The customer was suspicious and refused to buy, and later told Williams. When he described the goods Williams knew that he alone handled a part of it, and when he went to look over his stock he discovered hundreds of dozens of tin and granite pans, pots and kettles had been taken, as well as lamp burners, hose and other house furnishings.

Williams reported the matter to Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide, who found Samuels at his boarding house. He confessed to taking the stuff and said that he and Lilfander had hauled wagon loads of goods out of Williams' stock room in Lilfander's delivery wagon, and that they had been doing so for seven weeks. He told also the names of half a dozen retail dealers in the city and suburbs to whom they had sold more or less for about half the wholesale price.

Both men were locked up and Williams will make information against them today. Samuels lives at 1907 Wylie avenue and Lilfander's place of business is at No. 2209 Fifth avenue.

GIRL MORE WONDERFUL THAN HELEN KELLER

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—Kate McGirr, the blind deaf mute student of the New York Institute for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, who delivered the salutatory address at the commencement exercises of the institute on Tuesday, and who, her instructors declare, is more wonderful in some directions than Helen Keller, told her story today to several persons who had become interested in her on hearing her address at the commencement.

Miss McGirr herself looks upon her own history as a miraculous one. She was a victim of the great blizzard of 1888. When she was a tiny child she was found almost buried in the snow of the blizzard piled high in a street of the lower East Side. Whether her faculties were normal before that is not absolutely known, but when she was picked up she was found to be absolutely blind, deaf and dumb. In February, 1896, she was once more found wandering in the streets, cold and confused, having roamed away from a home to which her afflictions had not endeared her. The police took her in hand and she went first from one institution to another.

She wishes to continue her studies now to take the post-graduate course of the school and afterwards she hopes to be a student of the deaf and dumb college at Washington.

BIGELOW WANTS TO GIVE AIR-SHIP EXHIBITION

WATSON HELD IN $30,000 BAIL

HE WAIVES AN EXAMINATION

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

A. M. A. Watson, Jr., clerk in the office of the auditor of the District of Columbia, who is accused of embezzling $75,000 of funds of the district, was arraigned for a hearing today in the police court. A preliminary hearing was waived and Watson was held in $30,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

The specific charge against Watson, as set forth in the warrant, was the defalcation of $8,000 from the district government. When asked to plead the defendant answered in trembling voice, "Not guilty," and Attorney Stewart McNamara, who has been retained as Watson's counsel, announced that he wished to waive a preliminary examination.

The United States government took a hand today in the scandal of the auditor's office caused by the alleged defalcation of Watson. It was feared at the treasury department when the amount of Watson's alleged thieving was learned that money belonging to the United States might be involved, and the auditor of the treasury directed that a thorough investigation of the accounts of the district auditor be made. Accordingly, T. A. Hodgson, clerk in the office of the auditor for the treasury, appeared at the district building this morning and requested access to the books of Auditor Petty. Mr. Hodgson was joined later in the forenoon by another treasury expert, and the two were busy through the day examining the accounts and checking them with the entries in the treasury books.

One of the phases of the case which the commissioners are investigating today is the connection of W. R. Lapham, an inspector in the engineer department, with Watson, and with the various enterprises launched and run by him. Lapham is the official who checked up the accounts kept by Watson with regard to the moneys deposited by plumbers and others to cover damage to streets in making cuts in the pavements.

The only significance in Lapham's connection with Watson's accounts is his close business relationship with the latter. In the last directory "Watson & Lapham" appear as the proprietors of the little daily publication known as the News. It is stated that Lapham was also connected with Watson's barber shop and his patent medicine factory.

It is known that he was identified with the District Co-operative association, organized by Watson, and it is said the two were partners at one time in both a broker's office and a race tip concern.

BIG STRIKE CAUSED BY POLITICAL FIGHT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., June 10.—At 9 o'clock this morning every employe at the Chesapeake & Ohio railway shop in this city, 1,500 men, went on strike. Even the office force quit work.

The strike was caused by the recent action of the Huntington city council in taking away from Mayor Charles M. Buck practically all his power, and especially the power which enabled him to name the standing committees for his term of office. One of the members of the council who voted to take this power away from Mayor Buck was William A. Davis, foreman of the passenger truck department at the Chesapeake & Ohio shops, and as Mayor Buck was a member of a labor organization the same as Davis it was thought that Davis was unfriendly to the union, and he was suspended by a local labor union pending an investigation. He continued his labors at the shops, however, which was contrary to the wishes of the other employes about the institution.

Davis was waited upon by a committee. He informed the members that he was subject to orders from the office, that he had been employed by the Chesapeake & Ohio, and that he would not cease his labors until the company notified him. The committee met again at 8 o'clock this morning and decided to order a strike.

The tract embraces the home farms of the late Philip Barnitz, 50 acres, and the John Rolf farm, both being adjoining possessions of the Jamison Coal and Coke Company and the Keystone Coal and Coke Company.

FACTIONAL FIGHTING TEARS UP DEMOCRACY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., June 10.—So closely have the lines been drawn between Doty and the Keenan factions in the fight for control of the county organization that both will have watchers at the pools in all the precincts at the Democratic primaries Saturday to see that no illegal votes are cast. County committeemen will be elected in every precinct, and the control of the county organization will be determined by Saturday's result.

The Pennsylvania Argus today charges the Keenan faction with devoting the announcement fees of the candidates for poor directors and jury commissioner for use in soliciting votes in the rural districts. The Westmoreland Democrat, which has always supported the organization, comes out in a fiery editorial today and denounced Capt. John B. Keenan and his followers as follows:

"Whether the Greensburg boss, who has dominated and wrecked the party for years, or the 10,000 voters comprising the file and rank of Westmoreland's democracy, shall control the county organization is the question to be determined at the primary election next Saturday. The corpse is a burned, however, by every loyal Democrat with the welfare of the party at heart, is too plain to need any suggestion here. The defeats and disasters brought to the party will eloquently for the voters to come to the rescue now, and the recent outrage perpetrated by the state committee is in itself sufficient cause for every voter to turn out and resent the insult by electing county committeemen who will stand for the principles and practice of fair play and majority rule. This can be easily accomplished by every voter doing his plain duty."

No candidates have announced for district attorney, prothonotary or clerk of courts, and they will be chosen at the meeting of the return judges next Tuesday.

CHILDREN ARE FORCED TO SLEEP IN KENNEL

Willie Washington's Death Was Charged Against His Father and Aunt.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, PA., June 10.—The inquest into the death of Willie Washington, the 6-year-old colored boy who died at Sharpsville several days ago, was held this afternoon by Deputy Coroner T. O. Hazen. The following verdict was rendered:

A number of witnesses were called, but interest centered on the testimony of Mrs. Charlotta Washington, stepmother of the dead boy, and of James Washington, aged 7 years, who is in the hospital on account of injuries received. Mrs. Washington said that Cora Bolan, who is now in jail, burned the two little fellows with hot irons, sat Willie on a red-hot stove, beat them with a club, and made them sleep in a kennel with 11 dogs. She said she was afraid to tell the authorities of the cruel treatment the boys were subjected to as her husband frequently beat her and had threatened to kill her.

Washington and his sister-in-law are now in the Mercer jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

PUNXSUTAWNEY WILL CELEBRATE ON FOURTH

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—It was decided today that Punxsutawney is to have a big Fourth of July celebration. A committee has been appointed to interview the business men, and enough money has been secured to insure a big day. The events will take place in the grounds of the Punxsutawney Driving Park association and the program will consist of all kinds of races and field contests, together with a mammoth parade. Fireworks will be the feature of the evening.

STAATS VERBAND MEETING CLOSES

WILKESBARRE, June 10.—The annual convention of the Staats Verband, German Catholic societies of Pennsylvania, which has been in session here for three days, came to an end with a short business session this morning. The balance of the day was taken up with a parade. The following executive committee was appointed: Andrew Stock, Pittsburgh; Christian Dilly, Pottsville; Sebastian Helm, Philadelphia; Jacob Schappert, Wilkesbarre.

John Mitchell Will Preside.

SCRANTON, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—President John Mitchell will preside at the general convention of miners, which meets in this city next Monday. It is now understood that instead of electing District Presidents Nicholls, Fay and Dettrey as the members to represent the miners on the board of conciliation their appointment by the executive committee will be indorsed by the convention.

Davis Tells His Name.

TORCHLIGHT PARADE IS FEATURE OF EVENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LANCASTER, June 10.—The exercises in celebration of the semi-centennial of Franklin and Marshall college were continued today with reunions of alumni and the literary societies, a reception to lady visitors by the Iris club, athletic games on Williamson field, and tonight a mass meeting in Fulton opera house and a torchlight procession of alumni, followed by fireworks and band concerts on the college campus.

Tonight's torchlight parade, with the incidental ceremonies, was the chief feature of the jubilee. Over 1,000 men were in line, including several members of the class of '53, and representatives of almost every subsequent class, besides alumni of the old Marshall college and Franklin college. In a carriage with George F. Baer, president of the board of trustees, sat the venerable Dr. F. A. Rupley of Martinsburg, Pa., the oldest alumnus of Marshall college, which went out of existence half a century ago.

At this morning's session of the board of trustees plans were devised for raising $150,000 during the next year to increase the permanent endowment of the college.

VERDICT EXPECTED TODAY.

George Merkel's Fate Is Now in Hands of Jury at New Castle.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—A verdict in the case of George Merkel, on trial here for the murder of John Genkinger, is expected tomorrow. Arguments by counsel consumed the entire afternoon and Judge Wallace charged the jury when court convened for this night session.

The morning session was consumed by the defense in concluding and with rebuttal evidence by the commonwealth.

Sheriff James H. Brown and Chief of Police Horner both swore today that shortly after his arrest Merkel admitted to them that he had taken his revolver from a satchel after Genkinger entered Mrs. Rumbold's apartments.

COMMENCEMENT PLANS FOR WESTMINISTER

CLAIMS COL. AMMON SECURED $180,000

Miller Testifies That the Colonel Was Paid to Bribe Trial Jury.

WITNESS WAS VERY TIMID

Former Head of the Franklin Syndicate is Shielded in Court from the Gaze of the Accused Attorney and Recounts His "Business" Operations.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 10.

Coughing and timid, William F. Miller told today in part II., general sessions, Col. Ammon's connection with the Franklin syndicate, and how he had altogether given Ammon, who was his attorney, about $180,000 in securities and cash, a part of which was to be used in bribing the jury that should try Miller. The testimony of the weakened man was not convincing and certainly not sensational.

It looked as though his attorney attempted to shield him from the steady gaze of Ammon for fear of hypnotism. Miller spoke in a low tone, so low, in fact, that the court stenographer had to repeat to the jury almost everything that the witness said. Once he completely broke down with a fit of coughing and again he showed much emotion when referring to his wife and child.

One thing not before brought out was that Ammon became connected with the syndicate about 10 days before it collapsed. It was then that things began to look gloomy and hundreds of people hourly crowded the headquarters of the company in Floyd street.

Describing his trip to Canada, Miller said: "I left Ammon's office with the man he sent with me in the evening of November 24, 1899. The man took me to Newark where tickets were purchased for Pittsburgh, which we reached the next morning. Next we went to Cleveland, and then to Detroit. We stayed in Detroit three hours, then continued on to Montreal, arriving there Sunday night, November 28. The man took me to see a member of the law firm of Greenshields & Greenshields, and he left me the next day.

"When I left Ammon's office I had only $200 with me, but he promised to keep me supplied. Ammon said he would send $15,000 for me to draw on, but he sent only $5,000. I stayed in Montreal until February 4, and was not arrested there, but returned voluntarily."

"How much did you have when you returned from Montreal?"

"Something like 75 cents."

Miller identified a cash book he had kept. It showed that every day there was received by the "syndicate" double and treble the amount paid out. For the week ending October 20, 1899, the book showed that $17,723 had been paid out and $78,340 received. On November 5, 1899, there was received $45,923 and only $5,612 was paid out. The last entry in the book was made on November 16, 1899, and showed receipts of $59,807 and expenditures of $14,659.

"Why were no entries made after November 16?" asked Assistant District Attorney Nott.

"The newspapers began attacking us and the outlook was dubious," said Miller.

Then Col. Ammon was brought into the case for the first time, Mr. Nott asking: "Now, Mr. Miller, when did you first meet the defendant?"

"In October, 1899, shortly before we opened the Boston office of the syndicate. I gave Ammon an idea of what business I was in and said the officials were after me because we didn't have a broker's tax license. I showed Ammon some of the circulars we sent out. He said that the best thing was to incorporate. He said that they had made a mistake, however, in not making the customers the stockholders instead of themselves. I gave Ammon $100 as a retainer."

Just before recess Miller told of having held daily conferences with Ammon for a week before the collapse of the Franklin syndicate on November 24, 1899.

"What was the purpose of these conferences?" asked the prosecutor.

"Well," said Miller, without the slightest suspicion of a smile, "we wanted to see how we could keep out of trouble and keep the money, too."

Miller will be cross-examined tomorrow.

STRAP-HANGERS ARE GETTING IN LINE

Turtle Creek Valley Trolley Patrons Join the Crusaders 1,000 Strong.

SOUTH SIDERS ARE HAPPY

Abundant Evidence That the Pittsburgh Railways Company Has Been Forced to Recognize the Wants of the People.

An aggressive campaign for better traction service in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the surrounding suburbs soon will be undertaken. At a meeting of the executive committee of the Strap-hangers' league, which will be held at the headquarters in the Schmidt building at noon on Saturday, final plans for the work will be taken up. Within a week all arrangements will be made to force the issue and make the street railways company meet the demands for better accommodations.

The number of signers to the Strap-hangers' petitions during the last week has been greater than at any time since its organization. Now that a charter has been secured the work which had been planned will go on without delay. Hundreds of street car patrons are thronging the headquarters, and from all the branch agencies favorable reports are being received. Additional branch offices will be established and the work of the league will be taken up systematically.

The Turtle Creek valley, which furnished the nucleus for the strap-hangers' organization, again has come to the front, and will be first in line when the traction company will be formally asked to improve its service. S. C. Foreman of No. 1006 Center street, Wilkinsburg, yesterday called at the headquarters and asked for 1,000 Strap-hanger buttons, and promised that number of new members before the end of the week.

RIDERS TO BE ORGANIZED.

Mr. Foreman represents the great army of street car patrons in the Westinghouse shops and will effectively organize the men into a staunch union which the Pittsburgh Railways Company will not dare to oppose. The Westinghouse employes were the first to make a stand against the abominable accommodations which had been given them after the Mellons retired from the control of the Monongahela Traction Company.

The women employes in the Westinghouse offices first asked Superintendent John Murphy to give them a separate car in order that they might ride to their homes with some semblance of comfort and decency, but the official did not consent even to recognize their right to communicate with him, and no answer was received to their letter. Later the men who travel to Wilmerding and Pitcairn objected to the service which was extended for their nickels. The company tried its old system of ignoring their pleas. The patrons remonstrated and very soon got what they wanted as soon as Murphy discovered that they were in earnest.

South Siders are jubilant over their success in gaining an important victory over the Pittsburgh Railways Company. A South Side strap-hanger yesterday said:

SOUTH SIDERS FOUGHT LONG.

"For two years South Side street car patrons have urged that the adoption of 'trailers' would obviate much of our discomfort. The traction people, however, turned deaf ears to our suggestion. When The Gazette began its fight the company consented to clean its cars about once a week, but beyond this nothing was done. When the South Side branches of the Strap-hangers league showed an amazing increase in membership the street railways people decided to do something, and they put on 'trailers' during the busy hours.

"The result has been that bumper riders are no longer seen and most of the passengers are comfortable. This is the greatest victory the people have won from the traction company and indicates the success that will attend their efforts when the residents of other sections go into the work with a determination to win."

"THE FRIEND OF THE FAMILY"

Commencement Season Has Fairly Begun

The closing exercises of the Kindergarten college were conducted yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the lecture room of the Carnegie institute. The lecture room was filled with the students of the college, the kindergarten directors and their friends. Tall palms were massed at each side of the low platform and upon the table where lay the certificates was a large bowl filled with yellow and white marguerites. Upon the platform were seated Miss Sarah H. Killikelly, first vice president of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association, who presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. William A. Herron; Miss Elizabeth Culp, the principal of the Kindergarten college, and the Rev. J. L. McIlvaine, D. D., rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, East End. The exercises were opened with kindergarten songs sung by the students, who were seated at the left of the platform. In his address Dr. McIlvaine contrasted the old and the new methods of education. In former years scholarship was thought to be the only requisite for teaching. Now there must be method and special training to bring out whatever faculties the candidate may possess before she is qualified to teach.

The certificates for the students who have completed each of the three years' course of study at the college were presented by Miss Killikelly. The members of the senior class, the graduates of the two years' course, include Miss Alma Mabel Anthony, Miss Lillie Barbara Bodoe, Miss Mary Agnes Beber, Miss Deborah G. Brown, Miss Sara Patterson Fowler, Miss Alissoura Hagie Galbraith, Mrs. Frances Theresa Gilliland, Miss Marion Bryant Haymaker, Miss Susan May Hunnewright, Miss Carolyn Houser, Miss Anna E. Jones, Miss Bessie Brooks, Miller, Miss Helen Patterson, Miss Leontine C. Steenson and Miss Jessie Stoltzfer.

The post-graduates who received certificates for the completion of a third year of study are Miss Edith M. Barnhart, Miss Christine Cameron, Miss C. Edna Hemphill, Miss Margaret Frances Irwin, Mrs. Hermine Johnson, Miss E. Gertrude Logan, Miss Estelle B. Luty, Miss Frances J. McGough, Miss Mary C. Moore and Miss Elizabeth Rankin.

The members of the junior class who have completed one year of study at the college received certificates yesterday for the same. They are Miss Maude Louise Crawford, Miss Anna Mary Crowe, Miss Nellie Katherine Ecke, Miss Florence Mary Elliott, Miss Grace Reese Everson, Miss Elizabeth Brown Fields, Miss Jane Lincoln Kennedy, Miss Alice Lee Lytle, Miss Louise Harrison MacMillan, Miss Anna Biddle McIlvain, Mrs. Ida B. McKenzie, Miss Naunie Tilzer Quaine, Miss Grace I. Robinson, Miss Mary Lewis Sharpe, Miss Agnes Welma Staples and Miss Penelope Parker Whitehead.

The music yesterday afternoon was an exceptionally interesting feature of the exercises. Miss Alice Snyder of the faculty of the college conducted, and the songs were several of the kindergarten songs. They included Nevin's "Whyken, Blynken and Nod." Miss Hemsett Keil singing the solo, the "Song of the Clock," and "The Bird's Nest," by Gaynor; "The Fairies," the "Swing Song" and "The Cuckoo," by Lisa Lehmann, and "Fly, Little Bird," by Gilchrist.

Tomorrow (Friday) evening the managers of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten will give a reception at the college on Fifth avenue, Oakland, for the graduates. On Saturday the Alumnae association will hold its annual dinner at the Schenley, with Miss Elizabeth Culp, principal of the college, as the guest of honor.

Bishop Bowman Commencement.

A class of four young girls was graduated from the Bishop Bowman Institute yesterday morning. The commencement exercises were conducted at 10:30 o'clock in Trinity church, Sixth avenue, and the annual address to the graduates was delivered by the Rev. Laurens McLure, D. D., rector of St. Thomas church, Oakmont. It was a scholarly address and treated of the "Importance of Service in the World and in Society," and especially the service of educated women.

The diplomas were presented the graduates by the principal of the school, the Rev. Robert John Coster, D. D. The awarding of prizes was also made. Miss Maria Louise Stout winning the gold medal for the highest average for work in the senior department. The prize for excellence in the higher English studies was won by Miss Ruth Purdy. It was a handsomely bound volume, "Men and Women and Manners of Colonial Times," by Sidney George Fisher. Miss Gertrude Demmler secured the prize for general excellence in the work of the junior year. It was won by "Tennyson, His Home, His Friends and His Work." The prize for general excellence in the middle department, including the sophomore and freshman classes, for "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and "Rip Van Winkle," was captured by Miss Irene Stifel and the prize for work in the languages, Latin, French and German, was won by E. Merrick. It consisted of two volumes of "Literary Hearthstones."

The graduates from the Bishop Bowman Institute this year were Miss Lelia Edith Mercer, Miss Beulah Matilda Mueller, Miss Ruth Purdy and Miss Maria Louise Stout.

Allegheny Graduates.

Principal James E. Morrow of the Allegheny High school yesterday announced the result of the final examinations. There were 110 graduates as against 133 last year. The list of graduates follows:

Normal, five years—Florence Marguerite Barkley, Eva Louise Bassett, Florence Irene Boschert, Mary Martha Cort, Mildred Miller, Mary Alice Stewart, Elva Henrietta Gerwig, Martha Elizabeth Knox, Bertha Elida Knox, Rachel Margaret Wilson.

Normal, four years—Clara Carlisle, Lillian Mae Kerr, Lillian Bell Dysert, Mary Florence Siller, Margaret Jean Graham, Delia E. McCullough.

Clark Lokard, Jennie May McSwiggen, Merle Peden, Arthur D. Rhea, William Hamilton Watson, Nettie M. Wilhelm, Anna Carolyn Aylesworth, Reene M. Beemer, Ethel Blair, Alice Gilliford Covert, Herbert Dickson, Meta Fihner, Mary A. Henderson, Elma Ethel Herman, Anthony E. Johnson, Harry F. Kletty, Mary Edna Mayer, Charles Louis Ott, Harry Robert Rebele, John Frank Roth, Harry Walberg, Laura V. Williamson.

Arthur Wallace Calhoun, the only member of the class who will graduate with "great honor," is 18 years of age and lives with his parents at No. 1202 Sandusky street. His average is 96.6 per cent. Those who graduate "with honor" made an average of 88 per cent.

The commencement will be held in the Alvin theater on Friday evening, June 19. The Rev. J. W. Beers, pastor of the First Christian church of Allegheny, will deliver the invocation and the Rev. Albert C. Deffenbach, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Ascension, Allegheny, will make an address on "What Is the True Education?"

Principal Morrow will present the diplomas and the Rev. G. Irving Lenker, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, Allegheny, will pronounce the benediction. No flowers will be allowed.

The academic members will have their class night at the Alvin theater on Tuesday evening, June 16. They are making a big effort this year to hold the best class night of any in the history of the school.

Failed to Get a Quorum.

Members of the board of school directors of the Knox sub-district, Thirtieth ward, tried to come to an agreement last night, but on account of the absence of a quorum no meeting was held. While the members waited they slept, as they had been in session until 2 o'clock yesterday morning, attempting to organize. The board is divided into two factions, A. McMullen, J. Fallon and John Murray representing the followers of Alderman F. M. King, while the other side is composed of John Mullaney, Patrick Hopkins and A. Conley. They were supporters of the late Thomas Mullin, and they are for anything but what the King element desires. After a very disorderly meeting lasting five hours it was found to be an impossibility to agree, and an effort was made to select a janitor. David Grounds has held the place for 10 years, and the King members desire to give the place to Michael Reiffe, but the others will not agree, and the fight promises to wind up in the courts.

Minersville Teachers Re-Elected.

Minersville sub-district school board, Thirteenth ward, met last night in the Minersville school and elected officers and principals as follows: President, William J. C. Floyd; secretary, O. E. Adams; treasurer, Peter Noian; principal, John Golden; assistant principals, Misses Mary Erskine, Alicia Phillips, O. M. Patterson, L. B. McCutcheon and N. C. Bradley. The entire corps of teachers was also elected without change.

Munhall Board Reorganized.

The Munhall school board reorganized yesterday. All the old officers were elected, as follows: President, H. J. Davis; secretary, O. S. Weaver; treasurer, O. Miller. The board decided to establish a high school next year. Prof. J. C. Spetcher was re-elected principal and J. L. Thompson was elected principal of the high school. All the former teachers were re-elected.

AMUSEMENTS NEXT WEEK.

An opera out of the ordinary will be next week's attraction at the Duquesne garden, when the new All Star Opera Company will present Miss Nielson's greatest success, "The Fortune Teller." For this operatic offering an entire new set of principals will be cast in the various roles. Alice Nielson, the American prima donna, who has set all London talking and who has been looked upon as the greatest American artist that has ever visited abroad, made her greatest success in "The Fortune Teller." The fact that this melodious work has never been done by any company in Pittsburgh, only the one headed by Miss Nielson, and never before at popular prices, will surely be the means of packing the Gardens nightly. Many of the original company who appeared in "The Fortune Teller" have been especially engaged for next week's production, and the entire scenic equipment will be used here. "The Fortune Teller" is replete with bright comedy and clever dialogue, and is unquestionably the most tuneful opera seen in Pittsburgh for years.

Rogerio's band will furnish the music for the concerts at Kennywood, and if they are enjoyed as much as they were last Sunday and all through this week they will be sure to draw large audiences. Next Sunday and all next week Mr. and Mrs. George M. Rose will be at the park.

Calhoun park will have Pawnee Bill's big Bandit Roosts, under the direction of Frank Gregory, next Sunday afternoon and evening. Miss Katherine Miley will be the vocal soloist, and Wyman and Garner the comedians. Oakwood's new concert company, in charge of the Braddock Library band next Sunday, under the direction of W. L. Mayer. The Princess Chinquilla, who is at Oakwood this week, will be on the program assisted by Ed. Newell, the cowboy entertainer. With Miss Lulu Haynes as vocalist, Nirella's Fourteenth Regiment band will give both concerts at Southern park on Sunday, and a good program is assured.

The vaudeville bills at Oakwood and Southern, free in the evenings, will have some strong features on their bills.

Jury Acquitted Joseph Vanda of Murder Without Leaving Their Seats.

MANY WILLS ARE RECORDED

Widow of Alexander Manyhan Proves Document She Had Destroyed—Pittsburgh Railways Company Must Operate Reasonable Number of Cars.

Joseph Vanda was arraigned in criminal court yesterday on a charge of murder for the death of Valentine Ostoski, which occurred on December 22, 1902, at St. John's hospital. He was acquitted without the jury leaving their seats. After the testimony had been partially heard District Attorney John C. Haymaker said he would not ask for a conviction.

Ostoski's death was due to a blow from a beer bottle received in a drinking carousal in a house at Schoenville.

Michael Kopczak, who was indicted jointly with Vanda, has never been arrested.

Edward Williams was convicted of committing an offense against Ruth M. Ross. He was sentenced to the workhouse for 13 months.

Many wills were placed on record in the office of Register George H. Stengel. Among them was the copy of a will made by Alexander Manghan. His widow made the claim before the register that her husband had made a will, which she had destroyed by mistake. Testimony was taken and a copy was admitted to probate. The entire estate goes to the widow.

By the will of Anton Pfluger of Shaler township a $20,000 estate is disposed of. The St. Joseph Orphan asylum is bequeathed $100 and the Little Sisters of the Poor $50. Mary K. Cusack, a grandchild, is bequeathed $1,000, and the residue of the estate goes to the decedent's widow. Attorneys Thomson & Thomson represent the estate.

In the will of Charles A. Hays, late of Haysville, the decedent mentioned all of his personal property in his will. Among the bequests is a picture, "Pharaoh's Horses," to Mrs. Sarah E. Ahl, but this bequest was revoked; a shotgun and certain tools to a nephew, John A. Hays, and "father's fishing reel" to John Hays. The entire estate is disposed of in this manner.

Judge Elliott Rodgers made a formal order in the case of the city of McKeesport against the Pittsburgh Railways Company, giving the company three months to put Walnut street in good repair, and one month in which to put in operation a reasonable number of cars on the Walnut street branch between the hours of 6 a. m. and 11 p. m. each day. If the company fails to comply with the decree it shall surrender its franchise. The order was made in compliance with an opinion handed down some time ago.

CROSBY IS INDICTED.

True Bill for Murder Against Him for Death of 7-Year-Old Alexander Wallace.

The grand jury returned a true bill for murder against John Crosby, who is charged with being responsible for the death of Alexander Wallace, a 7-year-old boy, who was fatally burned in his home, at 5811 Mignonette street, East End, on May 15, last. Other true bills were:

Assault and battery—Gust Antonopolis, William Brown, Andrew Brown, Edward Brown, Stanley Kulkonski, Bridget Madden, H. Sigel, Joseph Schmid, Henry Zimmerman, Anna Zocko; misdemeanor, Pinos Bersa, Louis Yurko; keeping a disorderly house, Samuel Bolosh; pointing firearms, Christ Bickel; aggravated assault and battery, Joseph Cehghi et al.; entering a building, etc., Robert Leslie (2); horse stealing, Robert Leslie; malicious mischief, Lucas Ripple; larceny, Jarmelia Sarkes et al.; felony, Horses R. G. White.

Expects Examine Cawley.

A report from alienists on the sanity of Charles Cawley, who is charged with the murder of his mother, three sisters and a brother, is expected in a few days. District Attorney Haymaker says should the report show insanity there will be no formal trial, but a verdict of not guilty taken by reason of insanity; otherwise he will be placed on trial for murder at the present term of criminal court. The crime was committed October 10, 1902.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

A diporce was granted in the case of Maud Harkins against Frank B. Harkins. Cruel treatment was alleged.

A charter was granted to the Retail Butchers' association of Allegheny county. Attorney Harry Weinberger represents the association.

Letters of administration were taken out by Charles H. Thomas on the estate of Francis M. Thomas. Attorney Harry M. Stein has charge of the estate.

John Brown entered suit against the Tennis Construction Company for $10,000 damages. It is claimed a 4-year-old child of the plaintiff was injured at McKeesport by a pile of railroad ties falling upon her.

William H. Brant took out letters on the estate of Henry Brant, Jr., and G. J. W. Brant similar letters on the estate of Mary Brant, both of Perrysville. Attorneys Thomson & Thomson represent both estates.

In common pleas court No. 1 permission was given to the attorney for the libellant to withdraw the papers in the divorce suit of William M. Justice against Victoria Justice, libellant having been agreed to by the attorney for the respondent.

Executions were issued as follows: Thomas C. Jenkins versus Grimsby & Co., $278 49; Twelfth Ward Building and Loan association versus F. J. Schurz, $1,385 33; Josiah F. Heming, trustee, versus Charles G. Mitchell, 85-260; Sarah M. Foster use, versus Robert E. Ellis, Jr., 8603; Washington Trust Company versus George T. Lyford, $7,089 93.

Synod Gets Educational Report.

BALTIMORE, June 10.—Today's proceedings of the general synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church were devoted exclusively to educational matters. The ninth biennial report of the board of education was read and adopted, and at this evening's session a celebration of the anniversary of the educational board was held.

Jackets reduced

We've decided to accept a loss on several hundred of our women's and misses' jackets. Here's what we're going to do: give you choice at 5.00 from former 7.50, 8.50, 10.00 and 12.00 jackets. Among them are: fly front and fitted jackets in light and dark covert materials—taffeta silk coats, in monte carlo or blouse style, plain or fancy trimmed—peau de sole silk coats, plain or fancy trimmed etamine coats, etc.—every one splendidly tailored and lined with silk, or without lining. Go right through the lot and pick out any jacket you please for only 5.00

Silk shirt waist suits—in the most summery styles, made of cool China silk—the waists fashioned with many rows of shirring and lace insertions—the skirts in yoke and flounce effect with lawn drop skirt—special at 14.85

Shirt waist suits

The purchase of 1,000 white shirt waist suits was one of the best deals we consummated last week. These suits are made of fine linen lawn or india lawn, trimmed with lace insertion, embroidery, French braid or hemstitched effect—the skirts cut in the newest flare styles. If bought in the regular way these suits could not be retailed under $4.50 or $5.00, but buying them as we did, we can make the price today, only 2.85

1/2 off the marked prices on all women's tailor-made and fancy suits

Waist purchase

One of the best-known waist manufacturers of New York miscalculated and produced more goods than he was subsequently able to dispose of through the regular channels. We agreed to take his entire surplus if he made it worth our while. HE DID—and this sale of $1.50 and $2.00 waists for 98c is the result. These waists are made of superior linen lawn, India linen, and French lawn, buttoned front or back styles, beautifully inserted with val. lace, swiss embroidery, cluny lace, or French hemstitching—newest pouch sleeves, tucked or pleated effect—unrestricted choice for only 98c

Pure linen waists are now greatly favored by stylishly gowned women, hence this sale will attract great attention—plain or hemstitched effects, newest tucked fronts and pouched sleeves—the waists we've been selling for $2.50 and $2.60, go in this sale today for only 1.49

Wash silk waists

Several hundred women's fashionable silk waists made of these light, cool Japanese and China Silks which make up so nicely and feel so comfortable in the warm weather—made in the very newest long blouse front effects with new pouched sleeves—plain tucked or trimmed with hemstitching, heavy lace or lace insertings—in black, white and natural pongee shades—waists that should sell for $3.50 and $4.00 reduced for this sale to only 2.98

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Brooklyn at Exposition Park.
New York at Cincinnati.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Chicago.

The Pirates made it three straight from the Quakers by taking yesterday's game, 7 to 4. In clinching this game the champions equaled the season's record for straight victories—eight in a row—which has heretofore been held by the Chicago team. There were 2,480 spectators at the park, and they were treated to some fine sport.

Owing to the absence of Umpire O'Day, who is suffering from a heavy cold as a result of the drenching received on Saturday last, the game was presided over by two players, Phillippi and Douglas, and their work was all that could be desired. There was not a complaint registered by the players on either team, but the player-umpires were fortunate in having few close plays to pass judgment on.

The pitching selections for the afternoon were Doheny for the Pirates and Mitchell for the Quakers. The Pirates' twirler was given rather a lively bunching of hits during made off his delivery, but these hits were so scattered that they could not be used as run-getters. At that the Quakers did not get the value from their hits, which was due to poor base running on their part and fast fielding by the Pirates.

The champions got but 10 hits off Mitchell, yet made them count for seven runs. These hits came in bunches and at times when they would do the most good. For instance, in the first inning, when the bases were filled by reason of a single, a base on balls and a hit by pitcher, Leach whacked a three-bagger down into right center and brought the three runs home. There probably never was a three-base hit which possessed more value than that one of Leach's.

It was a great day for "Kitty" Bransfield, the hustling first-baseman of the Pirates, who received a fine ovation the first time he ever made on the Pittsburg grounds. "Kitty" has made home runs on other grounds and he has pounded out innumerable three-baggers at Exposition, but yesterday was the first time he ever scored a four-bagger here. He turned the trick in the sixth inning, and the hit was a screamer to left. Dunn tried to intercept the ball but failed, and the sphere hit on the left field bleachers with a bang. The ball was relayed home in fast time, but Kitty beat it to the plate.

The Pirates started off with three runs in the first inning. Beaumont led off with a single to center and Clarke sacrificed him to second. Bases on balls was handed Seibring and Mitchell forced the ball to Wagner's short rib, which entitled him to a base, thus filling all the corners. Tommy Leach was just the boy needed at that stage, and he pushed the ball over the right center for three bases and the three runs counted. Tommy tried hard to make it four, but Hitchey for once failed as a pinch hitter.

A base on balls to Bransfield, a single by Leach, an out at first and a single by Doheny netted two runs in the fourth. Bransfield's home run in the sixth made the seventh Pirate run, and in the seventh Bransfield doubled to left and scored on Ritchey's double to the same field. That made seven runs, or two more than enough to win the game.

The Quakers scored one in the seventh on a succession of infield singles by Barry, Hulswitt and Zimmer, Barry scoring the run. They got two more in the seventh, when Zimmer reached first by reason of being hit by a pitched ball and scored on Mitchell's two-bagger to right. Hoffman's single brought Mitchell home. In the eighth Barry reached first by forcing Titus at second and brought home the Quaker's fourth run on hits by Hulswitt and Gleason. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The pitchers for the opening game with Brooklyn will likely be Phillippe for the Pirates and Schmidt for the visitors. The Pirates gave Schmidt a bumping in Brooklyn, and the question is, can they repeat that dose?

Chief Zimmerman's popularity in this city was shown when he first appeared at bat yesterday. The crowd cheered the ex-Pirate until he was forced to doff his cap, a thing the chief does not like to do, as the hair is getting a little thin.

When Kitty Bransfield crossed the home plate ahead of the ball in the sixth inning there was a smile on his face as large as the Ten of Ireland. Kitty has been trying for a home run for a long time, but his first for the local grounds was the one in yesterday's game, and no wonder it made him smile.

Vice President Sommers, of the American league, witnessed yesterday's game from President Dreyfuss' private box. And was enthusiastic over the great work put up by Hans Wagner, whose feats he applauded heartily. In the same box was President Potter of the Philadelphia team, who also joined in the applause for Wagner.

The look of disgust that was on Fred Clarke's face when Deacon Phillippe called him out on strikes in the fifth inning was amusing to the occupants of the coop, but looked disgusted, but he was angry all over. An evidence of it was shown when he threw his bat high in the air and walked back to the bench with his head drooping.

Hans Wagner was a whole team by himself yesterday and he was all over the infield scooping in grounders and nailing base runners. He was on the business end of two double plays and some of his other plays were sensational in the extreme. His fielding record for the afternoon shows ten chances, all of which were accepted cleanly. For a wonder his one weak point was at the bat, having failed to get a safe hit, which is a new experience for the Carnegie boy.

That experience in the rain on last Saturday proved a costly one for Umpire O'Day, who is in the hands of a doctor and may have to stay in bed for a week or more. O'Day sent word yesterday that he was too sick to officiate and Managers Clarke and Zimmer agreed on Phillippe and Douglass, who presided over the game in fine style. It was an easy game to umpire, however, as there were very few close plays.

There will be some great doings over at Exposition park this afternoon when the Brooklyn team makes its first appearance of the season here. Otto Jordon, a South side boy, is a member of the team, and his friends from that side of the river have arranged to give him a warm welcome. The Deemed Athletic club, of which Jordon is a member, will turn out in its full strength to cheer for their fellow club member. Tonight he will be tendered a reception, to which the members of the Brooklyn and Pittsburgh teams have been invited.

BOSTON AGAIN BEATEN.

Chicago Made It Three Straight from Buckenberger's Team.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The locals took the third straight from Boston today in a game that probably was a record-breaker for both lucky and erratic pitching. Platt gave 12 passes and struck out six men. Lundgren issued six and struck out four. Attendance, 750. Score:

REDS SHUT OUT.

Jones Only Allowed Kelley's Crew Three Hits.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—The Cincinnatis were shut out by Brooklyn today by a score of 7 to 0, Jones, the California pitcher, allowing Cincinnati only three hits. Ritter, while running to first base in the third inning, sprained his ankle and was relieved by Jacklitsch. Attendance, 2,500. Score:

FINE PITCHERS' BATTLE.

Giants Managed to Squeeze in the Run That Won.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—The New Yorks won today's game from St. Louis 1 to 0. The game was a pitchers' battle. Currie, however, lost his own game by hitting Gilbert with a pitched ball. This, coupled with Bowman's single and Seymour's steal, resulted in New York making the only run of the game. Attendance, 1,400. Score:

PEARSON'S PITCHING FOOLED WASH.-JEFF

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—The W. and J. baseball team met its first shutout of the season and the first defeat for several weeks, here this afternoon, when the Homestead L. A. C. team defeated it, 9 to 0. Pearson was too much for the college boys and gave them six scattered hits. W. & J. was never dangerous and did not play their game at any stage. They seemed to have a case of the "rattles" to start with and made several costly errors. Nelson pitched fairly good ball, but long hits were secured off him at opportune stages. His loose support also helped to lose the game. Homestead played an errorless game behind Pearson, who was in great form, striking out 12 men. The attendance was the largest of the season, and it was expected here that W. & J. would win. W. & J. has won 19 games and lost three, counting the defeat at the hands of the Wheeling league aggregation. The score:

DUFFY MAY COME.

The Great Sprinter Wanted for Schenley Park Sports.

A telegram received yesterday from Arthur Duffy at Washington stating that he had not yet decided as to what he will do on the Fourth of July, so that it is not settled whether he will be at Schenley park at the big meet and show his wonderful ability as a sprinter. Duffy has intimated going to Europe this week, in which case he would be in King Edward's domain on the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Duffy would undoubtedly be the greatest athletic card that could be secured to come to this city, but if he finds he is unable to get here some other athlete with a national reputation will be secured.

Inquiries continue to be received as to the program of sports at the Fourth of July celebration. The full list of events will be decided on today and the entry blanks probably will be ready on Monday. There likely will be about 15 events altogether.

The Yale-Princeton Line-Up.

Latrobe Target Tournament.

LATROBE, PA., June 10.—(Special.)—The Ligonier Rod and Gun club announces its eighth annual target tournament at its grounds June 7, 8 and 9. Interstate association rules will govern. There will be 10 events each day. Valuable prizes will be given.

Westminster's Election.

HIGH SCHOOL NINE ENDS ITS SEASON AT SEWICKLEY

M. Porterfield Leads Kiski at Bat and "Sport" McClintock in the Field.

This is getaway day for the Pittsburgh High school nine. Capt. "Midget" Spuhler will take his crowd to Sewickley this afternoon to play the Sewickley High school, and after the game the team will disband.

The Kiskiminetas Springs school team, after beating the Indiana State Normal, closed its season with a fairly good record. This is the last week of school at the Saltsburg institution and the players will begin today to go to their respective homes. Capt. Meade Porterfield leaves this morning for his home at Oil City, where he will play on an amateur team there this summer. Pitcher Will McLane leaves today for Patchaug, Conn., where he will spend the summer and pitch for the team at that place. Patchaug is a summer resort. Prof. Ferrell, Jr., Forrest Wesley an pitcher, who was one of Kiski's coaches, is another pitcher on the Patchaug team.

Kiski this season did not have a very hard hitting team, but McClintock and Porterfield of what might be called brilliant fielders, but the men had the faculty of hitting at the right time, and in a close game they fielded well. The team finished fifth in the league with the past three seasons, which won the championship for three consecutive years. Capt. Meade Porterfield led the team with the stick. Charles "Sport" McClintock, of Pittsburg, was the best fielding average. In middle field he had 11 chances, which he accepted without a miss, and was the next best hitter on the team. The batting and fielding averages follow:

WENTZ'S TEAM WINS.

Warren Pitches Great Ball Against St. Vincent College.

The Marquette A. C. of the South Side went to Latrobe yesterday and defeated the St. Vincent team 6 to 2. In the seventh inning, by some timely hits and clever base running, Marquette clinched the game. Except in the fourth inning St. Vincent was unable to get as far as Moren's fine pitching and excellent support was too much for them. Score:

YACHT TRIAL RACE AGAIN POSTPONED

Boats Were at Starting Point, But the Breeze Died Out and the Race Was Called Off.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—Yacht enthusiasts who have for three days ventured into the fog off Sandy Hook to witness a sea trial of the trio of the would-be cup defenders suffered their third disappointment today. The three racers had reached the starting line and were about to be sent away.

The course was clear of fog when the regatta committee tug reached the starting line, but as a heavy bank of it lay along Sandy Hook where the boats were moored, the work boat Unique was sent in to the Hook after the racers.

Escorted by two steamers partly filled by passengers they reached Sandy Hook lightship about 1 p. m. No sooner had the committee hoisted the preparatory signal than the faint sea breeze dropped to a calm. The Constitution, rolling in a gentle sea, broke a shackle which held her club topsail aloft and the start was delayed until the damage was repaired.

At 2 o'clock, with hardly a breath of air moving, the committee called the race off. The yachts will attempt to sail off one of the postponed races tomorrow.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY

WOMEN'S CLUBS

A large number of guests went from Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon to Sewickley to attend one of the smartest weddings of the season, the marriage of Miss Lucy Haskell Christy and Frank Scott Willock. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Christy, a popular girl in society and one of the women golf players in western Pennsylvania. Mr. Willock is among the best-known young men in Pittsburgh society, is teller in the Second National bank of Sewickley, the son of Mrs. John S. Willock of Beaver avenue, Sewickley, and a member of the extensive Willock and Hays connection.

The First Presbyterian church of Sewickley, shaded by magnificent old trees, was filled with invited guests, over 400 people being present during the ceremony, which was performed at 5 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. William O. Campbell. The church was elaborately decorated with ferns and palms. They were massed upon the pulpit platform, relieved by clusters of white Bermuda lilies. The window recesses were filled with small tropical plants and with mountain laurel, while about the organ loft were banks of ferns with a single immense cluster of white gladiolas. laurel wreathed the chandeliers. The pews reserved for the guests, who later attended the reception, were indicated by broad white bows, while white standards containing white roses were placed at the ends of the reserved seats.

At 5 o'clock the bride and her maids entered the church to the music of the March from "Lohengrin," Walter Hall, organist and choirmaster of Trinity church, playing the wedding music. The ushers preceded the maids, Miss Abby Christy, a sister of the bride, walking alone, followed by the other six bridesmaids, Miss Daisy Miller and Mrs. Richard R. Quay of Sewickley, Miss Stella Hays of Allegheny, a cousin of the bridegroom; Miss Marie Baldwin, Miss Bertha Andrews and Miss Mollie Anderson of New York. The maid of honor, Miss Ethel Christy, another sister of the bride, immediately preceded her. The bride entered with her father, who gave her away. James H. Willock of Sewickley was his brother's best man, and the ushers included William Butler Willock of Allegheny, another brother; Bayard Christy of Sewickley, a brother of the bride; J. Walter Rhodes, William B. Scaife, Harry D. McCandless and Thomas O'Conner Jones of Allegheny, and Alan D. Wood and Benjamin Wells of Philadelphia.

The bridal gown was fashioned of white net over white silk, with a full court train. The yoke and sleeves were of duchess lace, the lace almost covering the bodice. The filmy bridal veil of tulle reached to the edge of the long train and was caught to the hair with a cluster of orange blossoms. The bride's only ornament was a diamond pendant, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bride's rose. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids were white net gowns over white silk with white ribbon sashes. Full angel sleeves of white chiffon were a unique feature of the costume. The maids wore large white chiffon hats and carried large clusters of maidenhair ferns. The maid of honor carried white sweet peas. The wedding colors were white and green.

After the ceremony at the church a reception was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Christy in Frederick avenue. One hundred and fifty guests attended the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Christy, the bride and bridegroom, Miss Ethel Christy and Mrs. James S. Willock received in the drawing room. Mrs. Christy wore a handsome gown of white embroidered crepe over white silk, while Mrs. Willock, the mother of the bridegroom was gowned in pearl gray crepe.

The mantels throughout the house were banked with ferns. Palms and ferns formed a rich background for the receiving party and the only flowers were white roses and carnations. The same decorations prevailed throughout the house. The bridal table was set in the dining room, while supper was served the guests at small tables in a marquee erected upon the lawn and connected with the house.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Willock left for a wedding trip. They will be away for three weeks and returning to Sewickley, will make their home in Centennial avenue in the house formerly occupied by T. H. B. McKnight, but recently purchased by Mr. Willock.

Bissell—Hinternhoff.

An informal and pretty ceremony of yesterday was the marriage of Miss Bessie Mercer Bissell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Bissell of Murtland avenue, East End, to Harry J. Hinternhoff of New York. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the commodious old home which Mr. and Mrs. Bissell have occupied since their marriage, more than a quarter of a century ago. Pink roses appeared as decorations throughout the house. Pink roses and lilies of the valley formed the centerpieces for the bridal table, which was placed in the center of the dining room, where the wedding breakfast was served. Both the bride and bridegroom were unattended. The latter, who is a petite girl of the blonde type, was daintily gowned in white chiffon and lace made with a demi train. She wore no veil and carried a large cluster of white roses. The young couple left on an afternoon train to spend a part of their honeymoon at Lake Placid and will later go to New York to make their home. After a preparatory course at the Thurston school Mrs. Bissell completed her education at the Pennsylvania College for Women.

Martin—Breed.

In the Shadyside Presbyterian church, where so many handsome weddings have been conducted, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Frances DeForest Martin, and Charles Henry Breed, yesterday afternoon. The marriage ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Richard S. Holmes. The church was simply and tastefully decorated with tropical plants, white lilies being the only flowers used. The bride entered with her father, Robert Langhorne Martin, who gave her away, and was attended by a group of bridesmaids, some of whom were school friends. Dr. Elizabeth Martin was the maid of honor and Miss Adelaide L. Martin, Miss Irene Cowan, Miss Edna Schoyer of Pittsburgh; Miss Marianne Taylor of Haverford, Pa., Miss Agnes Maltland Sinclair of Philadelphia, and Miss Elizabeth Middleton Bryan of Charleston, S. C., were the bridesmaids. The bride and her maids entered the church led by the ushers, who were Robert L. Martin, Jr., Seymour S. Preston, Fletcher Collins, Dr. J. Clark Logan and Dr. Frederick V. Woolridge of this city, and Edward Bryant Treat of Lawrenceville. Charles Hartley Richmond, also of Lawrenceville, was the best man.

The bride wore a beautiful princess gown of white silk and crepe meteor with a full court train. Her veil of tulle fell over the hem of her gown and embroidered chiffon and lace formed the yoke and sleeves. The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maids were pretty gowns of white chiffon tucked and shirred and having sashes of white silk, the ends caught with clusters of tiny pink rosebuds. Dainty short lace jackets were worn and large white chiffon hats, trimmed with pink roses. They carried bouquets of pink sweet peas.

After the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Martin, on South Dallas avenue, East End. The house was decorated with a profusion of the mountain laurel with its wax-like flowers. The drawing room was done entirely in laurel, red roses were in the library and pink roses decorated the dining room, where the supper was served. The bridal table was placed on the porch, which was enclosed with canvas. Palm and foliage prevailed in the halls.

After the wedding supper the bride and bridegroom left for the east and will spend their honeymoon in Europe. They will live in Lawrenceville, N. J., after their return in the fall. Among the out-of-town guests who came on for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. De Forest, Miss Martin and Miss Helen Martin of New York.

Newlands—Johnston.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—(Special.)—Miss Janet Newlands, second daughter of Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada was married very quietly this morning to Dr. William B. Johnston, son of the late Dr. W. W. Johnston of this city. The wedding occurred in St. Albans, the picturesque little Episcopal church near the summer home of the Newlandses and was performed by the Rev. George C. Bratenahl, the pastor. The marriage is the culmination of a romance begun when Miss Edith Newlands became engaged to Dr. Johnston's eldest brother, Charles Johnston.

The daughters of Senator Newlands are the grandchildren of the late Senator Sharon and the three sisters inherited the bulk of his colossal fortune. In selecting the sons of Dr. Johnston, they were actuated only by love, as both young men have no patrimony and have made their own way in life.

Charles Johnston is a professor in St. Paul's Episcopal school, near Concord, and gets but a modest salary. Each of the Misses Newlands receives an annual income of nearly $35,000.

Pearson—Biggs.

The marriage of Miss Helen Pearson and George W. Biggs, Jr., was solemnized last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pearson of Denniston avenue, East End. Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was solemnized in an alcove of the reception hall. The bride, who is a fair stately girl, was exquisitely gowned in white crepe de chine trimmed with duchesse lace and carried a large shower of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father and attended by her small sister, Alice Hume Pearson, who wore a dainty slip of sheer white and carried sweet peas. Mr. Biggs' best man was Franklin Cadwallader Irish of the East End. The decorations of the home consisted of old-fashioned June roses and tropical plants. After the reception and supper Mr. Biggs and his bride left for an extended trip. At-home cards will not be issued until early in the autumn.

Robison—Rawsthorne.

Miss Mary Robison, daughter of Mrs. Mary Robison and the late Capt. Edgar Robison, and John A. Rawsthorne of Mt. Washington were married yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the marriage ceremony being performed by the Rev. W. P. Turner of the Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Abram was the maid of honor and Frank Hanna was the best man. After the wedding at the church a reception was held at the home of a sister of the bride, Mrs. F. A. Sright. During the evening announcement was made of the marriage, May 1, of another sister, Miss Martha Robison, and Daniel Delancey of Indiana, Pa. They were married in Youngstown, O. Mr. and Mrs. Delancey will live in Bennett street, Homewood, while Mr. and Mrs. Rawsthorne will make their home in Frankstown avenue, Brushton.

Visiting the Attorney General.

The attorney general and Mrs. Knox at Washington, D. C., are enjoying a visit from Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Knox of Santa Barbara, Cal. Dr. Knox is the elder brother of the attorney general. At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon they were entertained at the White House by Mrs. Roosevelt. They will remain here until next week and accompany Mrs. Knox to Beverly, Mass., for a brief visit.

Matthews—Wilson.

In Avalon yesterday morning at 11 o'clock the wedding of Miss Eleanor Irene Matthews and Delray Calhoun Wilson was conducted, the marriage ceremony being performed by the Rev. Cyrus H. Dunlap, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that borough. It was a quiet wedding at the home of the bride's brother-in-law, William Jenkins. Little Miss Ruth Lucille Jenkins was the flower girl. The bride wore a pretty gown of sheer white and carried a bouquet of brides' roses. Fifty relatives and friends were among the guests at the wedding and the breakfast which followed. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Thomas Bray and James H. Matthews.

Young—Evans.

A handsome church wedding of yesterday was that of Miss Amy Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Young of Dallas avenue, East End, and Dr. George Oliver Evans of Uniontown, Pa., a son of Dr. and Mrs. Cadwalader Evans of South Negley avenue. The marriage was solemnized in the Shady Avenue Baptist church at 7 o'clock last evening, the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Wallace Stanton, performing the ceremony. The church was filled with invited guests. The decorations were simply and tastefully arranged. The pulpit, before which the bridal party stood, was decorated with quantities of palms, vines and Annunciation lilies. Standards, which were filled with the lilies and graceful clusters of pink carnations, were used at stated intervals along the aisle to mark the bridal path.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her away. She was preceded by her maids, who included her sister, Miss Lida Byron Young, as maid of honor, and Miss Bessie Belcastle, Miss Ruth Langworthy, Miss Lloyd, Miss Mabel C. Gillespie, Miss Sarah Kell, Miss Mary Evans, a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Helen Warren of Virginia and Miss Lida Snowden of Brownsville, Pa. Bevan Evans, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man, and the ushers included another brother, Cadwalader Evans, Robert Oliver, George S. Oliver, Alexander Beeson and Edward Boyd of Uniontown, Thomas Baille of McKeesport, and Fisher Clark of Passaic, N. J.

The bridal gown was an exquisite combination of mirror crepe and duchesse lace, fashioned with the conventional court train. A long veil of tulle fell the full length and was caught with a diamond sunburst, the gift of the bridegroom. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids were gowned in pink silk mousseline, the former carrying white roses and the maids pink roses.

Pink and white roses were used in the decoration of the Young home in Dallas avenue, where a large reception followed the church ceremony. Supper was served in the dining room, where the bridal party occupied a large central table. After a short trip Dr. Evans will take his bride to Uniontown, where he is a successful young physician.

A Late June Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ferguson announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Miss Bertha J. Ferguson, and Robert Adair of Pittsburgh. The wedding will occur June 25 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, near Latrobe.

Children's Day at the Club.

Today will be Children's day at the Country club and will be observed this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. A special car will leave the Hotel Schenley, on the Forbes street side, at 1:30 o'clock, sharp, for the accommodation of those not wishing to drive out to the club. At the club there will be music by the American Military band, together with swings, hammocks, a hurdy-gurdy, Punch and Judy show and ponies and carts for the amusement of the little people. Luncheon will be served at 4 o'clock. A special committee of members of the club will be present to entertain the guests. In case of rain the entertainment will be postponed until tomorrow.

Johnstone—Glover.

In Allegheny last evening at 7:30 o'clock the wedding of Miss Frances Johnstone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Johnstone, and William Butler Glover was held at the home of the bride's parents in Fremont street. It was a quiet and pretty home wedding, only the relatives and a few friends witnessing the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Thomas Clark, D. D., pastor of the Fourth United Presbyterian church of Allegheny. Miss Lillian Johnstone was her sister's maid of honor and a quartet of little people—Miss Grace Bergfeld and Miss Jean Bergfeld of Newark, N. J., and Charles and William Johnstone, two little brothers of the bride—were the ribbon-bearers. The bride was gowned in white voile inset with lace, and her veil, Cupid length, was fastened by her hair with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore white mull trimmed with lace and carried pink roses. After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Glover went away for their wedding trip. They will live in a couple of weeks and make their home with the bride's parents in Fremont street until fall.

Jenker—Keighley.

Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock the marriage of Miss Anna Jenkner, daughter of Charles Jenkner of Turtle Creek, and William J. Keighley, was solemnized in the Lutheran church of Turtle Creek, the Rev. J. E. Little officiating. Miss Mabel McWilliams and Miss Caroline Krug were the bridesmaids and F. M. Evans and J. H. Jenkner the groomsmen. There were two little flower girls, Christina Jenkner and Josephine Keighley. Three hundred people were in attendance at the wedding, which was followed by a handsome reception. The bride and bridegroom will leave this morning for the east, but will return to Turtle Creek, where they will be at home after July 1.

Wedding This Evening.

The wedding of Miss May Campbell Riston, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Riston of Braddock, and Dr. Henry Elmer Guerner, now of Youngstown, O., will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank T. Redman in Braddock, the Rev. William P. Turner, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. Miss Luella Riston will be the maid of honor and George Guerner the best man.

Jacobs—Botsford.

The wedding of Miss Florence Edna Jacobs and Harvey S. Botsford was held last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, George Jacobs, in Homestead. The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. N. D. Hymson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. George Seamon, pastor of the Lutheran church. Miss Ella Jacobs was the bride's only attendant and Clarence Botsford was his brother's best man.

Annual Thank Offering Service.

The annual thank offering service of the Woman's Home Missionary societies of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries will be held in Canonsburg, Pa., on Wednesday, June 17. It is expected that a large number of women will go to the meeting from this city on the morning train leaving the Union Station at 10 o'clock, city time. Addresses will be made by Miss Murdock and Miss Charlotte Hewes and others. The money given to home missions will go toward the cost of building a home and equipping a school for missionary teachers among the mountain whites at Jewett, Tenn. That given for the Freedmen will be used for the boys' dormitory of the Swift Memorial Institute in Rogersville, Tenn.

Interest Growing.

Interest in the garden party which the members of the New Era club are planning is on the increase. The friends of the club women are rallying to their support, and as the proceeds of the entertainment, which will be given tomorrow afternoon and evening in the Liberty school grounds in Ellsworth avenue, will be devoted to philanthropic and civic work, interest in the affair is not limited to a small circle.

For Parents and Teachers.

There will be an evening meeting of the Parents' and Teachers' union of the Fifth ward school, Allegheny, tomorrow evening, in the school auditorium. An interesting program has been prepared and all residents of the ward are invited to be present.

Regular Meeting.

The regular meeting of the joint committee of Women's clubs will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Twentieth Century club in Duquesne way. The subcommittees will report their progress in arranging for the summer playgrounds.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM, OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of fifty-four years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut-ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Oriental Cream' as the least harmful of all the Skin preparations." For sale by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers in the United States, Canada, and Europe.

VERSATILE ACTRESS HERE TO PLAY IN "WANG"

Miss Norma Kopp, the actress, who has given Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, an idea on which he is now working and which he hopes soon to put to a practical test, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday. Miss Kopp has just finished a successful season with "Mr. Bluebeard" at the Knickerbocker theater in New York, and during this week will play Mataya with the summer stock company in "Wang" at Duquesne garden. Miss Kopp's invention is a flashlight signal for use on vessels in midocean. The actress declined to discuss the invention on which Mr. Edison is at work, but spoke enthusiastically of her first meeting with the great inventor and his work shop.

STOCK MARKETS WEAK AND LOWER

Transactions in Wall Street Exceeded 1,200,000 Shares and Prices Closed Lower—Local Securities Also Declined.

By JOHN O. EAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Yesterday was a big day in Wall street, the transactions exceeding 1,200,000 shares. It was also a trying day on margin accounts, for values were again fiercely attacked, and although there was good buying of investment stocks, the closing quotations almost invariably show net declines. The opening was weaker than at any time during the present movement, prices showing losses of ½ to 1½ per cent, Louisville & Nashville opened 4½ per cent lower at 105½, which proved to be the low point of the day. Foreign quotations were weak and lower all around, and London, Berlin and Amsterdam were all reported to be sellers of American stocks, the amount being variously estimated at between 100,000 and 200,000 shares. The heaviest pressure was against the Pacific stocks, Baltimore & Ohio and the Gould specialties generally. On the theory that such a vigorous onslaught usually marked the end of a break, there was buying by traders on early declines, but the rally was short-lived, and the entire list again sold off to the lowest of the year. Atchison broke to 63¾, Baltimore & Ohio to 70½, Reading to 41⅝, Norfolk & Western to 58, Wabash preferred to 41, Union Pacific to 77, Missouri Pacific to 99⅜, and St. Paul to 147½. Pennsylvania was comparatively steady throughout, and it was the general impression that the syndicate was supporting the stock. From the low point of the morning there was a recovery of 1 and 2 per cent, Atchison recovering to 66, Baltimore & Ohio to 101½ and Norfolk & Western to 60. In the early part of the afternoon the trading was on a smaller scale, but the tone was fairly steady. Later in the day, however, the liquidation was resumed, and while all stocks declined, it was noticeable that the weakest were the Gould specialties. Missouri Pacific broke to 89, the lowest yet quoted; Wabash to 13½, the preferred to 40¼; Texas Pacific to 25, Missouri, Kansas & Texas to 18¼, the preferred to 47¼, and so on through the list. Pennsylvania still held steady, but stocks of affiliated companies were weak and the closing prices were not far from the lowest.

The industrials suffered relatively as much as the railroad stocks. United States Steel stocks made new low records, the common selling below 29 and the preferred below 79. Amalgamated Copper, which had opened at 51½ and declined to 51⅛, subsequently recovered to 53, but in the closing transactions dropped back to 52. Tennessee Coal and Iron broke to 48, Peoples Gas to 98⅛ and General Electric to 172½. The dealings were larger and better distributed in this group than for a long time past, and they closed somewhat above the lowest.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The news of the day was not of a character to account for the renewal of liquidation or for the extreme weakness at times apparent in the market. English consols were lower, and a London cable stated that the selling was largely for account of New York. Call money rates remained easy at 2½ to 3 per cent, closing at 2 per cent. There was a repetition of the rumors as to the financial condition of some of the big speculative traders, but these were authoritatively denied. The decline in the grangers might have been ascribed to fear of the showing to be made in the government crop report, but the shrinkage in values had already discounted the worst that could happen to the crops. When the government figures did appear after 4 o'clock they showed the average condition of winter wheat to be 82.2, compared with 92.6 on May 1 and 76.1 at the corresponding date last year. The report as to acreage showed a reduction of about 364,000 acres. The report on spring wheat placed the average condition at 95.9, against 94.4 on June 1, 1902. The acreage was estimated at 17,257,000 acres, against 19,545,000 last year. These figures are far from foreshadowing serious shortage in the yield, and the course of the wheat market did not indicate any serious apprehension on the part of Chicago traders. Some other explanation must be found for the conditions prevailing in the stock market. The popular idea is that the main trouble is friction between large railway financiers, and that between the two the speculative public is being squeezed out.

The local stock market was active and weak and closing prices were generally at the lowest. The weakness in United States Steel, which merely sympathized with the decline in the east, had an unsettling effect. The New York quotations on the stock were closely watched by local traders, and in more than one instance influenced selling of other stocks. The decline of more than a dollar a share in both the common and preferred stock necessitated the calling of additional margins, and this in the condition of the money market forced some selling of other securities. The local sales of United States Steel common reached 2,383 shares at 30¼ to 29, and of the preferred 435 shares at 80 to 79¼. Crucible Steel common was active, opening at 15, declining to 14½ and recovering to 14⅞ at the close. Only small lots of the preferred changed hands and the price was unchanged. There was rather heavy selling of Manufacturers Light and Heat, which declined to 38 and recovered to 38½. Philadelphia Company declined to 46½, the low price of the year. Ohio Fuel Supply broke to 41 and closed at 41¼, a net loss of 1⅜ for the day. River Coal common was firm at 10½ and the preferred at 39½ bid, but Pittsburgh Coal was weak, the common declining to 27 and the preferred to 85, closing at the lowest. Westinghouse Electric was inactive and declined to 88½, closing at that price bid. Airbrake declined 1½ points to 158 and closed offered at that price. Fire Proofing common declined to 24 and the preferred to 85 and closed at the lowest.

There were some rather sharp declines in the bank and trust shares. American Trust sold at 505 and was offered at that price, a loss of 20 points from the last previous sale. Allegheny Trust was 10 points down at 150 and closed offered at 151. Colonial Trust was unchanged at 660. Exchange National declined $5 a share to 260, and Real Estate declined the same amount to 285. Commonwealth Trust advanced 2 per cent to 240. Federal National was 3 per cent lower at 165, Iron City Trust 1 per cent lower at 154, and Merchants Savings and Trust, after declining to 68, recovered to 69, a net decline of a point for the day. The bond market was a little firmer. Brewing 6s advancing to 114¾ and River Coal 6s to 113¾.

THE YIELD AT THESE PRICES.

A year or so ago the average yield on railroad stocks was less than 4 per cent. Today the average is at or above 5 per cent. Conservative people are saying that prices are too low, or at least low enough, even if there should be a slowing down of business, while the bears are predicting much lower prices. The Chronicle has compiled the following table showing the current market value of leading stocks, the dividend rate paid on the par and the yield to the investor who buys at present prices.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE SCARCE

Pittsburgh bankers and brokers were compelled to ship currency to New York yesterday owing to the scarcity of exchange. There was an active demand for the latter and the supply did not begin to be adequate. The demand is partly due to purchases of eastern stocks for local account, and partly to the additional margins required to protect securities which Pittsburghers are carrying in Wall street. The local money market is quite firm, and there was some calling of loans yesterday. Brokers report, however, that their customers are responding promptly to calls for additional margins, and so far no forced liquidation has occurred in the local market.

WALL STREET STILL BEARISH.

The head of a Pittsburgh house which is a member of the New York stock exchange, wired a New York correspondent who does not send out this or regular market letters, after the close yesterday:

"Don't you think the bottom was reached today?"

The answer came back:

"No. I am still bearish on the whole market, and I think prices will average lower. This is not because crops may be damaged, or that anything is wrong with general business; but I feel that much forced liquidation is yet to be seen. An immense number of accounts have been weakened by this last break."

The greatest diversity of opinion prevails as to the extent of the short interest in the eastern market. Some brokers think it must be enormous, while others express the opinion that while there is now a genuine bear party in the street, it has not become reckless. To the actual short interest is small compared with the magnitude of transactions and the extent of the decline in values.

MONEY MARKET OUTLOOK.

The money market gave no immediate clue to the urgent and apparently forced liquidation in Wall street, but the low state of the bank reserves, the payment yesterday of $7,500,000 on Metropolitan Securities subscriptions, the reported intention to ship $600,000 to South America on Saturday and the prospect of a demand for currency from San Francisco, pointed to pressure on money resources.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Union Trust Company stock was offered on the local board at 2,400.

Westinghouse Airbrake declined 1½ points to 158 on the sale of less than 100 shares, and more stock was offered at the decline at the close.

Sixteen shares Farmers Deposit National Bank changed hands yesterday at $2,300 a share, which was unchanged from the last previous sale.

Commonwealth Trust was the only member of the local banking group yesterday that closed at an advance, 40 shares of the stock selling at 240.

The gross earnings of Hocking Valley for the first week in June increased $11,486.

Among the factors in the eastern market yesterday was the investigation by the inter-state commerce commission of the anthracite combination, which causes uneasiness amongst shareholders. Reports of interstate retrenchment in expenditures for betterments by the Baltimore & Ohio and other railroads and the difference over rates between the gulf lines and the Chicago, Kansas City lines added to the disturbed feeling.

The merger of the Oakland bank into the Oakland Savings and Trust Company will be accomplished about July 1 next. The new company will have a capital of $500,000 and a surplus of $140,000, and will take over the Oakland bank on a basis of $85 a share. The holders of the latter have a privilege of exchange on the basis of one-half of new stock for each share of old stock, and also the privilege of subscribing for the new stock in the same proportion at about 105. There will be practically no change in the personnel of the stockholders. The book value of the new stock will be about 165%. James J. Flannery is president of the Oakland Savings and Trust, James J. Booth first vice president, John Caldwell second vice president and secretary and Charles B. Aylesworth treasurer. The latter gentleman was for years connected with W. R. Thompson & Co. and subsequently with Holmes & Sons, in which houses he received excellent training in the banking business.

Atchison led yesterday's market with sales of 128,200 shares, and Union Pacific came next, with 25,650 shares.

The universal bearish sentiment is well illustrated by the statement of an office manager of one of the largest wire houses in Wall street, who said that for the first time in the history of the firm all the accounts, a total of 240, were on the short side.

The Duluth and Pittsburgh Development Company organized yesterday with a capital stock of 50,000 shares, par value $100. Among the same directors and officers as Calumet & Arizona. Calumet and Pittsburgh and Lake Superior stock. The stock certificates will be issued next week.

New York dispatch—It is learned that about a week ago two leading exchange houses were advised by the leading banks here to reduce their loans and that it was selling by these houses that has caused the weakness in the market during the past week. One of the firms mentioned was a broker of Baltimore & Ohio last summer at 118, of New York Central at 168, Louisville & Nashville at 158, Pennsylvania at 130, Northwest at 265 and Colorado Fuel at 120.

H. W. Rosenbaum, an arbitrage broker of New York, has issued a circular on the future possibilities of the Steel Corporation. In it he argues that the net earnings for the year will aggregate $116,700,000 and that the years 1904, 1905 to 1908 will show decreases, but that by the year 1908 the net earnings will have increased to $104,600,000. Meantime, as he figures it, the total amount applied to the various reserve funds and surplus will equal $700,204,000, or practically the par value of the entire outstanding capital stock of the company, both common and preferred, while the annual sinking fund will provide for the redemption of $17,500,000 of bonds. Mr. Rosenbaum admits that no one can foretell the future with confidence, and that the entire elaborate system of calculation he has employed may be upset, but he figures that a minimum dividend of 4 per cent on the common may be confidently expected.

There was a very widely distributed tip that St. Paul would again be attacked and the price forced to 145.

John W. Gates sails for New York today. His health has greatly improved since he has been abroad and he recently cabled a friend that he is feeling as well as he ever did. On his return it is expected that Mr. Gates will take a more active interest in the stock market. At the present time his commitments in the market are less than at any time during the last three years.

Banks and the Treasury.

FOUNDRY IRON USERS WAITING

Specifications Against Old Contracts Brisk, but New Business Coming in Slowly.

BESSEMER PRICES ARE STEADY

Billets Active and Unchanged—Structural Shapes Are Affected by Labor Troubles—Coke Contract Renewed on Old Basis—Hardware Situation Strong.

While the movement for foundry iron continues heavy and no stocks are accumulating at furnaces, shipments are being made principally on old contracts, and very little new business is being placed. There seems to be a feeling among consumers that prices will be lower in the future, and there is an inclination to hold off until a reduction occurs. Sellers claim this belief in declining quotations is likely to prove illusive, and assert their faith in a firmer market. At present there is not much regularity in prices for what sales are made, conditions at furnace accepting orders influencing figures controlling the transactions, and no actual market value, which may be taken as a standard in determining prices, exists. Producers base their opinion of higher values to come on the fact that consumers are staying out of the market so long there will be a rush to buy at no very distant date, when the demand will be so urgent as to send figures higher than the general course of events would warrant, were buying more regular. They believe that stocks now held by consumers are very light, and that specifications against old contracts will soon have exhausted orders already placed, which will be followed by a run to cover. This, they assert, is a condition which cannot be far removed, and expect to see purchasing commenced in a few days. Circumstances surrounding gray forge iron are practically the same, very little of it being sold. Prices vary, and a range to cover figures at which the different producers sell would need to be of great breadth.

BESSEMER PIG UNCHANGED.

Sales of Bessemer pig iron are about on a basis of last week's figures. Some reports have been heard of cutting under values believed to exist, but one large producer made a sale early this week of 7,000 tons at $19 00 valley furnace, equal to $19 85 Pitsburgh, and that price is generally regarded as present value. No further large contracts have been placed.

Either prices are being maintained, and while there is not the real scarcity of supplies which was so evident a few weeks ago, there is still some difficulty found in attempting to secure prompt shipment.

In all lines of finished steel there is a steady adherence to quotations of last week, and in most cases the figures have been maintained for a long time. Structural shapes have been affected to some extent by strike conditions in various parts of the country, and there is no doubt but that business will be affected by local troubles among the building trades if long continued, but specifications on contracts this week are running fully as heavy as they did last week, and producers have no complaint to make of the amount of business being done. Steel bars are steady and fairly active. Sheet iron and steel hold firm and mills do not seem to have commenced to feel any falling off in the quantity of business received, although jobbers are complaining of reduced business on account of the stop which has been put to building operations in certain sections of the country. Plants are running full handed, and are having difficulty in keeping pace with orders.

Coke producers have not yet felt any particular shortage of cars for transportation, but are expecting trouble of this kind later when crops start to move. In the meantime prices are being fairly well maintained, and one large Ohio foundry renewed its contract for the balance of the year for foundry coke at the same price named January 1. This was done at a figure about that at which contracts would be accepted by some producers, but a condition stipulating satisfactory shipment was the inducement to renew on old basis.

LARGE HARDWARE BUSINESS.

Hardware continues to move out freely and in apparently increasing quantities, the business for last month being the largest ever known, the increase embracing heavy and shelf hardware of all descriptions. Nails and wire continue active, and builders' hardware moves out freely. A continued improvement in the character of material going into buildings is noted, bearing out the assertion made some time ago that there would be an improvement in this line, as builders appreciate the fact that good hardware is the cheapest in the long run. Albion tools continue to move into the hands of dealers and consumers with great regularity and in increasing volume. The bicycle business is going along in very satisfactory shape, a large number of bicycles going into the hands of dealers for the use of riders, and the immense amount of riding being done producing, of course, a great demand for sundries and supplies. Window glass movement is still satisfactory, the trade apparently being in better shape than for sometime, dealers feeling that the stock is good and putting their lines into shape for trade that is practically on them. There is a continued large movement of Masury goods and indications are that this will be the greatest season ever known. Prices in all hardware lines continue very firm, conditions warranting such a state of affairs, the factories still being so full of orders that they are unable to make anything like reasonable deliveries in many lines.

BLAST FURNACES RUNNING RECORD-BREAKING PACE

Pig Iron Production in May Exceeded That of April by 50,000 Tons.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Iron Age will tomorrow say: Our monthly blast furnace statistics are unusually interesting because they show that we are proceeding at a record-breaking pace. In July, 1900, this country produced 1,788,000 tons of pig iron, as compared with 1,646,000 tons in April. This is an increase of over 50,000 tons, taking into account that May had 31 days. The total for the 31 days of May companies produced 1,033,000 tons in May, against 983,000 tons in April.

The productive capacity has, however, been further enlarged, and during the month the whole active furnace plant of the country is getting close to a rate of 400,000 tons per week, which seems a staggering quantity for the consumption to take care of.

During May there was an accumulation of stocks of about 35,000 tons of coke iron and 6,000 tons of charcoal iron, which is about the rate at which Southern and foreign pig iron is coming in. This would look as though consumption is now very close to the actual rate of output, but with the promise of a further expansion of production the case seems a little too large. The margin is a perilously narrow one.

There are indications that large interests are quietly testing the market in the hope of securing supplies for the second half of the year at figures considerably below the present range. As yet, however, nothing has been done. There is somewhat more buying lately, but it is still far below the normal.

The southern situation does not seem to have been cleared. Outside furnace interests are again unsettling the official prices, without, however, marketing much. The Tidewater Steel market is easier, owing to somewhat lower offerings of foreign billets.

Some good orders for steel rails have been placed in the west, and further transactions are pending. In the east the market is quiet.

The endless chicanery of the labor unions is having its effect upon the tonnage which is being placed in manufactured iron and steel. On the whole, it is not so satisfactory as it should be, although the leading interests reports an exceptional amount of work in tubes, tin plate and some branches.

The plate manufacturers at a recent meeting reaffirmed prices, but it is admitted that the demand is not quite as heavy as it has been.

There has been some further weakness in iron bars, both east and west, but notably at the west the concessions made have led to the placing of some good orders.

The market for old material has displayed further symptoms of weakness, particularly for all such scrap as is used for rerolling. The demand from the rolling mills has fallen to a low ebb. Steel melting scrap, on the other hand, continues strong and in good request.

Turpentine and Rosin.

SAVANNAH, GA., June 10.—Turpentine firm, 46c. Rosin firm. A, B, C, $1 70; D, $1 75; E, $1 80; F, $1 85; G, $1 90; H, $1 95; I, $2 00; K, $2 05; M, $3 05; N, $6 10; WG, $3 20; WW, $3 30.

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 10.—Spirits turpentine steady, 45¾c; receipts, 32 casks. Rosin firm, $1 75; receipts, 51 casks. Crude turpentine, $1 75, $3 00 and $3 25; receipts, 109 casks. Tar firm, $1 65; receipts, 495 casks.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points and ruled steady under slightly firmer European markets, an advance in the rate of Brazilian exchange and smaller port receipts, closing net unchanged to 5 points higher. Sales were 15,500 bags, including July at 5.10@5.15c; September at 5.85@5.95c; October, 5.90@6c; November at 4.05@4.10c; December at 4.05@4.15c. Spot coffee quiet.

Sugar—Raw steady; refined steady.

THE SUGAR QUESTION STILL TROUBLESOME

Jobbers Trying to Adjust Prices. Ohio Currants Make Their Appearance.

Another advance of 5 points was made in the price of refined sugar by the Arbuckles' refinery yesterday, but no change has been made in local selling prices. The eastern advance makes quotations of all refiners the same, Arbuckles having been 10 points lower than others, but withdrew the barrier from over by an advance of 5 points on Monday and the one just reported. What local jobbers will do with prices remains to be seen, as they are waiting on the action of the conference of refiners now being held at Columbus, O. Jobbers must either get more money for sugar or quit handling it, for it is now being sold at a loss. Refiners refuse to give them any relief in the matter, maintaining a restricted price, and it is left for them to work out their own salvation, something which they have been trying to do for several months without success. It is understood that some of the local wholesalers will make individual effort to establish a more profitable basis on which to sell before the beginning of next week, even if there be no united action in the combination. Sugar demand is growing and losses are too heavy to be overlooked any longer, as the summer months are the heaviest of the year for sugar consumption.

Coffee, it would be higher except for the fact that mills are securing much better prices for milfeed than is usual at this time of year. As it is sellers are very firm, and there are no signs of weakness

DIAMOND STREET CORNER BOUGHT

THE OPERA HOUSE CONTRACT

Interest in Diamond street realty moved down toward the market square yesterday, the Sarah A. Sawyer lot, at the corner of Diamond street and Diamond square, being sold. The widening of the alley left this property a strip facing 52 feet in Diamond street, but having a depth of only 12 feet, spoiling it for an independent site. Adjoining it, and facing in Diamond square, is the Susan E. Robinson property, 19.6x120 feet, and it is currently reported that the Sawyer lot was bought by the owners of the latter property, to give them an outlet to Diamond street. The deal is credited to the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company. The Sawyer property sold for $800 a front foot, or $41,600. It is rumored that a first-class mercantile building is to be erected on the corner formed by the two properties.

Another large deal in the lower part of Diamond street is reported articled for, but no details were given out yesterday. The purchases of the Union and Colonial trust companies were the subject of much discussion yesterday in connection with the benefit to the street and the profits made by the "Diamond Alley Syndicate," which bought the properties several years ago.

Architects MacClure & Spahr have awarded the contract to Langenheim, Cochran & Co. for moving the Grand opera house and the work was started yesterday. The improvement will cost about $200,000, and the job will be by far the largest and most important moving project ever undertaken in the city. The moving will be accomplished by cutting out a section between the Avenue and the Grand theaters and moving the latter back 25 feet to the new street line of Diamond street. Between the two buildings there will be erected a fireproof section for dressing rooms. There will be no material change in the exterior of the Grand, but the interior will have new floors, new plumbing and handsome decorations. A new rear wall will be built for the Avenue and the building will be otherwise strengthened. Both buildings will be made strictly fireproof throughout, and will be provided with the latest stage appliances.

The entrances to the Grand are to be made more spacious and easy of access and finished with mosaic floors, marble wainscoating and stucco ceilings. The stage entrance from Diamond street will be retained. In order to have the work completed by September 1, the time stipulated by the city, the contractors have been put under a heavy bond. Manager Harry Davis is planning a number of handsome features for the interior of the Grand, and when the opera house opens next fall, it will have a decidedly fresh appearance.

MORE BIDS FOR GERMAN CHURCH.

It is believed that when the congregation of the German Evangelical Protestant church meets June 21 at least two more bids will have been received for a lease on its property at the corner of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street. The three bids already in the hands of the building committee will be presented to the congregation at that time, but no recommendation will be made that they be accepted, as they are considerably below what the committee holds the lease to be worth. One of the bids was for a 75-year lease and the two others were for leases running for at least 50 years, but a standard on a sliding scale to be adjusted every 10 years. One was submitted by a Pittsburgh broker and the others by local business men. In connection with the bids it is learned that the Second Presbyterian church has considered the scheme of leasing a part of the German church lot to build on in case it can make a satisfactory sale of its own property at Penn avenue and Seventh street.

The Commercial Trust Company of McKeesport has bought the John Jacob property, a lot 200x140 feet, at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Tube Works alley, McKeesport, for $35,000. A three-story brick building stands on the front of the lot and to this an addition will be built in the rear and improvements made to cost about $230,000.

Contracts for three fine residences have just been awarded. From Architects MacClure & Spahr the A. & S. Wilson Company has the contract for building a residence in Dahlia street, East End, for John N. Acheson, for $40,000. The house will be after the English style of architecture with walls of bright red brick. The same architects gave the contract to Patterson & Shaw for building a house for Robert Pitcairn, Jr., in Anderson avenue, at a cost of $30,000. Architects George S. Orth & Bros. awarded to John Heisch the contract for a stone house in Irwin avenue, Sewickley, for Harry Irwin.

Linden avenue: S. H. Lloyd sold for Charles V. Allen to Anna M. Callahan an improved lot, size 60 feet front on Linden avenue, near Simon avenue, for $4,100.

Sewickley: Joseph P. Rankin & Co. sold for E. P. Young and others to D. W. Challis & Sons three lots facing 110 feet in Blackburn avenue, 110 feet in Murray avenue and 158 feet in Hill street, Sewickley, for $7,000.

Birmingham: A. H. Hunter sold to W. Redman a lot 33x100 feet in Phillips avenue, Birmingham, for $975.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection issued the following permits yesterday: To Mrs. J. J. Freyvogle, brick dwelling, Amber street, Twenty-fifth ward, to cost $5,500; to United Engineering Foundry Company, brick and steel machine shop, Fifty-fourth street and Allegheny Valley railroad, Eighteenth ward, to cost $42,000; to Martin Grendiski, brick dwelling, 3102 Brereton avenue, Thirteenth ward, to cost $3,000.

Extensive Additions Are to Be Made to B. & O. Trackage System

Real Estate Agent J. D. McCubbin, Jr., of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was in this city yesterday in consultation with officials here relative to the problems of acquiring land along the line of the Pittsburgh & Connellsville railroad, the chartered name of the Baltimore & Ohio east. Between Rankin and Wheeling Junction the final round of inspection has been made and all the land has been purchased which could be obtained at figures anywhere near the market values. There are still several pieces of property which the owners are holding at abnormal prices and this work of condemning them will shortly be begun.

The land is needed by the railroad in order to give room for the addition of tracks on the line. According to the detailed plans, it is proposed to build four tracks from Wheeling Junction to Sixth street, Braddock, two tracks from Sixth street to Turtle Creek, six tracks from Turtle Creek to Demmler, four from Demmler to the McKeesport passenger station, two through McKeesport, and four again from the east end of the town to Versailles. In addition to the extensive additions to the trackage, a large freight yard is to be provided for between Port Perry and Demmler. At the latter place the yard is already under construction.

Property owners in and near McKeesport are wondering not a little at the attempts which have been made the last few days to get options on a large amount of property, presumably for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company. The Baltimore & Ohio has long contemplated making a cut-off through McKeesport to relieve its traffic, and surveys were made some time ago for this purpose. The line surveyed starts from the lower part of town, near the Firth-Stirling steel works, through Tin Plate hill, by either a cut or tunnel, thence through the driving park section of the town to Long Run. The present route of the railroad follows the bend of the Youghiogheny river, making a wide detour. The proposed short line would cross Fifth avenue in Crooked run, near the city line, and would run just to the left of the new boulevard, a distance of about three miles, making a nearly straight route.

At present the Fifth avenue crossing is very dangerous, and the cause of much delay from the long freights. With the new cut-off the Baltimore & Ohio would have miles of yard room at White Oak level and the heavy freight traffic could be taken over this route without being taken through the heart of the city. The land along the survey is said to be worth from $1,500 to $2,000 an acre. All the property, about 65 acres, lying between the Baltimore & Ohio and the Youghiogheny river, and extending from the Seamless tube works to the mouth of Long run, has already been optioned, it is believed, by the Baltimore & Ohio, but nothing can be learned about the probable disposition of it.

All the property lying along the tracks at Glenwood, which was needed by the Baltimore & Ohio, has been acquired and plans are now being perfected for the extension of the yards and shops there and the building of a new roundhouse. It is also announced that the freight car repair shops at Painesville, which were totally destroyed by fire last Thursday, will be rebuilt at once. All the machinery, and even the hand tools of the workmen, will have to be replaced, and it is probable that some time will be required in having the orders for the machinery filled. With the completion of all the projected improvements, the freight facilities of the road will be greatly increased, and the local district relieved of a great amount of congestion.

A Well-Earned Promotion.

Among the many promotions of officials of the Pennsylvania railroad effective the first of this month none was better earned than that of Charles M. Sheaffer, who became superintendent of passenger transportation. He was born March 4, 1858, in this city and graduated from the commercial department of the Pittsburgh Central high school in 1877. He entered the office of Robert Pitcairn, then superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, April 1, 1877. From that time he advanced steadily through the stages of telegraph operator, yardmaster, train dispatcher and division operator. In July, 1901, he was made superintendent of telegraph. He has served the Pennsylvania for 26 years.

Companies Elected Officers.

The board of directors of the West Side Belt Railroad Company held a meeting in their offices in the Farmers Bank building yesterday afternoon and organized by electing the following officers: F. M. Osborne, president; Charles Donnelly, vice president; J. G. Patterson, secretary; Joshua Rhodes, treasurer and W. G. Rock, assistant treasurer. The board of directors of the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company also held a meeting in the Farmers Bank building yesterday afternoon andelected the following officers: Charles Donnelly, president; Joshua Rhodes, treasurer; J. G. Patterson, secretary, and W. G. Rock, assistant treasurer.

Extending Double Track.

The length of double track on the Monongahela division of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad will receive an addition by the opening today of a mile between Rostraver and "C. H." tower. Up to the present time the double tracking has been extended over more than half the length of the division. There are the eight miles between Bellevernon Junction and O'Neil, the five miles between Brownsville and North Webster and the three miles between "U. N." and "C. H." towers, which have been previously completed.

New Yard at Colona.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad is to build a new freight yard at Colona to handle the traffic of the local steel works. It is also announced that Glassport yards will be extended, so that the three will be made into those at Hazleton, which are said to be sufficient at present to meet the demands made on them.

Shops Are to Be Complete.

One of the most complete smith's shops on the Pennsylvania railroad, outside of Altoona, will be located at Twenty-eighth street, according to plans which have been prepared for an extension to the present machine shop. It will contain four one-ton cranes, and one two-ton crane, to be operated by steam power. There will be space for 10 forges and eight benders of the most improved types. Three 2,000-pound, one 1,000-pound and one 800-pound steam hammers will be installed.

Railroad Notes.

The Western Maryland railroad is erecting a new depot at Pen-Mar. It will be located a short distance below the present one.

W. H. Jones, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago Great Western, left yesterday for a business trip through Ohio.

The Pittsburgh officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have been asked to forward to New York all the machinery that they can dispense with along the various divisions of the system, to facilitate work on the new tunnel under the North river, which has been begun on the New Jersey side. There are many steam shovels and other articles of construction between this city and Altoona.

POWER'S BLUFF DIDN'T FRIGHTEN PHYSICIANS

When City Physician B. A. Booth, Dr. S. Seigman of the vaccinating corps, and Chief Quarantine Officer John Benning of the health bureau, went to a house out Second avenue to investigate a report that Capt. Jack Power and his wife had smallpox, Power met them with a big revolver and told them to clear out. Officer Benning pushed his revolver in Power's face and commanded him to surrender. Power gave up his revolver and with his wife was removed to the Municipal hospital. Power is manager of a small circus which has recently been showing at Verona and Oakmont. They were located through an Indian now in a local hospital suffering with a broken leg.
